Pass the Pins

Theodora "Bubbles" Dryer, a die polisher at the Ohio Tool Company in Cleveland, is the war plant's pin-up girl for June. Her picture will be sent to all of the firm's men in the armed forces and a new queen will be chosen monthly.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

IN THE SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Denny of 549 Old Fort road, have two sons in the service. They are Corporal Alpheus T. Denny, 23, now in the South Pacific, and Staff Sergeant Harvey T. Denny, now in North Africa. Alpheus, saluting in the accompanying picture, has been in the armed forces in Honolulu for 16 months, but has written his parents that he is now in the South Pacific theatre of war. He went with the first group of enlisted men from Klamath Falls. For four years he was stationed with one of the CCC camps.

Harvey is a former Kesterson Lumber company employee and is now with the army's hard-riding anti-tank division in North Africa.

KEARNS, Utah—Pre-aviation Cadet Mervin Bernhart Miller of 1965 Huron street, Klamath Falls, is now stationed at this army air force basic training center.

Private Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick B. Miller of Klamath Falls. Prior to his enlistment for aviation cadet training, Private Miller was a student at the University of Oregon.

FARRAGUT, Idaho—Ready to begin an intensive training program toward becoming members of the fighting fleet, are several Klamath Falls men who reported to this naval training station this week.

These Klamath Falls recruits are James Francis Schnabel, husband of Mrs. V. Schnabel, 2011 Eberlein; Walter Francis Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Craig, 1305 California avenue; Donald Sinclair Partin, husband of Mrs. S. M. Partin, 1800 Esplanade avenue.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25—An elderly, ragged and emaciated man, who was picked up semi-conscious in San Francisco's Skid Row last May 12, has left several thousand dollars for the establishment of the "Albert Barton Solomon Memorial Loan Fund" at Linfield college in McMinnville, Ore., executors of his will disclosed today.

Solomon, 89, died yesterday. The hospital reported he had been ill from malnutrition and had incurred a concussion apparently in a fall.

C. W. Meadows, assistant trust officer of the Anglo California bank which Solomon named executor in a will dated May 15, 1930, said friends of the man here did not know that he ever had any connection with Linfield, but assumed that as an avid reader he had read about the college.

Meadows said savings of approximately $8,000 and postal savings of more than $2,000 already had been uncovered in San Francisco, and that the amount might reach considerably more when Solomon's effects are completely checked out.

About $3,000 was bequeathed friends here, the residue to Linfield's board of trustees with the proviso it was to go "toward helping needy and deserving students in attendance at such college" either through outright scholarships or loans.

Meadows said Solomon was born in Clarksville, Tenn., and that he will provided that his body was to be buried there after services by a Baptist minister. The will provided that no money was to go to relatives. None was named and are not known here.

Solomon retired a decade ago

FRIENDS PAY TRIBUTE TO JIM HAMMOND

MERRILL—Friends of the late James ("Jim") Hammond, who for 55 years made his home in or near Merrill, paid a last tribute at funeral services held Monday in the Merrill Presbyterian church.

Mr. Hammond passed away in a Klamath Falls hospital following a stroke. His life here dated back to the early days of the Klamath basin, which he saw develop from the still under water. He was among those early pioneers who hunted ducks for the market, shooting the water fowl for sale in San Francisco. Wagons drawn by six horses hauled the birds south to the bay area by way of Montague. He assisted also with sheep in the early days and was skilled as a trapper.

He came to Merrill from Harrisonville, Mo., with Clay Ratliff, uncle of Jack Ratliff, Malin, and Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, Tulelake. He worked first as a timber culturist in the Lone Pine district.

For the last few years he has spent much of his time visiting with the "old timers" and the children of Merrill. Fond of the small folks, he found many opportunities to slip a nickel for an ice cream cone into some child's hand. He will be missed by young and old.

He was born in August, 1864, and had no known living relatives.

Rev. Hugh Bronson, pastor of the Tulelake Presbyterian church, spoke of Mr. Hammond's love for his fellowmen. Mrs. Kathryn Wilson, Merrill, was the soloist for the service, singing "In a Monastery Garden" and "Face to Face" with Mrs. Mamie Giacomini at the piano.

Pallbearers were Charles Cox, James O'Keefe, Elmer Stukel, Ben Faus, W. C. Bailey and J. C. Stevenson.

Buryal was in the old Merrill cemetery among the early pioneers of the basin.

OPA Blamed for Hoft in Marketing Of Oregon Lambs

PORTLAND, June 25 (AP)—OPA regulations were blamed today by Secretary R. L. Clark of the Portland livestock exchange for preventing the marketing of hundreds of thousands of Oregon lambs.

Clark said present quotas and market grading set up by the government will not permit the slaughter of some 400,000 lambs which will be ready for market within 120 days. They must be marketed at their peak, he said, or growers will receive from $3 to $6 a head instead of $12.

California lambs, usually marketed by this time of year, are accumulating and coming on the market in competition with Oregon lambs. Clark said he was informed.

EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED IN WELFARE WORK

Careers in the administration of public welfare services are emphasized in the announcement of examinations for the position of county administrator with the Oregon state public welfare commission. The examinations will be given on Wednesday, July 21, according to Mrs. Altha Urkuhart, administrator of the Klamath county public welfare commission.

Qualifications required are a minimum of two years of college and three years of successful full-time paid responsible business or professional employment, of which one year within the past ten years shall have been in the field of social case work on the staff of a public social agency.

"The Oregon state public welfare commission is desirous of attracting to its staff responsible persons, capable of assuming leadership in the administration of the important services for which it has responsibility," said Mrs. Urkuhart. "Those who qualify will have the satisfaction of doing important work at an attractive salary with continuous employment."

Application forms may be secured at the offices of the local county public welfare commission or by addressing Merit System Supervisor, 620 Mead Building, Portland. Completed forms must be filed by July 14.

FEDERATION WANTS MEAT QUOTAS MOVED

EUGENE, June 25 (AP)—The Oregon State Federation of Labor wants the quota system of meat distribution discontinued and the "little steel" wage formula relaxed.

A resolution against the meat quota plan was adopted at the closing session of the annual convention yesterday after J. D. McDonald, Portland Meatecutters' union secretary - treasurer, charged that quotas result in a "squeeze by the big packers and put the little packers and retailers out of business."

The resolution accused larger packing firms of creating a false meat shortage by refusing to fill their quotas. McDonald said most employees of the OPA meat division formerly worked for big packers.

The "little steel" formula limiting wage increases to 15 percent should either be abolished, another resolution read, or lifted to provide increases in keeping with increased living costs. The war labor board was condemned for delays in deciding cases.

Other resolutions asked the regional war labor board to set up a fair minimum wage, objected to the Oregon liquor control commission's "policy of paying low salaries," and pledged the federation's cooperation in post-war planning.
