

BOMBERS RAIN EXPLOSIVES ON SOUTH SICILY

285,000 pounds of high explosive and fragmentation bombs on Gerbini. One enemy fighter was reported destroyed and two damaged while every Liberator returned safely.

Flying Fortresses from this base struck shortly after dawn and reported hits on an ammunition dump, administration buildings, hangars and five landing strips. Five planes of the north-west African force were reported missing from the day's operations, against two enemy aircraft destroyed.

Fires Started
During Monday night RAF Wellingtons hammered at Gerbini, starting five fires, while Biscari and Milo airfields were assaulted by other bombers. The same night heavy British bombers of the Middle East command pounded railway installations at Catania, eastern Sicilian port.

Axis fighter opposition which reached a crescendo Monday, when more than 100 war planes attacked a single formation of 27 Flying Fortresses, dwindled yesterday to almost nothing, returning pilots reported. The fourth day of the concentrated attack on Sicily's airfields from here saw the score stand at 110 axis craft destroyed against an allied loss of 19.

Future of Country Hangs On Ability to Buy Bonds

By ROSE POOLE
Scripps Club President
There are four GOOD reasons for buying bonds—reasons that involve our future as well as today.
First—Your country, if it is to win this war, must raise the money necessary to purchase supplies. This can be done either through taxes or, preferably, through voluntary investment in government bonds. The more you invest, the less will have to be raised through taxes.
Second—If we spend our excess income for the comparative-trench that was just a little longer than I was and about two seconds later another guy landed on top of me. I said to him: 'Say, bud, you'd better hunt yourself another hole. You are sticking up about four inches and you're likely to get hurt.'

"He was panting and I could feel his heart pounding against my back. He says: 'Oh no, please let me stay here.' I says to him: 'It's OK by me bud, if that's what you want.' Boy, did he feel swell there ON TOP of me!
"The Jap bombs dropped all around us, but nobody got hurt."

ANOTHER one, from a wounded man:
"I got mine from a shell from a Jap mortar that hit me full of splinters and filled me hard above the eye. They carried me back to the field hospital and started picking the shell splinters out of me. They weren't using an anaesthetic, and I was cussing them. I didn't mean to do it. It was kind of like I was another guy standing off to one side. He'd keep cussing the doctors and I'd seem to try to shut him off.
"They told me: 'We've got to operate on your eye tomorrow and we can't keep you all filled up with hop.' So they went on picking out the splinters and I went on hollering, trying my damndest not to but all the time it was the guy standing off to one side that was doing the hollering and I was trying to shut him up.
"Really, those doctors down there are wonderful—as gentle as your own mother and working till they dropped to keep us taken care of."

tion. The union contract provides one week vacation.
Tutt said the mill would operate on a two-shift basis, utilizing all available man and woman power, paying women the same wages as men for identical work.
Where labor shortages exist both the union (a CIO local) and management agreed on overtime for men required to work double shifts to keep the plant producing.
The mill went down last week. Unionists claimed the management was not paying women wages equal to those paid men for similar work, as the contract provided. The mill then announced reduction to one 10-hour shift which met with labor opposition because it forced demotion of many workers in skilled categories.

SENATE BATTLES SUBSIDY PROGRAM

late yesterday, over the loud lamentations of administration lieutenants, for subsidy restrictions similar to those which drew a vigorous veto from President Roosevelt only last Friday.

The bill as it went to conference would continue CCC until January 1, 1944 and increase its lending authority from $2,650,000,000 to $3,000,000,000, but that was virtually a side issue.

Provision Gone
Gone were administration-sanctioned provisions which would have authorized a six-months rollback expenditure up to $225,000,000 and clamped ceilings on existing subsidy payments to stimulate production of essential crops, import essential commodities, increase output of war minerals and compensate for war transportation losses.

The bill now would invalidate the present subsidy-rollback on retail prices of meats and butter. Lawmakers disagreed generally on what final form it would take after the house-senate conference committee finished with it. But most agreed on one thing: That if it retains the anti-subsidy provisions the president will veto it again.

said he would be returned to Hillsboro until Polk county authorities can make formal application for his release for trial. No formal charge has been filed yet.

After the girl's body was recovered, investigators located her blood-stained clothing on the river bank nearby. An autopsy by Dr. Joseph Beeman of the state police crime laboratory showed that she had been raped but that she apparently was not dead when tossed into the river. Death, he said, was caused by drowning.

RAF Bombers Lay Mines in Enemy Waters
LONDON, July 7 (AP)—RAF bombers conducted extensive minelaying operations in enemy waters last night while speedy Mosquitos manned by Canadian crews attacked railway targets in France, the air ministry announced today.

One bomber was lost in these forays, the announcement said. Two enemy fighter planes flew over the East Anglia district early last evening, the ministry said, and at one point a few persons were wounded by machine-gun fire. There was no enemy activity over Britain after dark, however.

In the early evening, a communique said, Typhoon bombers escorted by fighters attacked enemy shipping at Boulogne. Spitfires destroyed eight enemy fighters over northern France yesterday without loss, it was reported.
