Klamath People Making News

New Arrivals and Former Residents of Klamath Falls Breaking Monotony of Quiet Months

New arrivals, visiting in Klamath Falls, and Klamath folks who are traveling around the country are making news this week. Several visitors have arrived in our town to spend the early weeks of summer and a number of informal affairs will probably be given to break the rather quiet months during which little entertaining has been done.

Mrs. John Houston, wife of the mayor, has interesting things to tell about their trip to the east coast. One of the thrills of their journey was seeing some of the new plays in New York City. "Life With Father," and "Something for the Boys" were two of them that the Houstons especially enjoyed. While at the theatre one evening, they sat directly across the aisle from Herbert Marshall and again when they visited the Stork club they saw him.

They also had a chance to see many of their friends in Washington D. C. They had lunch in the famous Pentagon building with Captain Lawrence Slater, and visited a house directly across from the White House.

Another Klamath woman who will soon be traveling to the east coast is Mrs. Harlan Bosworth of Conger avenue. She will leave on Monday night for New York City to visit her husband, Major Bosworth, and on the way she will stop in Alameda, California, to visit her sister, Mrs. Max Pierce. Mrs. Bosworth will spend most of the month of June with her husband and will return here at the end of the month.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ramsby, former of this city, also has some interesting experiences to tell. She is now in Washington and one of the highlights of her stay there was a visit to the Russian embassy where she had tea with Madame Litvineff, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Davies.

Just arrived in this city are Mrs. William A. Hearing and small son, Frederic William. They are here with Mrs. Hearing's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Frederic Weyend and Mrs. Frederic Weyend of High street. They arrived here Thursday after having flown part way from their home in Casper, Wyoming, Mr.

MISS DURBIN GUEST IN CITY FROM INDIANA

A guest in the city this week has been Miss Mary Durbin of Gary, Indiana, who is being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. George Metz at their home on Eldorado street.

Miss Durbin is a cousin of Faye Durbin of movie fame. Both she and Mrs. Metz had planned to visit in Seattle with Lee Metz, but this trip was cancelled when young Metz was suddenly called for overseas duty.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Manning honored Miss Durbin at their home on Roseway drive. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Metz, Mrs. A. LeNeare and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Whitlock.

MEDFORD MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY SPRING RECITAL

Of interest in Klamath Falls will be the program of a delightful spring musicale given in Saint Mark's rectory in Medford last evening, May the twenty-eighth.

June Williams, soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Williams of Medford took part in the program. Many Klamath residents will remember her as she lived here a few years ago.

Other numbers on the program included Gail McDuffee, who delighted the audience with her playing of Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite," and Roger Wolf, piano student.

GAYETY CLUB ENJOYS DESSERT AT KESSLER HOME

This is the time of year when college students begin returning home for a vacation from their studies. Many will return in the fall, but others will be entering the armed forces or working in vital industries. Most of them will at least secure a job for the vacation.

Home for a few days to visit his parents is Ben Hastings from Reed College of Portland.

At Oregon State college, members of the graduating class include Fred Peterson, Margery Johnson, and Lettie Stewart. Fred Eyerly has been home this past week in the uniform of the United States army. He has been in an ROTC unit at Oregon State and will go into the army immediately. He was recently appointed to an important position on the Daily Barometer, college newspaper.

Mary Jane Drake and Marcille Reynolds are two more that will be coming home from Oregon State.

Although they will not be home until sometime in June, Merlon Albrecht, Janice Mubbin, and Rose McCartney will be home for the summer from Stanford university at Palo Alto.

Two sets of Klamath's twins will also be among those journeying from Eugene this weekend. Lucy and Laura Kimball will be with their parents this summer, and Galt and Dale Motley will also be home. The Motley girls have held the positions of drum majorettes this past year at the university.

The Sojourners club has suffered a great loss with the passing of Mrs. Elliot.
