for the administrative of the fair labor standards act and in the federal court, and the operators also retain their rights to seek pertinent administrative and court rulings.

"The parties also remain free to agree to a settlement of their prospective lawsuit. If they should agree to a settlement, the board, as the agency of government charged with administration of the wage stabilization program, will rule whether the agreement is a genuine settlement of the lawsuit compatible with the stabilization program."

WLB Chairman William H. Davis pointed out in a press conference that the miners' claim for travel time pay "represents an unknown liability."

He said the board offered an opportunity to the parties for settlement of their dispute but "we can not force upon them the settlement of a lawsuit which we have no power to decide."

Aides of UMW President John L. Lewis said he would have no comment before tomorrow when the union's policy committee meets, presumably to consider what course of action the miners shall take after the truce deadline they set for working expires Sunday at midnight. A policy meeting scheduled for today was postponed.

Cornett Says Preparation For Peace as Necessary as Preparation for Fighting

"To be unprepared for peace when victory does come, which will probably be as sudden and unexpected as was the attack on Pearl Harbor, would be a calamity secondary only to our state of unpreparedness when that devastating blow was struck."

This was one of the principal points brought out by State Senator Marshall E. Cornett in his address given before members of Rotary club at the Friday luncheon in the Willard hotel. Cornett reviewed the work of peace planning in its present status, discussed the merits of plans which have been projected and said:

"Never before has the strategy of peace been planned when

Not Even the OPA Can Find Charlie During Honeymoon

LOS ANGELES, June 18 (AP)—Not even office of price administration (OPA) investigators have been able to locate Charlie Chaplin, honeymooning with his 18-year-old bride, Oona O'Neill, they reported to Samuel Leask, Jr., southern California OPA director.

But, said Leask last night, "If we don't locate him, we'll subpoena him."

The OPA, Leask explained, wants to know the source of gasoline used for the elopement of Chaplin and Miss O'Neill, daughter of Playwright Eugene O'Neill, to Santa Barbara county, where they were married Wednesday at Carpinteria.

The investigators, Leask stated, also wish to check reports, unverified, that the wedding party used two automobiles, and that the 35-mile speed limit was violated.

remained in the town are brave, trying to attend to their duties among the ruins," the broadcast said.

RAF night raiders shot up railway trains and barges in northern France. German planes, flying low over the rooftops at terrific speed, bombed a postoffice in London and killed two persons. Three others were killed in an English south coast town.

Build Coast Defenses

Other war news at a glance: Invasion jitters—Germans reported removing 1000 concrete tank barriers daily from Maginot line to strengthen French coastal defenses; Berlin expects allied attack on Balkans and Crete.

Russia—Red armies beat off new German attacks in Orel sector; soviet planes set 100 big fires in raids on German airbases; nazis report Russians massing before Orel and west of Kursk.

While axis radios nervously declared that British and American armies are preparing to strike across the eastern Mediterranean, allied warplanes continued to hammer Italy's anti-invasion defenses.

U. S. heavy bombers flying from the middle east attacked the airbases at Comiso and Biscari, Sicily, across the narrow Messina strait from the toe of Italy, and returned without loss.

RAF long-range fighters again scoured the Aegean sea, blasting an enemy ship off Delos island and shooting down three three-engined Italian bombers off Cyprus.

From Northwest Africa, big RAF Wellington bombers which carry 4000-pound double block-busters returned to the attack on the Italian mainland port of Naples and scored hits on the dock area.

Berlin dispatches to Ankara said the Balkans provided the likeliest target for allied invasion, and declared:

"German and Italian troops have already occupied all important positions in this new theatre of war and have strongly fortified them."

The Germans said defense preparations "particularly apply to Crete."

May Production Of Planes Hits 7200 of All Types

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—United States aircraft production in May "reached the unprecedented figure of nearly 7200 planes of all types," the war production board (WPB) announced today.

"Output will be substantially larger in June, with the production curve continuing its steady rise thereafter until it meets the maximum of available supplies of the aluminum, copper, and alloy steel required to turn out finished planes, WPB said.

TIRE STOCKS GROW STEADILY SHORTER

Thomas F. Thorn, district mileage rationing representative for the office of price administration, today warned applicants for new tires, that tire stocks are becoming increasingly shorter.

All local board quotas have been seriously reduced for the month of June with the prospect of a further reduction in the immediate future. Approximately twice as many tire applications are being received by the boards as they are able to fill on their quotas, Thorn said.

Many car and truck owners apparently are of the opinion that when a tire inspector recommends them for a new tire it is up to the board to issue a certificate. Such is not the case. All the inspector can do is to certify the need for a new tire, thereby authorizing an application to the board.

The board ordinarily does not question the need for a new tire, Thorn said, but it is up to them to select, on the basis of the national emergency, the few certificates that their fixed quotas will allow.

The situation is becoming so serious that the board can no longer consider the interest of the individual applicant but base each certificate granted on the applicant's importance in the national emergency.

FINANCIAL VOLLEY FIRED AT ENEMY

World war, the committee said it was "determined that the armed forces shall have every dollar essential for the early attainment of an unconditional surrender by all of the axis powers."

It shaved only $387,986,827 from budget estimates, and left untouched the $285,481,000 estimate for the air corps.

"The cost is frightful," the committee observed. "Global warfare and modern implementation is the answer . . . Guns, tanks, airplanes, ammunition, chemicals and war munitions of every kind and description are provided for in accordance with the department's recommendations."

With the bill, the committee made public a letter from General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, asserting the funds provided were "necessary in order to carry on aggressive warfare around the globe" and to "hasten the destruction of the enemy."

None of the high army officials who testified during the committee's hearings hazarded a guess as to how long it would take to deliver the knockout blow to the axis, but all were agreed no stone would be left unturned to expedite the day of reckoning.

"We are planning now without any definite termination date in mind," said Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, commander of the army service forces, "and we are planning on putting the maximum we can into the work, within the limits of your appropriation. In other words, we are planning to go all out, which is the best we could do if you want to be ready for three years or four years more."

Throughout the 589-page record of the hearings there were notations of confidential testimony stricken out.

The funds provided—$59,037,599,673 in new appropriations and $12,472,839,200 of previous funds continued available—will, General Manarney told the committee, do this:

Big Air Force

Provide a fighting air force of 273 groups and 3,000,000 ground troops, 36,000 bombers, 38,000 fighters, 12,000 transport planes and 9000 training planes, with spare engines and parts to keep them in action;

Furnish combat divisions with enough ammunition, tanks, small arms, cannons, combat vehicles and other equipment "to enable us to come to grips with and destroy the enemy;"

Permit the maintenance of more than 900 airfields, 4500 army posts, and 700,000 hospital beds, and provide for internment camps for 325,000 war prisoners.

Japan and a separate east Asia command will be set up for this purpose. A further announcement is to be made soon.

Official records compiled by Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon's headquarters disclosed that the 12 pilots in the group in the 29 days from December 23 through January 20, destroyed eight enemy planes in the air, 15 on the ground, and sank two cargo ships at Wickham anchorage off New Georgia island.

GOP SCORES VICTORY IN SUBSIDY ROW

To subsidy opponents, already entrenched in positions ranging from a flat prohibition to limited payments, the latest offering provided a middle ground by forbidding expansion of the present subsidy program without congressional sanction.

The measure was introduced in the house by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) to amend a bill extending the life of the commodity credit corporation (CCC) so that the agency's funds could not be used for subsidies. It was supported, he said, by many congressmen.

Meantime, Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) reported that he is considering submission of an identical provision to the senate CCC bill.

This measure presently contains a direct prohibition against subsidy payments to offset price reductions on food products but the senate banking committee which approved it, said a more liberal substitute for the anti-subsidy clause will be offered on the floor.

Organized labor, however, has urged extension of the price-roll back program on butter, meats, coffee and fresh vegetables to most other commodities and enlargement of a $450,000,000 subsidy to $2,000,000,000 to finance price cuts to April, 1949 levels. The alternative, labor representatives insisted, must be a relaxation of wage controls to meet higher living expenses.

Fritz Kuhn Wins Prison Parole

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Fritz Kuhn, former national leader of the German-American band, was paroled from Clinton prison, Dannemora, N. Y., today by the state parole board for interment by the federal government for the duration of the war.

Kuhn, 47 years old, was convicted in 1939 for grand larceny of bank funds and forgery and sentenced to two and one-half to five years in prison. He had appeared before the parole board twice previously and both times he was denied his freedom.
