fall, beat them up or question them. Instead his troops are under strict orders to shoot at the first sign of demonstrations or trouble and ask questions later.

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden reiterated in the house of commons today that the allies had offered Italy no peace terms when asked how it happened that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had spoken of "honorable conditions of peace" in his recent broadcast to the Italian people.

Declaring that the allies continue to demand unconditional surrender, Eden said shortly: "I do not want to argue this matter now, but I can understand circumstances in which unconditional surrender might not be dishonorable to those who made it."

Eden's statement gave the lie to German broadcasts yesterday which quoted a Geneva dispatch as saying that President Roosevelt had advanced a seven-point armistice proposal to Italy.

It came amid indication of growing Italian resistance to unconditional surrender demands which strengthened the conviction that an all-out allied invasion of Italy was the only course left open to the allies to knock her out of the war.

The new Italian cabinet has been summoned by Premier Badoglio to meet tomorrow, Rome radio reported, making no mention of any peace talks.

CHIASSO, At the Swiss-Italian frontier, Aug. 4 (AP)—Berlin, viewing the Italian situation with the most satisfaction since the fall of Mussolini, spoke today of the "growing resistance of the Italian army," reports reaching here said.

Mexicans to Aid Spud Harvest Here; Wage Scale Set the same as the scale announced recently for the Tulelake district.

This, also, is the scale which the association determined upon at the opening of last year's harvest season.

High 1943 Costs After the 1943 season got under way, it was recalled, many farmers found it advisable to pay above the established scale of 4 cents a half sack. In some cases, this was done in anticipation of high potato prices. After the harvest had been concluded, the OPA set wage ceilings which nullified the expected high prices and left the farmers with cost bills unjustified by their actual returns.

OFA ceilings for this fall's crop have not been announced but it has been stated definitely that such ceilings will be imposed on the potato price and it is indicated they will be about the same as last year. In view of that fact and the experience of last year, the growers association decided to establish the same wage scale as was originally set last year.

"Buyer" Steals Car; Arrested in Weed

Robert Thompson, a Klamath Falls negro, was arrested in Weed Tuesday and is being held in Yreka waiting to be returned to Klamath Falls to answer a charge of larceny by baillee.

Posing as a prospective buyer, Thompson borrowed a car from a local party Tuesday noon, saying he wanted to drive it around the block and try it out. He and the car never returned. Upon investigation it was learned that a car answering the missing automobile's description had gone through the checking station near Dorris at 3:40 p. m. The Siskiyou county sheriff was notified and Thompson was picked up at Weed two and a half hours later.

WHILE you're at it, keep your eye on the Italian fleet and what Badoglio does with it. If he hands it over to the Germans without a fight (or at least with only a TOKEN fight) we'll have him pretty well pegged as a German tool.

THE Italian fleet hasn't amounted to much so far, but as long as it remains as a possible fighting entity we'll have to keep a lot of naval strength in the Mediterranean to offset it.

If we could FORGET the Italian fleet, we could put MORE naval strength into the Pacific to fight the Japs.

AT Munda, we've hacked our way slowly to the eastern edge of the Jap airfield, but Pacific headquarters dispatches say much bloody battling lies ahead.

Each time we close in on the Japs, we have to KILL THEM ALL. That takes time. If we have to kill the whole 70 million of them, it will take a lot of time.

GEORGIA, by constitutional amendment, appears to have lowered the voting age from 21 to 18—the first state to do so. The votes aren't all counted yet, but favorable sentiment is so far running about three to one.

This writer would say offhand that if men of 18 are old enough to FIGHT they're old enough to VOTE.

VOTING by 18-year-olds won't change things much—EXCEPT that younger people are more apt to HAVE IDEALS and voters with ideals are the hope of the world.

AIR, SEA FIRE POWER BACKS BIG LAND PUSH

about three miles southwest of previously captured Centuripe in this sector, was announced. The communique also confirmed the previously reported fall of Agrigro to the northwest.

Naples was hit the second successive night in the reopened air offensive against the mainland, with railroads and communications as the particular target. Cruisers in Action

American heavy cruisers, disclosed to be in action in Sicilian waters for the first time, along with American destroyers, pumped shells into the coastal road and axis defenses built into the high ground west of Cape Orlando, about 43 miles west of Messina and just ahead of the American advance.

British destroyers also blazed away at the east Sicilian coast, raking with high explosives the coastal road at Taormina north of Catania, and at Cape Molini, 17 miles south of Taormina and just north of Catania.

Blockade Tightens Light naval forces laid down a tightening blockade of the axis garrison, maintaining a steady patrol even in the narrow Messina strait where they fought two sharp engagements with enemy motor torpedo boats, one off Cape Armi on the Italian toe and the other near Taormina. One of the enemy boats was damaged.

Not only bombers but several types of fighters and fighter-bombers ranged unopposed over the German and Italian ground forces, dropping high explosives at point blank range and ripping axis infantry with cannon shells and machine-gun bullets.

A frontline witness said "the roar in the sky is deafening. It's a regular traffic jam up there." Focus of Destruction Adrano, at the western base of Mt. Etna, and the gun positions and roads in that area were the focal point of the aerial-wrought destruction, and 80 enemy trucks were reported destroyed and 100 damaged.

RAF Wellingtons attacked Naples, swamping the defenses with a concentrated bombing. The crews said the Naples anti-aircraft gunners held their fire until the last moment and then let loose simultaneously, but the fire failed to divert the bomber fleet and a tornado of explosions left the target "looking like a flattened Christmas tree," said one airman.

voy off Le Havre, France, yesterday. One plane was lost in the attack which was carried out at a height of only 20 feet.

Whirlwind bombers also attacked the airfield at Guipavas near Brest yesterday evening and three Spitfires and Typhoons escorting the bombers are missing.

The British air ministry review announced yesterday that allied air forces based on the British isles dumped a record 21,520 tons of high explosives on Germany and German-occupied Europe during the month of July—more than 53 times as much as the nazis ever dropped in their heaviest raid on any English city.

One-third of the tonnage was dropped on the seaport city of Hamburg which received 7840 tons and thereby became the No. 1 target of the allies.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 4 (AP)—Berlin correspondents of Swedish newspapers who reported the Germans were speeding evacuation of all non-essential civilians from Berlin in anticipation that the capital would follow Hamburg on the allied blitz list, were reported in trouble with nazi authorities today.

Pilot air pressure suits have been used at altitudes of over 56,000 feet.

Hoover said Weinberg, through various fraudulent schemes, had caused the rejection or deferment of a number of New Yorkers, that he operated under the name of Stanley C. Weyman, and had offices in a mid-town New York hotel where he consulted "clients."

"In several instances he so thoroughly schooled slackers in the mannerisms and reactions of mentally incompetent persons that they were rejected as being unfit," Hoover declared. "Weinberg's fees ranged from a few hundred dollars to more than $2000 depending upon the service performed," the justice department said.

layout and schedule of the hospital.

Police continued questioning Mrs. Theresa McQuaid, nurse who discovered the abduction at 2 a. m., yesterday, and Mrs. Hazel Call, another nurse on duty but who was taking a nap during her two-hour relief at the time.

No ransom note has been received. Steilmacher said all possible leads have been followed, all proved fruitless.

Fear for Health Dr. E. Lew Hurd, who attended Mrs. Gurney, feared for the health of the child. On his appeal radio stations broadcast instructions, intended for the kidnaper, on how to care for the babe.

Police throughout the state were put on the alert and State Police Sergeant Earl Houston asked all doctors to report anyone seeking care for a newborn child.

No Visitors Mrs. Gurney, grief-stricken, was allowed no visitors. Her mother, Mrs. Alma Montgomery Crabtree, Salem, said she was in a critical condition and feared she could not survive unless the baby were found.

The father said he had no enemies and could offer no clues.

Police ruled out the possibility that ransom was the motive, declaring that Gurney, a plywood mill foreman and head of a local AFL mill workers' union, is of moderate means only.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 4 (AP) A young woman who bought a nursing bottle, nipple and infant's chemical formula from a drug store here last night was sought today for possible connection in the kidnaping of three-day-old Judith Gurney from an Albany hospital.

L. W. McCartney, assistant manager of a chain drug store, told police the woman had no idea which of many formulas she wanted although a specific one ordinarily is recommended by a doctor.

McCartney said a clerk noted that a man entered the store with the woman but remained near the door. The woman carried a baby in her arms, McCartney said.

FARM, CIVIC LEADERS STUDY NEWELL WORK

Farmer and civic leaders studied the forthcoming construction at the Tulelake relocation center Wednesday as it relates to the labor supply situation here, while from one labor source came an opinion that the project should not interfere with the potato harvest.

Earl Godding, business representative of the AFL carpenters union, said there should be ample labor for the Tulelake job without upsetting the farm help situation in the basin. He stated there are a number of carpenters idle here at the present time, and no doubt others will come in from outside to take over work in connection with the Tulelake extension.

Ray Best, new director of the WRA center, said it was his understanding that immediate additional construction requiring labor would have to do with the extension of the military establishment at the center. He said this was not WRA work, and so far as the WRA is concerned no contract construction would be done in time to disturb the harvest situation. He emphasized the distinction between WRA and military activities.

It is understood the military quarters are to be increased to house a considerably increased guard, to be established at the center in connection with the concentration of disloyal Japanese there. Construction of a strong fence around the center is also reportedly in prospect.

Director Best said that eventually it may be necessary to enlarge the evacuee housing to care for 2500 or 3000 more evacuees on the project. The exact number of disloyal evacuees in the various WRA projects, all of whom are to be moved to Tulelake, has not been definitely determined.

Klamath Potato Growers Association wired Senator Charles L. McNary asking him to urge that appropriate steps be taken to prevent the Tulelake construction from disrupting the harvest labor situation.

The concern among farmers results from conditions that existed when the Tulelake project was first built. At that time, farm labor and grading crews in large numbers left that work to go to the Tulelake camp for jobs. Both the industrial and farm labor situation in the basin in that period were seriously disturbed.

Klamath chamber of commerce executive committee members discussed the situation at a noon meeting Wednesday. The committee decided to seek further information as to exactly what is planned, and to urge caution against further complications of the delicate labor supply situation in the basin.

Police Officer Says Oakes Tried To Break Loose

Marigny, who is charged with murdering the multi-millionaire gold miner.

"It appeared," Melchen told Magistrate F. E. Field, "that Sir Harry first was set afire while he lay on the floor not far from his bed.

"The indications are that he tried to go down the hall to the stairway.

"There were smudges on the hall wall where his body fell against it. There were burns and soot spots, too, on the stairs and the hall.

"This indicates that he was afire before he got into the hall."

De Marigny smiled at acquaintances in the small courtroom as he made his fifth appearance before Field. His 19-year-old wife Nancy, Oakes' eldest daughter, heard part of yesterday's testimony, but left in the afternoon for Miami, saying she was going on an errand in connection with the case.
