FASCIST EDITOR ATTACKS LEADERS

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
BERN, Switzerland, July 16 (AP)—Fascist Editor Roberto R. Farinacci, making the first open attack on Italian military leadership since the start of the war, demanded a change in generals and a shakeup in the fascist party hierarchy last night, dispatches from Rome disclosed.
Writing in the newspaper Regime Fascista, the former party secretary demanded that Italy's best forces be rushed to Sicily along with the most able, prepared and resolute leaders. "It is impossible that the Italian army has only one Messe," (General Giovanni Messe) he wrote. "It is absurd and extremely dangerous to measure the choice of men and decisions with the military annual as a yardstick."

Auxiliary gasoline tanks designed to increase the range of American bombers are carried on the outside of the planes and can be dropped when empty or upon entering combat.

Batteries with plates of pure lead have practically no loss of charge on standing—about 15 per cent a year.

Boy From Greece

The hardships and sufferings of war are reflected in the face of this Greek refugee boy at camp in Egypt. Homeless Greeks are cared for near Suez Canal, then sent to new homes in Belgian Congo.
