News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON... WASHINGTON, June 22—Wendell Willkie, who publicly feared at Oberlin two weeks ago that he "may be nominated in spite of myself," is apparently planning to leave little to chance.

Here lately, he let congressional friends know he intends to tour and speak in most states, north of the Mason-Dixon line in the next five months. This put his active candidacy for the 1944 presidential nomination in a semi-official status, lacking only a formal announcement.

ground, probably because there was no one else. A prominent liberal Washington correspondent of a pinkish-dazed New York newspaper wrote a series of stories on the DeGaulle situation from a truthful standpoint after his newspaper had sent him to Africa.

The War Today

(While DeWitt Mackenzie is on vacation, this daily column is being written by Max Hill, former chief of the Associated Press bureau in Tokyo).

OUR problems at home—accented recently by work stoppages and riots—are the best propaganda the axis has to use against us. They are doing their battles with our troops. Neither the Germans nor the Japanese have victories with which to bolster home morale.

But through our troubles at home their propagandists are able to encourage the rank and file to ever more desperate efforts. It is unfortunate that we continue to feed them ready-made criticism because in the long run the cost is going to be in American lives and materials.

Japan's greatest strength is at home. Her people have been taught that they must cooperate willingly—that the life of the individual is as nothing compared with the state and emperor. Not many months before the war, preparations were being made in Tokyo for air raid shelters.

The war in Russia would seem to be now in a sort of stalemate; but two long and difficult years have passed since Hitler announced his determination to crush the Russians, perhaps in six weeks. If Russia had not had her magnificent and undisclosed strength, the world most likely would now be at the mercy of Hitler, Tojo and Mussolini.

French Politics

NO American mind can understand French politicians. They can not even understand each other. After years of dealing with General DeGaulle, the allied political leaders find it hard to describe who and what he is in the current situation.

Newly circulated stories try to explain his political movement as communistic. It is true the communists are strongly behind his program. The leader of the red underground in France, who escaped to London, has been welcomed into the Fighting French committee there.

Also, the agreement which Moscow made with DeGaulle's group, backs him much further than either the British or we have gone. In a joint communique dated September 28, 1942, Moscow recognized the DeGaulle group as representing "the whole of the citizens and territories of France who do not accept capitulation."

The British agreement merely recognized him as representing "the Free French," and promised to treat with him. But already the communists are having trouble with him, their Tunisian deputies having denounced him as well as Gen. Giraud.

Far more important (to understand the curious news from the French political front), DeGaulle is a political individualist, who seems entirely favorable only to DeGaulle. One eminent authority here characterizes him as "the French Joan D'Arc," but no doubt he would prefer to be called Napoleon.

Truth Lacking

AS these symptoms have become clear in recent developments, DeGaulle's popularity here has declined even among the liberals who espoused his cause despite his monarchist back-

With the Men on Guard

In January of 1942 the Oregon State Guard was formed through an edict of the governor. It was not until January of 1943 that the edict became a state law. The Oregon State Guard was to take the place of the National Guard until the end of the war.

Major Van Fleet, who saw service in the last war, was among the first in this area to force the need of a home defense unit, so he organized the Klamath Guard which was later merged into the State Guard as Company C 19th Bn.

Through the efforts of Major Van Fleet, Company C has prospered and units have been formed in Lakeview and Merrill, so he has justly earned his gold leaves and post of battalion commander with headquarters at the Klamath Falls armory. The company at Chiloquin is also under his command.

Hildebrand

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Hartzler returned to their home at Hildebrand on Saturday from Eugene, where they spent the past week attending the state grange. Chloe Bradley visited on Wednesday with Clara Ritter.

Mrs. Annie Logue, accompanied by Riley, the small son of J. R. McBride, left on Wednesday morning for Des Moines, Ia., to visit her father, Mr. Gilmore, and other relatives and friends. Mrs. T. P. Michael visited on Thursday with Mrs. Leonard Ritter.

Mrs. S. K. Hartzler and daughter Bessie, visited on Sunday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Broadsword of Bonanza. Marvin Michael delivered grain to the Martin Brothers' mill in Klamath Falls the first part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron M. Welch and children, Clarence, Loy, Edmon and Elton, of Sprague River, visited on Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Michael and brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Michael. Mrs. Charles Flackus returned to her home on Friday from Ashland, where she accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Louise Kilgore, who is receiving medical attention while in Ashland.

Safe, Painless Childbirth Post-War Medical Goal

Dr. Masters' Health Column—

By DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS... The birth rate is reaching new peaks, and it is natural that much publicity should be given to the new technique of painless childbirth. The method, which has for some time undergone intensive study in a number of places, has been found to be safe in all instances and successful in most.

The problem of accomplishing painless childbirth may now be said to be fairly well solved, but the numerous difficult problems, involved in making it available, generally remain. Painless childbirth is in the same stage as post-war aviation or pre-fabricated housing. MOTHER IS CONSCIOUS

The advantage of this new method of analgesia, in addition to the obliteration of pain, is that the mother is conscious and capable of co-operating—a factor which frequently shortens the duration of labor. The child is in no way affected by the procedure, a factor which is a distinct advantage in other types of analgesia.

Langell Valley

Irwin House of Medford spent several days last week with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott House. Jerry McCarrie is receiving medical treatment at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. Mrs. Rhoades and granddaughter, Jeanette Lowe, of Portland are visiting her son, Joe Rhoades.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Stanley Anderson of Merrill, a former Langell Valley resident. Her father, John Taylor, of Merrill, passed away suddenly on June 15 and her sister died June 6 at Scotia City, after a short illness. Mr. Taylor had been ill with heart trouble for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Johnson spent Thursday and Friday at Lakeview with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Webster and sons. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Novotny spent Thursday evening with the Elliott House family. Bill Burnett and Frank Henry were dinner guests on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dearborn.

DE LUXE SERVICE CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Driver J. H. Galloway stopped his bus in front of the Kit Kat soda shop. He mopped his brow and went in. He brought back 15 cones of ice cream—one for himself and one for each of his 14 passengers.

ISLAND CHRISTIANITY

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., (To the Editor)—"Me friendly! Me Christian!" These words greeted one of our men whose plane had been shot down in the southern Solomons and who had ventured to the shore of one of the islands, and when he saw two men standing on the shore and waving large knives, felt that his time had come, but there was nothing to do but put his rubber boat to shore where he was reassured and treated kindly by the natives.

This is not an unusual occurrence but our men are often cared for down there by these kindly people. A hundred years ago, a shipwrecked sailor would have been regarded as so much beef, but what a change has taken place, and we may well wonder what the secret is. Well, many years ago, churches who believed Jesus' words, "Go Ye into all the world and preach the gospel!" reasoned that those poor people occupied a part of the world where the gospel must be preached and they sacrificed home comforts and settled among those wild cannibals.

Now we come to the boys who are doing the fighting for us stay-at-homers. Do you want those who return to have their rightful share of the hunting or do you want to proceed with a disgraceful slaughter of does whose meat is not fit to eat, as every sportsman knows? Let's put Frank Wire on the spot where he belongs. If he did not foster such a dog program as is now before us there would be no worry for the right-minded sportsman. GEORGE A. STEPHENSON.

Eight Killed in Heavy Bomber Crash

MOSES LAKE, Wash., June 22 (AP)—A crew of eight men were killed yesterday in the crash of a heavy bomber plane from the Moses Lake army air base. Lt. Col. Clarence D. Barnhill, commanding officer at the base, said the crash occurred 15 miles south of here while the plane was on a routine training flight. He said a board of officers had been appointed to investigate. Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

YEP? IT WAS A HORSE

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Oscar Bjorgum's three-climbing horse is back to earth again. It took the fire department, a block and tackle, and three hours' work to do it. Bjorgum said the animal was frightened, tried to jump through a high fork in a cottonwood tree and got stuck. Nope aboard.

Klamath's Yesterdays From the files—40 years ago and 10 years ago. From The Klamath Republican June 18, 1903

Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer and daughter Daisy, who have been visiting J. F. Goeller and family, left Sunday for their home in Kansas.

Houston Brothers have just completed arrangements with Weinand Brewery of Portland to receive keg beer in car load lots at Pokenema. This will land that celebrated beer here in better shape than ever, and will certainly be appreciated by the lovers of good lager beer at this place.

Mrs. L. F. Willis, E. R. Reames and F. D. Jennings left for Portland as delegates from Klamath Falls to attend the grand chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Alex Martin Sr., arrived Monday from Oakland accompanied by his granddaughter, Max Aiken, who will visit with Alex Martin Jr., and family.

Rev. J. Henry Thomas Berkeley spoke to the Rotary club at Merrill.

Three units of the civilians' conservation corps, mobilized at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., are scheduled to arrive here this week. The units will go to Bly and Lake o' the Woods.

Reservations for the bridge tournament may be made with Mrs. Vernon Norvall or Mrs. B. A. Purcell.

WORD ELIMINATOR SANTEE, Calif. (AP)—Unnecessary telephone calls no longer are made from Camp Gillespie, a marine paratroop training center. The reason is Tiger, an English bulldog mascot which has chosen the telephone booth in the guardhouse as his home. Anyone who wants to use the phone must first remove the dog. Unless the call is vital, no one bothers Tiger.
