Young Banks saw the finish of both the carriers Lexington and Yorktown. It is with pride the Commandos can have as their guests, men like Dana Banks!

Submarine Mechanic

Lanny Ward, 23, St. Louis, Mo., was a mechanic on the Spearfish, a submarine. He has been in the navy four years. Lanny has seen service on the east coast and the west coast of the United States, China, Philippines, the Netherlands, Australia, Hawaii, Midway, Ceylon, Solomon Islands and Alaska. Lanny was wounded when his submarine made a depth charge. He has been at Mare Island three and one-half months, and has many more months there.

Lanny is the "buddy" of Wayne Fogelstrom, who was here with the sailors. It will be interesting to the many friends young Fogelstrom made while in Klamath to learn he is now off his crutches. He made many new friends when here and they send him their sincerest wishes. Fogelstrom and Lanny Ward are planning after Wayne's operation in August to return to Klamath Falls on a vacation.

On Guadalcanal

Sgt. Oliver A. Rushton, 24, is from Salt Lake City, Utah. He arrived at Pearl Harbor on December 21, 1941, and almost a year later landed on Guadalcanal. Rushton has not been home in three years. He said just before coming to Klamath Falls on this trip he called his mother—and the long distance telephone bill was $25—but more than worth it!

Marine

Pvt. Gene Darr is from San Antonio, Tex. He joined the marines in 1940. The following September he was transferred to Honolulu. He was at Pearl Harbor at the time of the bombing, and later went aboard the USS Chicago. Darr was in the battle of the Coral sea, and another off Guadalcanal. He then transferred to a raider battalion and landed on Guadalcanal in the first wave on August 7.

ALBANY, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fire destroyed the old Albany cannery yesterday, ate into 20 acres of piled hogged fuel and spread into nearby timber and brush before hundreds of townfolk, wielding wet sacks and blankets, quelled the flames.

It MIGHT. Oil is immensely important. We lost at least 20 bombers and several more have not yet returned to their base. We're sure we destroyed at least 50 defending German planes.

KEEP your eye on the war in the air. It's going to get more and more important as the days pass. It's already the biggest single factor. Witness the reported COMPLETE destruction of the great German city of Hamburg (leading the Germans to fear that Berlin will be next on the list for complete destruction.)

Also keep your eye on Crete. Something's almost sure to happen there soon.

Also note these stories of fighting that develops when the Germans attempt to DISARM Italian troops. They're significant.

DON'T disregard all these hints of more or less frantic negotiations supposed to be going on in the Vatican, in Turkey, etc. You may be quite sure the diplomats are exceedingly busy, and you never can tell when something may come of their dickerings.

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (AP)—Red army troops, continuing the slow, relentless investment of the German defenses around Orel, yesterday hurled the axis out of 100 villages and tightened the pincers threatening that base with advances at five to 7 1/2 miles, the Russians reported today.

ALGIERS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Elmer

Davis, head of the office of war information, speaking on the Algiers radio tonight, forecast that a great invasion would be launched from England that would sweep Europe as Sicily had been swept.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—

Secretary Ickes announced today the appointment of Harry W. Bashore as commissioner of reclamation in the interior department, succeeding John C. Page, who resigned because of ill health. Bashore, in the reclamation bureau for 37 years, had been assistant commissioner since 1939.

William E. Warne, the interior department's director of information, was made assistant reclamation commissioner succeeding Bashore. Robert W. Horton, a special assistant to the secretary, was made director of information.

RADIO WARNS ITALIANS OF LAND INVASION

Italian ears the ominous warning of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that aerial death and destruction would be the penalty if Badoglio's government continued to harbor German soldiers on Italian soil.

Italians Flee

An immediate psychological effect on the populace was reported in Swiss-Italian dispatches through Bern, which said that some 3,000,000 Italians already had fled the cities.

Officially, however, the government's position was no clearer than it was when first formed after Benito Mussolini was ousted as premier.

March for "Peace"

The Algiers radio reported that in one Italian town marching women shouted "peace" and "set free our prisoners," but press reports and broadcasts from Rome continued to criticize the allies for failing to offer Italy "a place of honor" among nations after fascism was ended.

"We want to negotiate but we don't want to capitulate," was the tenor of the Italian press and radio reaction.

Reports that Badoglio's aim in holding out was to win a form of neutrality which would remove Italy from the war but avoid an allied occupation were met with a barrage of ridicule here. The press emphasized that Italy will be used as an allied base for striking Germany whether she surrenders or prefers to be taken by force.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—

After a night of clashes, fresh disorders broke out in Harlem today when negroes set fire to a parked, unoccupied automobile.

Flames, Smoke

Flames shot 30 feet into the air and smoke rose 100 feet. Fire department apparatus was called to extinguish the blaze.

There was another outbreak of looting. Negroes inside grocery stores, having entered through broken windows, clung to shelves and tossed cans of fruits and vegetables into the street where other negroes waited, grabbed the cans and ran.

A white man walking along Lenox avenue near 137th street was attacked by a crowd of negroes. Two negro soldiers, walking nearby, ran to the victim's aid, ordered the assailants to get away and then escorted the man to safety in a subway station.

Special policemen were placed on duty on subway trains and in subway stations of the interborough and independent lines.

Planes Hack at Road to Munda; No Land News

New Guinea and the Coral Sea, may have extended as far eastward as the central Solomons and put a damper on air activity.

For the second consecutive day the communique from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said nothing about how American troops were doing around Munda. Aside from bombing attack there, it told only of scattered air activity.

Five barges were destroyed off Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and a reconnaissance plane bombed Lae, New Guinea, with unreported results. Fires were started in enemy oil installations at Boela, Ceram island, northwest of New Guinea.

Allies Capture Ten Thousand Prisoners

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 2 (AP)—Ten thousand prisoners fell into American hands with the capture of Mistretta, six miles from the north coast of Sicily, it was announced today.

Decrease Seen in Oregon Milk Dealers

SALEM, Aug. 2 (AP)—The number of licensed milk dealers in Oregon has dropped from 469 to 314 since January 1, 1942, State Director of Agriculture Ervin L. Peterson said today.

He said the milk supply is rapidly diminishing, while the demand is increasing steadily.

lice leaves were cancelled. Firemen patrolled streets where stores had been looted and special subway police guarded stairways and subway stations on the interborough and independent lines.

Traffic Stopped

All traffic was stopped in the Harlem area and business there was at a standstill. Liquor stores were closed on the order of the mayor.

The West 123rd street police station, established as a headquarters for operations of the authorities, was cluttered with meat, clothing, furniture, liquor, canned goods and groceries, picked up from the streets where they had been abandoned by looters.

Mayor Speaks

In his third radio speech, delivered after an unoccupied automobile had been burned and a white man attacked, but rescued by negro soldiers, in today's fresh outbreaks, the mayor said:

"I expect from the people of Harlem the fullest cooperation today and tonight and until complete order is restored. Traffic will be limited. . . . We want to keep people from other parts of the city away from Harlem. Any who attempt to enter the damaged stores in Harlem will be prosecuted to the fullest."

Support British

Axis reports said strong American forces were veering southeastward from central Sicily supporting the British drive, and a Rome broadcast said Montgomery was "methodically nearing" Catania.

Montgomery, in a personal message to his troops reminiscent of those which preceded his great offensives in North Africa, said the allies had knocked Mussolini "off his perch," and "we will now drive the Germans from Sicily." His message was dated July 30.

A great push by Montgomery has been expected for nearly a week, and he has been probing the line for soft spots in the manner in which he customarily feels out the enemy while massing his own forces.

NORTH FLANK CRUMPLED BY U. S. ADVANCE

ing Fortresses rained 500-pound bombs upon dock areas of Naples and the nearby Capodichino airfield Sunday to put into action the warning given by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that Italy again would be rocked from the air because Premier Pietro Badoglio's government had temporized, and permitted the Germans time to strengthen their defenses.

Naval Action

Allied warships steamed into the heightening and perhaps decisive action, shattering railway communications in the foot of Italy and setting the port of Cretonne afire, and American warships shelled enemy land positions in Sicily ahead of the advancing U. S. seventh army troops.

This American advance also swept up Mistretta, six miles directly south of San Stefano as the troops of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., cracked through the Etna defenses.

Steady Progress

Steady progress was reported officially all along the Sicilian front, and the eighth army was said to have repelled strong German counter-attacks with heavy losses. Canadians battling ahead in the central area were engaged in heavy fighting, but their advances continued.

The Americans took 10,000 more prisoners in the fall of Mistretta alone. The majority were nazis, giving the Americans their largest bag of Germans.

On High Ground

Both American and Canadian forces were battling through high ground frequently reaching an altitude of 2500 feet, studded with German machine-gun positions and covered by axis heavy artillery.

The capture of San Stefano put the Americans in full control of a major road running from there southward through Nicosia and gave them a strategic artery for quick transport of troops and guns through the vital north central region. This news followed yesterday's announcement that the Americans had captured nine towns and possibly turned the axis north flank.

Support British

completing a flight over the city. Joseph C. Payne, business agent for a St. Louis labor union, said there was "a splintering noise and the wing seemed to fall away. The tow cable snapped and the fuselage dropped like a rock."

Another eyewitness, Edward Austin, said the noise of the crash was "like someone punching a huge air-filled bag."

"Women became hysterical and the men were not much better. They stared straight ahead as if they were hypnotized."
