AIR CADET EXAMINERS START TOUR

Colonel J. J. Fulmer, commanding officer of the Oregon recruiting district announced that an aviation cadet examining board would start Tuesday on an extended tour through western and southern Oregon to invite young men to take examinations for aviation cadet training in the army air corps.

In charge of the traveling board will be Major Eric K. Shilling, who recently returned from Africa, where he was an army air force operations officer. Major Shilling recently was assigned to the Oregon district for a three months tour of duty to assist in meeting the increased quotas set up by the war department for air corps fliers.

Response to the program already has been good, said Major Shilling but many more applicants are needed. Aviation cadet training is open, not only to youths of 17, but to those of 18 to 26 who are being inducted into the service. The examining board will be in Klamath Falls on or about the 10th and 11th of August. All young men between the ages of 17 and 26 inclusive who are interested in this type of training are urged to contact Sergenat Frank J. Huhin, commander of the local army recruiting office in room 219 Post Office building, where complete information and literature may be obtained without obligation.

Applicants may be married or single, no formal education is required but each candidate must pass the mental and physical tests prescribed by the air service. Men who are registered under the selective service act are also eligible but must not have received their call for induction. Applicants are urged to apply as soon as possible in order that their names may be included in the list of candidates to be examined.

Girl Slain by Ex-Police Chief

Ex-Police Chief Richard Harry Layton, 36, left, confessed to the passion slaying of 17-year-old Ruth Hilderbrand of Portland, Oregon. He admitted criminally attacking the girl and knocking her into the river where her nude body was found. Layton is shown with state police Sergt. Emahiser, right, who is holding the unused stage ticket, which led to the identity of the body and subsequent indentification of the murderer.

R. V. "Bob" Houston, who is now in the marine corps somewhere in the South Pacific, recently wrote a letter to the Herald and News, in which he said that his copies of the paper are read over and over again.

"After thoroughly reading the paper myself, it passes through the hands of about five other fellows from Oregon. And I believe they enjoy it nearly as much as I do, not to mention the close scrutinizing it undergoes by fellows from nearly every state in search of baseball standings and the outcome of other sports events," writes Bob.

Bob would enjoy corresponding with any old or new friends.

A letter from PFC Lawrence Andrus was received last week by his aunt, Mrs. Axel Olson, of 2440 Reclamation street, telling her that he is at McClusky general hospital at Temple, Tex., after a year of action in the South Pacific. In his letter Andrus said: "Some people are glad when they see the Statue of Liberty, but I felt mighty proud and good when I went under that Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco." Andrus also wrote that he had traveled 31,000 miles since his enlistment and 3000 miles of that in an army bomber. He thinks he must have seen nearly every island in the Pacific and says that none of them look the way they look in the movies or in pictures. Andrus is hoping that when he recovers from the malaria and nervous disorder from which he is now suffering, he will be able to get a furlough and come to visit in Klamath Falls, Prineville and Portland. His mother and sister live in Portland. A brother, Roland Andrus, lives on Altamont drive here.

Corp. Lawrence K. Young is with the U. S. army on some foreign battlefront, and Corp. Virgil K. Young is in training at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

The Young family has been prominent citizens of Lake county for many years, the father being employed as an engineer in one of the local mills.

Warm weather thirst quenchers

When that old, red mercury starts climbing toward the top of the thermometer, be ready with thirst quenchers that will buoy up your spirits! Simple to plan, simpler to make. Casual coolers . . . special occasion beverages . . . nourishing milk drinks that serve as part of a meal—any one of them will prove to be a welcome pickup when energy seems to be at low ebb. Don't let Mr. Mercury catch you unprepared!

SUGAR SYRUPS—One of the first requisites of cool beverages is the sweetening that can be added instantly. It stretches the sugar supply, too, because it blends with the drink completely. Have some on hand. Combine 1 cup sugar with 2 cups water, stir until dissolved, then boil rapidly for 10 minutes. Cool and store covered in the refrigerator until needed.

FRUIT ADES—Oranges, lemons and grapefruit are tops among thirst quencher ingredients. But don't forget other fresh fruit, too. Press the juice from ripe plums, peaches, apricots, nectarines or berries by forcing the fruits through a food press or coarse sieve. Mix the juice with water . . . or for that added sparkle, mix it with plain carbonated water. Add sugar syrup to taste, and serve frosty cold.

MILK SHAKES—HOME STYLE—When a light snack is in order, serve it in the form of a nourishing milk drink. Mix chilled milk with sugar syrup and flavoring, or with molasses, honey or corn syrup. A dash of plain carbonated water will give it that "ice cream soda fizz," and a bit of nutmeg dashed on top will add just enough spice.

FRUIT SYRUPS—Don't forget to save all the syrups from canned fruits. They are grand mixed with lemon or orangeade or for that fruity flavor in milk drinks.

TOMATO LEMON PUNCH—Fresh tomato juice, pressed from ripe tomatoes and enlivened with a bit of lemon juice makes one of the most ideal thirst quenchers for the hottest days. Add just a bit of sugar syrup, a dash of clove and stretch with carbonated water. Serve cold as ice. It's something to rave about.
