

SNELL BACKS PROGRAM FOR AIR CADETS

An important army air corps program to recruit more men for the aviation cadet training program was given the official backing of Gov. Earl Snell in a conference with Major Eric K. Shilling, who is on a special mission in Oregon to stimulate cadet recruiting. Major Shilling will head an aviation cadet examining board that will visit Klamath Falls on August 10 and 11.

Gov. Snell urged that Oregonians give their utmost cooperation in insuring the success of this program.

There is an urgent need for young men between the ages of 17 and 28 years to apply for enlistment in the army air corps, it was emphasized by Major Shilling. The heavy production of airplanes and the increased role of air power in our offensive warfare have brought on this new demand for more aviators, revealed Major Shilling.

Those interested in obtaining more complete information on the aviation cadet program and the forthcoming visit of the traveling board should contact Leslie Rogers, local aviation cadet procurement chairman, at 412 Main street, the Elks lodge, or Sergeant Frank J. Kubin at the army recruiting office, 219 post-office building.

"Coal Famine" Seen Unless Army Works Pacific Area Mines

CINCINNATI, July 20 (AP)—The army must send 10,000 of its men into the mines if a "shocking coal famine" is to be prevented in the Pacific northwest, Eugene McAuliffe, Omaha, president of the Union Pacific coal company, asserted yesterday.

Speaking before the American Mining congress, McAuliffe declared increased fuel demands of "the great industrial empire of the northwest and Alaska, coupled with the labor shortage, makes a coal famine inevitable unless army aid is given" in the mines of the Pacific northwest.

MAN HOSPITALIZED AFTER BULL GORING

Louis (Hap) Hagerman, Summers lane rancher, is recovering in Klamath Valley hospital from a dislocated shoulder and multiple bruises sustained Saturday night when he was trampled by a bull at his home.

Hagerman was crossing the cattle pen after feeding his chickens, when the Jersey bull charged him. The animal knocked Hagerman to the ground several times. The rancher remembered his bulldozing technique of an earlier day, grasped the animal through the tender sections of the nostrils, and forced the bull to the ground. He then made his way across the road to a neighbor's home. An ambulance moved Hagerman to the hospital.

The bull had no horns, Hagerman reported, and this fact more than likely saved the rancher's life. His condition was said to be fairly good at Klamath Valley hospital late Tuesday.

Safest Oil Change Guide For Those Who Drive Less These Days Is Fresh Golden Shell Motor Oil When "A" Coupon Numbers Change

YOU FOLKS who drive much less under wartime restrictions shouldn't use the speedometer for your oil change guide any more.

The truth is, less driving means you should be even more careful, for oil is constantly exposed to dust and abrasives carried through the air—and to dilution by partially burned fuel particles.

Too, in short-trip driving at slower speeds, the engine often doesn't get hot enough to vaporize water formed by combustion and condensation. When water accumulates in your crankcase, it further contaminates your oil.

So your safe bet (regardless of how few coupons you've had to use) is to have your nearby Shellman or Shellady put in fresh Golden Shell motor oil every time you go to a new number in your "A" gasoline ration book (every two months). Chances are you won't have to add a drop between times.

"CARE FOR YOUR CAR FOR YOUR COUNTRY!"

While you're having your motor oil changed, order the full Shelllubrication protection service. It includes:

1. COMPLETE LUBRICATION of all moving parts with fresh Shell Lubricants, safety inspection of transmission and differential lubricant levels.
2. BATTERY CHECK Especially important as reduced driving may allow battery strength to fall below normal.
3. COOLING SYSTEM CHECK—Inspection of fan belt, hose connections, oil filter mileage and condition.
4. SPARK PLUG CHECK—To see if cleaning and adjusting are necessary—because dirty plugs can waste 10% of your gasoline.
5. TIRE CHECK—for nails, glass, cuts, etc. Air pressure correction, tread dressed. All supplementing regular inspections required by Government.
6. CLEANING of all windows and interior of car, polishing of chrome, inspection of all lights.
