

Wedding of Interest To Klamath Folks

Dr. John Merryman Takes Sprague, Washington Girl as Bride on Thursday Afternoon

A wedding of interest to Klamath Falls folks was solemnized at four o'clock Thursday afternoon, August the fifth, when Mildred Irene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frederick Jones of Sprague, Washington, became the bride of Dr. John Davenport Merryman, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Harris Merryman of this city.

The ceremony was recited at the University Methodist chapel in Madison, Wisconsin, where Dr. Merryman is completing his study in medicine. Rev. Oscar M. Adam was the officiating clergyman. Vows were exchanged before an altar banked with pale pink gladioli and ferns with tall candles burning at either side of the flower clusters. Music was played by the chapel organist.

The bride chose a powder blue faille suit with a small white flower hat and matching accessories for her wedding costume. She wore an orchid corsage at the lapel of her jacket.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Merryman Sr., attended the bride. Mrs. Merryman wore a pale green silk suit with white accessories, and a gardenia corsage.

Lieutenant George Harris Merryman Jr., stationed with the ordnance depot, medical corps, at Stockton, California, was his brother's best man.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home in Madison until Dr. Merryman completes his internship.

The new Mrs. Merryman has visited in Klamath Falls and was a guest here the early part of the summer. She has made her home in Portland for the past two years. Dr. Merryman has been in Madison since he was graduated from the University of Oregon school of medicine in Portland this spring.

Dr. and Mrs. Merryman Sr. left for Madison late last week and were joined in Portland by their future daughter-in-law. They are expected home next week after a brief stay in Chicago. Lieutenant Merryman will accompany his parents west, going on to Stockton from here.

Tulelake Women Hear Missionary From the Orient at Meeting

TULELAKE—The Guild of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church were entertained Wednesday, August fourth, at a potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. H. T. Street with Mrs. Roy Easley as co-hostess. Theme of the meeting was "Peace".

During the hour of devotionals, Mrs. J. Merton Brown was leader. Roll call was answered with names of trees mentioned in the Bible and members responded to a call for scripture readings where peace was mentioned. Mrs. Hartsell with Mrs. Elmer Gilliland at the piano sang "Sweet Peace".

Mrs. R. N. McNaughton, a returned missionary from the Orient, read a mother's prayer for her son in the service taken from the American Legion National news. Mrs. Gilliland played "Trees".

Mrs. Tom Newton, chairman of the program committee talked on the need for the recreational and emotional outlet in the care of flowers, which is sorely needed during the stress of war periods. Even with the urgent need for food in the British Isles, England has urged upon her people the continuance of attention to floral culture.

Mrs. Marvin Thomas read the poem published recently in the Klamath Herald and News, "Do This" written by Dale Hunsicker. Dale is now in a naval hospital in the South Pacific.

It was reported that the fire escape project which will give an additional exit from the second floor of the annex is under way and this year because of the difficulty of shipping garments made and purchased for Haynes House in Alaska, cash will be sent to purchase the necessary supplies there.

Mrs. E. D. Lamb, accompanied by Mrs. A. G. Proctor from Klamath Falls, demonstrated a number of flower arrangements for the guests. The next meeting on September first will be at the annex with Mrs. Martin Dingler, Mrs. K. Barkus and Mrs. Orville Hodges as hostesses. Roll call will be on the theme "Work" and Mrs. Hugh Bronson will report on her attendance at Synodical in July. Mrs. A. E. Ryckman will give a talk on social education and action.
