were bombed in conjunction with the Kassel attack. Eleven heavy bombers, one medium bomber, three light bombers and seven fighters are missing, the communique reported.

U. S. medium bombers attacked axis airfields at Woensdrecht in Holland "with good results" and wrecked six enemy fighters. RAF and Dominion Spitfires were their escorts.

RAF Bostons protected by Spitfires and supported by Typhoons raided the Schiphol airfield at Amsterdam, with three enemy planes destroyed in air combats.

Aldromes at Courtral and Cocyte in Belgium were bombed by RAF Typhoons.

Hamburg Hit
RAF bombers made the third 2300-ton assault of the week last night on Hamburg, with bombs showing down at the rate of more than 50 tons a minute for 45 minutes on Germany's second city.

It was the great North German port's seventh pounding since Saturday night.

"Never before in the history of air warfare," the air ministry news service said, "has an attack of such weight and persistence been made against a single industrial target; no other target in Germany has had more than 2000-ton attack."

Fires have been raging in the city without stop for six days.

The tempo of the air war against Germany is RISING.

WATCH Orel.
As these words are written, it is still in German hands, but the Russians are steadily tightening their grip on it. It may fall any day—any hour, for that matter. Its ultimate fall seems certain.

Because the Germans have fought fiercely and suffered staggering losses to hold it, its fall will be a hard jolt for them. The more hard jolts the Germans get, the sooner they'll crack.

AND keep your eye on Turkey. Turkey has so far sat tight and stayed out of it. It is unlikely that she will continue to stay out. It is even a little unlikely that she WANTS to.

Turkey will want to retain control of the Dardanelles. What chance will she have if she sits tight all the way through the war, and does nothing to help ANYBODY?

AND watch the Balkans. The end of the other war started there, and it isn't too unlikely that history may repeat itself.

No Coffee Ration, But Grocers Told To Save Stamps

Consumers may purchase all the coffee they want now, the OPA advised this morning, and do not need to turn in any stamps for it.

Grocers were warned to retain all stamps taken in previous periods for coffee, since the OPA might require them to keep a record of coffee sold during the period of rationing. Coffee was released from the ration list Thursday after President Roosevelt's talk.

Western Pine Production Jumps During Last Week

PORTLAND, July 30 (AP)—Production jumped nearly 2,000,000 board feet during the week ending July 24, the Western Pine association reported today.

Reports from 97 mills showed 88,411,000 feet as against 86,459,000 the previous week. The corresponding week last year produced 99,307,000.

Orders fell from the previous week's 76,937,000 feet to 67,981,000. Last year's orders were 84,566,000. Shipments were 76,625,000 board feet, 71,889,000 the previous week, 91,765,000 the same week last year.

Back from South—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Guerretaz of 203 Washington street, have returned here after a week's visit in Berkeley, where they attended their nephew, Fred Lloyd's pre-flight graduation exercises. Young Lloyd was commander of one of the two graduating companies and out of the 250 men, ranked among the 10 highest in general military knowledge. Lloyd was transferred to Livermore, Calif., for primary training, following graduation from pre-flight school. Fred graduated from KUHS and attended the University of Oregon for two years.

MT. ETNA LINE BREACHED BY ALLIED POWER

Jr.'s seventh army was advancing through the strategic prize of Nicosia and exploiting the breakthrough made in temporary Nazi positions.

Menace Regalibuto
Canadians who captured Agira to the southeast, central pivot of the Mt. Etna line, were menacing Regalibuto, six miles to the east, and facing another bitter struggle.

Allied air power struck repeatedly in heavy new blows to shatter port facilities at Messina and Milazzo in Sicily and ranged over Italy to blast airports near Rome and Naples.

Probe Catania
The British eighth army continued its probing patrols into the powerful German defenses below Catania, the communique said.

(A British broadcast recorded by CBS in New York said U. S. troops already were "battering the main enemy defenses on the outskirts of San Stefano," northern coastal anchor of the Mt. Etna defenses.

(The Italians declared that their motor torpedo boats "in waters east of the island repulsed threats carried out by enemy E-boats against Italian convoys," but did not indicate whether the convoys were rushing reinforcements to Sicily or pulling troops out of the island.)

Still Stymied
Still stymied by wide minefields and dominant enemy gun positions on the lower slopes of Mt. Etna, the eighth army fought a number of small engagements with forces of the Goering division and elite Nazi parachute troops battalions. These were successful, the communique said.

The bulletin's terseness could not hide the fact that the climactic struggle of the campaign was in progress, with the Americans capitalizing their strategic positions on the weakest sector of the German line.

Scale Ridges
The veteran U. S. fighters scaled three 1000-foot ridges in tropical heat and outflanked German batteries by circuitous mountain routes, exerting relentless pressure on the hastily entrenched enemy.

General Patton's orders to "keep striking" were carried out to the limit by bayonet-wielding infantry and skilled crews of mechanized field guns as they surged forward across terrain that in other circumstances might have been an impregnable defensive line.

Allied torpedo aircraft sank a merchant ship and left two naval vessels afire as they intercepted axis attempts to reinforce their hard-pressed forces.

Rotary Meeting Success Without Scheduled Speaker

The scheduled speaker didn't show up, but Friday's Rotary club meeting proved to be a success, anyhow.

Senator Randolph Collier of Yreka, slated to speak, did not get here in time, and the program was turned over to Senator Marshall Cornett of Klamath Falls. Wounded service men who are here as guests of the Commandos were introduced, and Arnold Gralapp spoke briefly on the government vocational education program which will be of aid to returning soldiers.

Miss Barbara Bentley of Tulelake, accompanied by Mrs. George McIntyre, sang two numbers.

The land certain of inundation is leased mainly by the Kandra brothers.

Russians Slog At Orel Despite Counter Attacks

LONDON, July 30 (AP)—Russian troops moved ahead in various sectors up to six miles in the drive on Orel, capturing more than 20 populated places from the German defenders, a special soviet bulletin said tonight.

Intensive reconnaissance activities continued in the Belgorod direction, the communique recorded by the soviet monitor said, and in the Donets basin southwest of Voroshilovgrad a strong German counterattack, supported by tanks, failed before Russian resistance.

The communique reported only reconnaissance and local fighting on the Leningrad front.

On all fronts yesterday Russian troops damaged and destroyed 21 German tanks and brought down 37 German planes.

MOSCOW, July 30 (AP)—German forces fighting desperately to hold Orel at all costs brought in fresh units from France and Germany yesterday but failed to check the crushing soviet drive, the Russians announced today.

When knee-deep mud and driving rain threatened for a time to slow their massive tanks and infantry, the red army turned to a cavalry charge to throw the Germans from three fortified positions, front line dispatches said. Nazi forces giving under the weight of the charge were reported to have left 600 dead and large quantities of arms behind.

Ice Ration Makes Denver Hot Place

DENVER, July 30 (AP)—Iceless soft drinks and highballs. Coolers without ice. Draught beer dispensers closing down.

These are some of the results existing or prospective, of a shortage that has forced the rationing of ice in Denver for the next two months.

The scarcity was caused largely, officials said, by a doubling in the past year of shipments of fruits and vegetables which require vast quantities of ice. The war has also boosted the city's population. The capacity of existing equipment to manufacture ice can't meet the demand.

President Brushes Off Comment As to Politics in Speech

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—President laughingly brushed aside today a request for comment on the "speculation as to the political portent" of his Wednesday night broadcast.

At a press-radio conference he said someone at the White House had asked him why, in his next speech, he does not take a different tack and devote a paragraph or two to saying the moon is beautiful.

It was suggested that he would be accused of playing politics, Mr. Roosevelt said, because a lot of young people like to sit out under the moon.
