BOMBS PLASTER NAZI INDUSTRY IN AMSTERDAM

ern and central Switzerland would indicate it was a powerful one.

The offensive against the continent was kept up in daylight raids today by fleets of American-type twin-engine bombers which started shuttling across the channel with the rising sun.

Dusk Raid
Abbeville, important French railway center, was the target for American medium bombers which struck at dusk yesterday to leave great fires burning in that control point for all rail traffic to the north.

The raid was made at the cost of one bomber and protected by a thick blanket of allied fighters.

Flying Fortresses had bombed Abbeville in three previous assaults.

FIRE COMBATTED BY SHASTA RESIDENTS

Residents of a suburban area believe in the "Keep Oregon Green" policy, according to Vernon Moore, chairman of that project in Klamath county.

It seems that a fire started in a field on Madison street just off Shasta way about 7:30 o'clock Friday night, raced through a green wheat field and through adjoining acreage. Five neighbors ran to the scene to beat down the flames and were joined in a few moments by six others, armed with shovels. The men fell to, made a fire break and prevented the flames from burning into other fields.

The wind was blowing from the west and fortunately the fire did not jump the narrow Madison street roadway, Moore was told. Before the Klamath county fire fighting equipment arrived, the neighbors had the situation well in hand. Moore expressed appreciation to the men who saved acres of green wheat, homes and gardens in that section by their cooperative action. Between seven and eight acres of wheat were blackened.

"People do these things when they really believe in 'Keep Oregon Green,'" Moore commented.

MAN SENTENCED ON MORALS CHARGE

William Franklin Behymer Tippet, 23, was given five years in the Oregon State penitentiary Saturday morning in circuit court, after pleading guilty to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The act involved a seven-year old local girl.

Under questioning by Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg, it was brought out that the defendant had previously served 14 months and 14 days in the penitentiary at Chillicothe, O., for violation of the Dyer act.

Tippet said he had been released from the United States navy in January, 1942, as he was subject to epileptic attacks.

Before passing sentence, Judge Vandenberg said that his only regret was that he could give Tippet only five years under the law.

Previously this week, the defendant had waived preliminary hearing and grand jury and asked to appear directly before the sentencing magistrate.

SOVIETS PUSH NEARER OREL IN NEW DRIVE

fensive of the German fascist troops—that is, before July 5 of this year."

In the Belgorod area, at the southern end of the active front, 165 miles below Orel, the war bulletin noted scouting engagements.

It said that yesterday in the Orel and in the Orel-Kursk sectors, 168 German tanks were disabled or destroyed. One hundred and six enemy planes were shot down in air combats and by anti-aircraft fire, it added.

MOSCOW, July 17 (AP)—The German high command has thrown two new divisions, one armored and one infantry, against the Russian spearhead now threatening Orel, front dispatches said today, but the red army was reported repulsing all Nazi thrusts and continuing to advance.

One wing of the red army's smashing counter attack was reported to have rolled to within 25 miles of the heavily fortified Nazi base as the Germans frantically rallied all available manpower and equipment in a desperate effort to stave off a major breakthrough.

Within Range
Soviet columns stabbing in from the north and east are within heavy artillery range of Orel, dispatches said, but it was not disclosed whether barges had actually begun yet. They also could pound the Orel-Bryansk railroad.

(The German communique reported that "fierce fighting of defense continued in the Orel area" yesterday, and that soviet attacks were repulsed in the "hard, fluctuating struggle" with 251 Russian tanks destroyed.)

Mobilized Infantry
The dispatches said the Russians were sending motorized infantry with tanks and mobile cannon to comb the forest clearings for Nazi troops.

One of the most stubborn battles took place around a village on the west bank of an unidentified river not far from the Russian wedge in the German line, it was reported. The Russians said they captured the village.

IWA Demand: Certified to Committee

midnight and 6 p. m., is the demand. The additional wage is to be paid for the entire shift, not just the portions of the shift falling between the specified hours.

Equal pay for women in all job classifications was included in the demands. Common labor by women in box factories is now paid two cents less per hour than the same work done by men.

Another of the 14 points asks for each employee to accumulate one day sick leave pay for each 280 hours worked. This is to start from April 1, 1943, and to accumulate a maximum of 15 days per year.

These demands affect approximately 15,000 employees in the Klamath Basin district. The same demands have been presented to all operators where the IWA is certified in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and California, Sullivan said.

Improving—Joan Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cox, 2138 Ward Lane, is reported improving at the Hillside hospital and is now able to have visitors.

"Non-Military Surprises" May Come From Italy

reach a compromise settlement with the allies.

The allied leaders' direct appeal to the Italian people was made public in Italy late last night by the fascist news agency, after it had been broadcast repeatedly in Italian yesterday by allied radio stations and scattered in pamphlets over a wide area from planes.

A political writer for the Italian news agency Stefani answered that "feeble morale doesn't exist" but that the people regretted the lack of arms with which to make the allies "pay a higher price in blood."

"If the allies want to batter Italy, they must do so with arms," he said.

DIVE-BOMBERS LAY EGGS OVER MUNDA

have been made without the communique bomb weights—but always the raiders are dive bombers and torpedo bombers.

Today's communique crisply reported: "Our torpedo and dive bombers, in two strikes in close support of ground forces, dropped 82 tons of high explosives and fragmentation bombs on the enemy positions in the Munda area."

Picture Filled In
(Filling in the picture of what such an attack means is a delayed dispatch by Associated Press War Correspondent Leif Erickson on Guadalcanal, from whence fly the planes blasting at Munda. He quoted pilots as saying the bombs are dropped from altitudes as low as 2500 feet by skilled pilots such as Lieut. George Gay, sole survivor of the aircraft carrier Hornet's heroic torpedo squadron eight. It is selective bombing which sends pieces of an anti-aircraft gun flying apart.)

30 Miles Retreat
The axis would now be forced back approximately 30 miles, it seemed, before reaching the next major east-west road running through Caltanissetta, Enna and Gerbini to Catania.

Fighting was still going on between Lentini and Catania, but Montgomery was believed to be very close to Catania harbor after very engaging the Hermann Goering division since Wednesday morning. (A BBC broadcast from Algiers, recorded by CBS, said the eighth army "is less than six miles from Catania.")

It was assumed also that the capture of the nest of airfields in and around Gerbini, 12 miles southwest of Catania and at the edge of the Catania plain, was now threatened by British forward elements.

The British, however, were fighting their way across terrain which greatly favored the defending forces. It is crisscrossed with waterways large and small and contains three large rivers which run at right angles to Montgomery's advance.

(The London Daily Express said American and Canadian troops also were pouring onto the Catania plain from the Vizzini area, apparently threatening the Gerbini airfields in an advance from the west which supplemented the eighth army's push from the south.)

President Signs Bill Extending CCC

allowed to set up standards in maximum price regulations.

Mr. Roosevelt explained that the Taft amendment to the CCC measure, which modified a ban on grade labeling carried in the war agency appropriations bill, raised a question in his mind.

Congress dealt with OPA fixing of standards in both bills.

The measure extends the CCC until January 1, raises its borrowing power from $2,650,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 and gives the president a free hand in retail food price subsidies.

"When Long Distance Lines are extra busy I'll ask your help"

WHEN a street or a road is crowded, you can see it. But you can't see when the Long Distance lines are crowded. So the operator will tell you when the circuit you want is extra busy. Then she will ask you to limit your Long Distance call to not more than 5 minutes. That will help others to get their calls through, too. Of course, there won't be congestion every time you call, but when there is we know you'll be glad to co-operate. Thanks for all your help so far. War needs the wires more and more every day.
