

SEVENTH ARMY SLUGS AT AXIS ON SICILY TIP

main in Egypt when it took up the offensive, or at the Mareth line in Tunisia.

Announcement of the fall of Cefalu came at least 36 hours later, and while there were no more official reports on progress, it was plain that the heaviest American forces were being drawn up for an all-out blow along the north coast.

Reinforcements The Germans still were getting in reinforcements, and it was disclosed that "the bulk of two Italian field divisions" had escaped into the bridgehead from the west.

Front dispatches said the Germans were completely in charge of the strong Etna line running from San Stefano to Nicosia, Agris, Catenuova to the Dittaino river and had put Italian survivors of two field divisions which escaped the American encirclement of western Sicily to digging trenches and preparing road blocks.

The same report, however, said that "political developments do not appear yet to have interfered with the German habit of sandwiching Italians in at the firing line."

It is believed that only a small number of Italians actually continued as combat troops. The Canadians driving north-west through difficult country were meeting strong opposition and engaged in bitter fighting, today's communique declared.

More prisoners have been taken, it added, without specifying the number.

Explore Line The British at the outskirts of Catania sent patrols exploring the German line, but there was no sign when Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery might launch a powerful new offensive.

American pressure along the north coast obviously was mounting against newly established German positions. The communique itself had "nothing to report" from this seventh army sector.

Flying Fortresses again spearheaded the steady allied air offensive against southeastern Italy and Sicily, bombing Capua airfield north of Naples for the first time and destroying three of 15 to 20 enemy interceptors.

At the hearing on motions to dismiss the indictments evidence was adduced and at the conclusion of the hearing a stipulation was entered into between the plaintiff and the defendant herein. It was agreed that the services mentioned in each of the three indictments were actually rendered by the defendant for Klamath county, as over-time and outside of the statutory fixed office hours of the said defendant and that she submitted claims for said amounts to the county court of said Klamath county, Oregon, which claims were approved by the county court, and which approval was entered in the journal of said court and that thereupon, upon warrants being issued, defendant received the monies represented by said warrants. It was further stipulated that the court might pass on the facts stipulated to determine whether or not crimes had been committed by the defendant and that if the court should determine no crimes had been committed, said indictments should be dismissed with prejudice.

Turning to the two indictments on compensation for election over-time, we need only to look to Sec. 81-205 O. C. L. A. 1940, which reads in part, "and each county court shall audit and pay out of the county treasury such fees as the services performed by the county clerk and sheriff, under this act, (elections code) are in the judgment of the county court reasonably worth," to find warrant for the actions of the defendant in the premises. Under this statutory provision, the defendant having performed services in connection with elections and having submitted her claim to the county court and the county court having rendered judgment that the sums were reasonably worth the amounts granted no crime was committed by the defendant in receiving the monies represented by said claims.

As to the indictment for receiving compensation for over-time in connection with dog licenses the indictment charges the defendant with unlawfully receiving compensation "for over-time work in keeping a record of said dog licenses for the dog commission," whereas the stipulation, and the evidence adduced at the hearing conclusively shows that the defendant was appointed secretary of the dog commission and that the compensation she received, to-wit: $50.00, covered her services as such secretary, and since such services were outside of and not a part of her official duties as county clerk, under the authority of Mousseau vs. Carey, 252 Pac. 324 (Calif.), she had a legal right to receive such sum and did not violate the law in so doing.

Finding that the defendant has not violated the law in respect to the three indictments, or either of them, the same will be dismissed with prejudice. Dated this 27th day of July, 1948. EARL C. LATOURETTE, Judge. P. Adv. Mae K. Short.

15,000 JAPS TO BE MOVED TO TULELAKE

DENVER, July 28 (AP)—Around 15,000 Japanese men, women and children will be moved to the Tulelake relocation camp in northern California in September, Dillon S. Myer, war relocation authority director, said last night.

Myer attended a conference here of WRA representatives from the ten relocation camps for persons of Japanese descent.

Three groups of aliens and first and second-generation Japanese-Americans will be placed at Tulelake, Myer said. First, those who have requested repatriation to Japan (Myer estimated these and their families at around 6300); the persons who have refused or qualified their allegiance to the United States; and those designated as disloyal by intelligence records and investigations.

Kiebel Release from Tulelake can be obtained only through an appeal to a special board appointed by the WRA to hear such cases, or if transportation can be arranged, some will be deported to Japan, Myer said.

The "Kiebel," those who have been educated in Japan, make up the largest group of Japanese-Americans who will be sent to Tulelake.

"These are more Japanese in culture than many of the aliens who have lived over here for 30 or 40 years but were not allowed to become citizens," Myer said.

Outside Centers More than one-third of the Japanese-Americans have been employed outside the relocation centers, Myer said. The "Nisei" and "Sensei" first and second-generation American citizens of Japanese descent, number 85 per cent of persons in the relocation centers, he explained.

The largest number of former relocation center residents are employed in Colorado, Utah, and Idaho, Myer said, although 2000 have settled in the Chicago area since March 1, and others are farther east. Arizona, he added, has been designated by the WRA as "closed" to resettlement.

THE WINNAH! LOS ANGELES, (AP)—"This is Whitey," said a voice on the telephone. "Put $50 to win and $30 to place on Profile in the seventh at Arlington."

District Attorney's Investigator Chet Sharp, who took the call while raiding the bookmaking shop, says Whitey can collect $295—if he'll come to the district attorney's office.

Profile paid $7.60 to win and $4.20 to place.

BOMBS HEAP WASTE ON HAMBURG, RUHR

battered city, which in normal times has a population of more than 1,000,000. Sandwiched in between these night raids were two smashing daylight attacks by American bombers on Sunday and Monday.

There was no let-up in the allied attack as strong formations of fighters and fighter-bombers continued the assault in daylight today shuttling forth and back across the sunny channel to the low countries. The attacks continued past mid-day.

Terror Attacks (The German high command, in a communique broadcast by the Berlin radio, said that "strong enemy bomber formations continued their terror attacks on Hamburg last night. There were further devastations and conflagrations caused in several parts of the city. The population again suffered losses."

(It claimed that 47 of the attacking bombers were shot down.)

Ruhr Bombed Targets in the Ruhr valley, site of many important German war industries, also were bombed during the night, said an air ministry communique, which acknowledged the loss of 18 bombers.

Mosquitoes of the fighter command at the same time carried out offensive patrols over Germany, Holland and France, attacking airfields and railway communications, the bulletin said.

The attack on Hamburg was described by the air ministry as "concentrated and effective."

ISTANBUL, July 28 (AP)—Turkey was projected dramatically into the role of a possible mediator between the United Nations and Italy today by a hasty and mysterious conference between the new Italian foreign minister, Rafeale Guariglia, and Turkish Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu.

The meeting was held amid every indication of secrecy and urgency aboard the Italian embassy launch in the Sea of Marmora yesterday. Immediately after the conference Menemencioglu left hurriedly for the capital at Ankara and it was disclosed that Guariglia—who has been in Turkey as ambassador under the fascist regime of Benito Mussolini—would leave by plane today for Rome.

The circumstances under which the meeting was held were in themselves sufficient to arouse intense interest.

Motorists Face Critical Tire Shortage, Says OPA PORTLAND, July 28 (AP)—American motorists are facing the most critical tire shortage since Pearl Harbor, Russell Paul of the OPA automotive division in Washington warned today.

Despite the progress being made in synthetic production, he told an industry meeting here, "we are going in the hole about 280,000 truck tires a month, and for the rest of this calendar year production of passenger car tires will be six million short of demand." He said the used tire situation was similar.

Paul estimated tires on the nation's vehicles are wearing down eight times as fast as they are being replaced.

Republican Ruckus Out in Open With Charges, Denials WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—An internal ruckus that has been brewing quietly in republican ranks over the scope of a foreign policy declaration for 1948 was out in the open today with public charges and denials that the Republican Postwar Policy association aims to "split" the party by harping against peace-time "isolationists."

guns could meet assaults with strong crossfire. Avenger and Dauntless bombers again supported the troops, plastering 33 tons of bombs against enemy positions. The bombers, which were escorted by a strong cover of fighters, reported many hits on Japanese gun emplacements despite intense anti-aircraft fire.

Meanwhile, on New Guinea, allied bombers heavily pounded the Salamaua area and Lae, and ground patrols northwest of Mount Tambu, near Salamaua, engaged the enemy in sharp skirmishes.

Military Guard in Milan Milan itself was under rigid military guard after clashes which erupted throughout yesterday and last night.

Troops with bayoneted rifles and equipped with machine-guns guarded the Milan railway station, and other troops patrolled the city's main thoroughfares.

German garrison troops at Milan, guarded in their barracks by Italian soldiers since Mussolini's resignation, were no longer to be seen.

do some high, wide and handsome guessing at this point. Reasonable guesses seem to be:

1. The Italian PEOPLE are weary of a war that has brought them only sorrow and suffering and humiliation and want to quit fighting. They're clearly GLAD to be rid of Mussolini, who dragged them into it.

2. They DON'T want to quit fighting us and then turn right around and BEGIN FIGHTING GERMANS. They just want to quit.

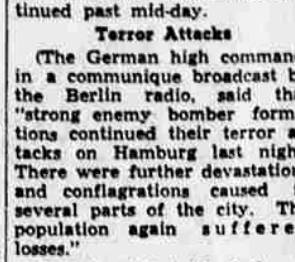

3. The new Italian government would LIKE to make peace with us (even, maybe, at the price of unconditional surrender) but is AFRAID of the Germans, who still have a strong military hold on Italy, and would like to make a dicker with us that will GET THE GERMANS OUT without too much shedding of Italian blood.

To these guesses, which seem to make some sort of vague sense, let's add another: The Germans may have told the new Italian government that if it can get them out of Italy more or less whole they'll leave without venting their anger on the Italians for washing out on them.

Hence (maybe) all the dickering that is obviously going on. OUR side, we must remember, HOLDS THE WHIP now and isn't going to tolerate much monkey business. Whatever is going to be done will have to be done without a great deal of delay.

By hiding under a washing machine, 4-year-old Beverly Jane Stauffer (above) escaped unharmred although three persons, including her mother, were killed by shotgun slayer in her Ogden, Utah, home. Her father was wounded. Austin Cox, 38, was held at Ogden, for the slayings.

WOMEN NEEDED TO TEACH SWIMMING A woman to instruct swimming classes for two weeks in connection with the summer recreation program is being sought by Dave Bridge, city recreation officer.

The position will be a paid one and will be for five days a week, three hours a day starting on August 9. The job will be teaching smaller children to swim between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Anyone who is qualified to handle youngsters and to teach swimming is asked to contact Bridge at the recreation office in the city hall immediately.

Unless someone is reached who will take this job, it may be necessary to discontinue these afternoon classes for two weeks.

for a fresh supply. During his absence the four men, apparently believing him lost, strayed from the rest of the unit to search for water, the Camp Young officer stated. However, the lieutenant had water when he returned.

Six soldiers, exhausted, reached a Southern Pacific way station, where they flagged a train that took them to Yuma, Ariz. Sheriff T. H. Newman disclosed. Bodies of the dead likewise were sent to Yuma, the army reported, where a military board of inquiry convened.

The desert army training center extends over thousands of square miles in the lower Colorado river region, where California, Arizona and Mexico join. Its area is roughly that of Pennsylvania, and Camp Young is its headquarters.

dered were not a part of her official duties as county clerk, and therefore the receiving of such funds was not a violation of law.

With Prejudice His order further stated that, "Finding that the defendant has not violated the law in respect to the three indictments, or either of them, the same will be dismissed with prejudice."

The case, having been "dismissed with prejudice," is not subject to being brought up again.

It was brought out at the hearing before Judge Latourette July 9 that the grand jury on December 1 made a presentment of facts to the circuit judge covering the facts of this case. The court ruled on the presentment and instructed the grand jury that such actions constituted a violation of law. The indictments were returned in accordance with that instruction.

Young Man Held For Shooting Dad METALINE FALLS, Wash., July 28 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Tom O'Leary said today Lester Gregory, 20, had confessed shooting his father to death because he was "crummy to me lately and it had preyed on my mind."

Gregory was removed to the county jail at Newport and held without charge.

Never before had American bombers fallen on Wake island in raids so close together. Prior to the attack last Saturday American bombers had not made the 2400-mile round trip from Midway to Wake, since May 15.

The navy communique said that despite fighter resistance and anti-aircraft fire "bombs were placed on designated targets" without any American planes being lost or casualties to personnel in the Tuesday attack.

which the Russians have had under artillery fire since the capture of Studenokovo. The town is five miles from the railway which is the only avenue of escape for German forces facing encirclement in Orel.

It was believed that the red army artillery barrage has seriously hampered, if not halted traffic on the railway but there is no indication from the Russian reports that the line has yet been cut.

Resistance was stubborn, the Russians said, declaring they had switched to flank attacks and encirclement moves when unable to penetrate German defenses in frontal assault.

Front dispatches said German losses were rising at a staggering rate.
