ANTI-LIQUOR ADDRESS SET FOR SATURDAY

Claude A. Watson of California is to speak in Klamath Falls on the topic, "The Fifth Column in America." Mr. Watson's address will be delivered at a meeting to be held at the Free Methodist church at 1005 High street on Saturday, July 17 at 8 p. m.

Watson is well-qualified to deal with this topic as he has been prominent in all efforts to solve the liquor problems. He is well-informed and as a public speaker and attorney has spoken in most of the states in the union.

His appearance in this city is a part of the plan to inform the public concerning the influence of liquor on army morale, conditions in war industries, and the effort to protect both soldiers and civilians from exploitation by the gambling, liquor and vice interest.

Local dry leaders point out that a spontaneous demand for war time prohibition has arisen as shown by resolutions passed by almost every national religious body which has met in the past fifteen months.

'BRING BUDDY' MEET TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Last Sunday was "Induction Sunday" in the second of a series of every-Sunday rallies covering the months of July and August at the Church of the Nazarene at 620 Martin street. Under the general title of "Unconditional Surrender" for the series, each of which begins at 9:45 a. m., an attendance increase of over fifty per cent is already noted. This coming Sunday attention is to be given to acquaintances and friends of members in the "Bring a Buddy" emphasis.

Each Sunday has its setting in a military theme to challenge attendance, and competition between the army and navy is proving interesting. A soldier plays reveille each Sunday, after which the "I am Late" sign appears and taps are sounded for late-comers.

Each visitor present receives a copy of the New Testament and is enrolled in the ranks on the side of the person inviting them, either as a soldier or sailor under the respective leadership of "Lieutenant" Lafa Black or "Admiral" Ed Peterman.
