MERRILL REBEKAH PUBLICITY WINS

MERRILL—Beth Robley, publicity chairman for the Merrill Rebekah lodge during the past year, took state honors for newspaper publicity, it was announced at the meeting Monday night. The gift, a brass tray which will be used by the lodge, was presented by Mrs. Gladys Emrich, state publicity chairman, Oswego.

Mrs. R. H. Anderson, delegate to the state convention held recently in Portland, gave an interesting report and it was reported that Mrs. Elmer Merrill, formerly of Merrill, is seriously ill in a Klamath Falls hospital. Mr. Merrill, one time postmaster here, is associated with A. H. Bussman in Murphey's Seed Store in Klamath Falls.

Four candidates, Mrs. Lella Cox, Betty and Ardona Cox and H. C. Bradbury were initiated and Mrs. Sarah Warner was received by transfer from the Klamath Falls lodge.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. H. P. Blanton, Medford; Mrs. Ray Rowan, Tulelake, member of the Winnemucca, Nevada, lodge; Mrs. Ivy Propst, Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Funk, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. Alfred Carlton, Merrill.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Faus, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fruits, Mrs. Lee Dixon and Louis Kandra.

Merrill

Mr. and Mrs. Levi McDonald had as house guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Louis Craver, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Zollman, Klamath Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete McNeil, Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kandra have with them this week Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kandra and Lawson Kandra, all returned from Oregon State where Lawson graduated in late May. Both young men are in uniform, Lawson expecting to be called soon to Fort Sill, Okla., where he will go into an officers training school. Ivan leaves next week for Camp Roberts where he will train as an army infantryman.

Miss Dorothy Day, Salem, is also a house guest and the Kandra's daughter, Mrs. Edward Boero, and two little sons, Gary and Roger, has returned home after spending two weeks here and at the home of a sister, Mrs. Lee Dixon, Tulelake. Mrs. Boero accompanied her parents north for graduation exercises at Oregon State.

Dr. Luther A. Taber has purchased the four room home owned by Joe Stukel, Merrill pioneer. Mr. Stukel is now making his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Kidwell, on the Greensprings.

Diamond lake fishermen, Randall and Donald Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kandra, Billy Falvey and Jack Liskey came home with a good catch over the weekend.

Paul Mauldin, formerly with Santford Jones' store here, who has been living for several months in the Bonanza vicinity, has accepted a position with the Standard Oil plant operated by Peyton and Company, Tulelake.

A Merrill Husky fighter plane will ride the skyways over some battle zone if the Merrill Service club has any say. The club on Tuesday pledged a shoulder to the wheel in the June Victory bond drive when visited by K. A. Moore and V. J. Josephson, Klamath Falls Kiwanians.

Merrill musical talent will go on the air over the local radio station Thursday night at 8:15. Members to be presented by the Merrill Madcaps are Ronnie Trotman, Donald Bowman and the Shuck brothers, Jimmie and Mervyn and girls of the high school glee club who will sing a "Husky" song.

Names of Merrill bond purchasers will be announced during the program.

Bullet Pierces Marshfield House

MARSHFIELD, June 10 (AP)—The firing of a .50-caliber tracer bullet into the home of Mrs. Louis Klein, who was only a few feet out of its path, was investigated today.

The bullet, apparently a stray from an airplane, went through her kitchen ceiling Tuesday. She lives 10 miles north of Coos Bay. Military authorities said they had been unable to determine that any plane had fired in that area.

BANDAGE RECRUITS NEEDED AT MERRILL

MERRILL—The Merrill surgical dressing unit last week made its full quota of 1000 dressings for the first time and the few workers who are faithful in putting in their time twice a week are badly in need of new recruits. Particularly is a call being sent out by the chairman, Mrs. Frank Carey, to the men who can assist Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:30 until 10 o'clock. Warren Fruits is the only Merrill man who so far has offered his services.

The average attendance is 10 and the work goes on both afternoon and evening of the two days.

The unit has been highly complimented by the Klamath Falls surgical dressing division for perfection of work. Dressings being made are two by two and four by four. Anyone who can spend a few hours will find table space in the rooms over the bank building.

Hager

Mr. and Mrs. McNoise and children were shoppers in Klamath Falls Saturday evening.

John and Tom Hess left the first of the week for Nevada to work for a while in the hay.

Dr. Bundrant, who recently purchased the property just east of the old C. B. Howe property here, is building hog houses and plans on raising hogs for the duration.

business callers Sunday in the Spring Lake district.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Ike Hare family from friends in this community and the Pine Grove district in the death of their daughter, Grace Custer, who was a former resident of these communities.

DRESSING MAKING STARTS AT MALIN

MALIN—Surgical dressing classes opened Tuesday in the building formally occupied by Everett Jones with Mrs. Ivan Ottoman as chairman. The building and equipment was favorably commented upon by Mrs. R. R. Macartney, chairman of the Klamath Falls surgical dressing division.

The committee which is just getting into the swing of instructing those who are learning will be ready June 22 for a full quota of workers, it is announced. Dressings will be made Tuesday afternoons from 1 until 4 o'clock and Friday evenings from 7 to 9:30. Beginning June 22 everyone who can devote an afternoon or an evening to the work is urged to help out since the calls for dressings are increasing rapidly.

Mrs. Ottoman has as her assistants, Mrs. Dick Henzel, Mrs. J. Perry Haley, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. R. S. Thompson, Mrs. Vaclav Kalina, Mrs. James Ottoman and Mrs. A. E. Street.

Fort Pulaski National Monument, Ga., had 36,020 visitors during 1940.

Man Killed by Conveyor Chain at New Pine Creek

NEW PINE CREEK—Funeral rites were held here last Saturday afternoon for Cecil Henry Aldridge, age 43, who was killed when repairing the fuel conveyor chain at the Crane Creek Lumber company's plant at Willow ranch, June 2.

Reports on how the accident occurred agree that Cecil had given his helper, Harvey Winyard, the word to turn on the steam engine which operates the conveyor chain, as he had it back on the sprockets ready to go. Just as Harvey started for the long ladder going from the platform under the chain down to the boiler room, a leaky valve had evidently caused enough steam-pressure to accumulate in the piston chamber of the engine, causing it to start the chain going prematurely.

Harvey shot a quick glance back at Cecil who was crawling through the chain on his hands and knees about eight feet or less from the end of it.

The sight so frightened Harvey that he never took time to go down the long ladder but leaped through the air down on the steel top of the Sterling boiler, a distance of 12 feet or more, then down to the ground, bent only on getting to the valve and turn it off, to save a man's life. But all this heroic quick thinking and action was of no avail for the accumulated steam pressure had spent itself and the engine had again stopped of its own accord before Harvey could reach the valve. Nevertheless the damage had been done as the chain had traveled 30 or 40 feet and a man's life was snuffed out.

Harvey, still frantic, dashed back up the ladder and found his co-worker mangled under the heavy chain and now in the conveyor trough, having passed up under the chain around the end sprockets, bleeding profusely. He managed somehow to lift the chain alone sufficiently to get the body out. Some workers estimated that he had lifted around 400 pounds. Cecil, still gasping for breath, was hurried to the Lakeview hospital but died on the way.

Although Cecil had not lived around here very much of the time in the last 15 years, he was well known throughout the valley and also in Surprise valley where, at Fort Bidwell, he had owned and operated a light plant for around 12 years. He had also worked for the Jensen Power plant up Pine Creek canyon, now owned by the California Public Service company.

Cecil was born in Summer Lake February 28, 1900, the eldest son of George Harry and Eva Aldridge. He leaves to mourn his passing his mother, his wife, Theima, three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Hansen, Mrs. Betty Vassie and Emogene Reeves, all of Herlong, Calif. Also his brother, Delbert, one sister, Lena Smith, two grandchildren, two nephews and one niece.

First umbrellas imported into the United States was brought to Baltimore, Md., in 1772.

AFL Union Revived At New Pine Creek

NEW PINE CREEK—Local 2704 of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers, affiliated with the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, has been revived here under the supervision of Donald Gillman, representative of the Klamath basin district.

The first meeting was held a week ago last Sunday and the second last Sunday afternoon at Faris hall, at which the following officers were elected. Walt Waldon of Willow Ranch, president, and Jim McGrew, vice president; Verle Cook, financial secretary; Wade Thompson, recording secretary, and James E. St. Clair, treasurer, all of New Pine Creek.

EMBEZZLER

BOISE, June 10 (AP)—Thomas J. Cooper, former assistant secretary and treasurer of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Boise, yesterday was sentenced to three years in a federal prison after pleading guilty to charges of embezzling $58,100.

First jury composed entirely of women sat at Patuxent, Md., in 1858.

What About This Stuff, Dad?

Don't get me wrong, Dad. Getting home for a spell and finding things pretty much the way I left them is the greatest sight in the world. I've been in some strange places in the last year, but as far as I'm concerned there isn't a spot in the whole South Pacific that can hold a candle to the patch of God's green earth I'm standing on right now.

There's just one thing I didn't expect to see, Dad. It's this old scrap pile. Back in New Guinea when a new ack-ack gun or field piece rolled into position I used to think, Maybe Ma's old cast iron laundry stove is in that baby. Or my old music stand—the one you tossed out when you saw I wasn't cut out to be the world's greatest violinist!

Up town they tell me the Government has sent out another S.O.S. for more scrap. They say it's going to take every stray pound of scrap metal to fill the quota, and that's going to mean looking for it in every barn, tool shed, cellar, attic and kitchen cupboard in the country. Why, there's enough in this one pile alone to make mincemeat out of a dozen Zeros and a couple of subs to boot!

I know you're swamped, Dad, with no help and working every acre of the farm this year, but if you'd been where I've been and knew how badly this scrap is needed, you'd find some way to get it to town.

Do it pronto, Dad, before harvesting comes along, or bad weather sets in. Better yet, let's load this stuff today, Dad, and I'll drive it to town for you. We can sell it to the junk man, or donate it to the U.S.O., Red Cross, or one of the other organizations enlisted in the second scrap round-up.

My furlough's nearly up, Dad. Next week I'll be shipping out again... somewhere. Wherever it is I'll feel a lot better if I know part of my own backyard is following me across, backing me up with ammunition from this old scrap.
