Lakeview Organizations Meet in Schminck Museum To View Relics

LAKEVIEW — Mrs. D. C. Schminck and Mrs. E. B. Follette entertained the Eastern Star Needlecraft and Rebekah Embroidery clubs in the Schminck museum the afternoon of July the twenty-third between the hours of two-thirty and five o'clock. Refreshments were later served at Snyder & Howards.

The glassware section of the museum attracted much attention and pleasant comment. Perhaps the most outstanding display in this department is Mrs. Schminck's collection of 43 different styles of goblets from early American pressed glass. The early American pressed glass is a rarity now, so her collection is quite valuable. The most valuable goblet in her possession is the Westward Ho goblet. This goblet is very picturesque and depicts a buffalo, deer, log cabin, the cabin's well and other pictures of early American life all in the raised glass. This Westward Ho goblet is the one Henry Ford is collecting.

A soup tureen was displayed that had crossed the continent in a covered wagon in the year 1845, when Mrs. Schminck's mother comes to Oregon. The history of this huge tureen can be traced back to the year 1838, and undoubtedly has a history before that time, which is now untraceable.

A set of plates that belonged to Mrs. Schminck's mother, and the water pitcher that stood on the judge's stand in the old Lake county courthouse were also shown to the group.

Around twenty quilts of different patterns were displayed. These quilts had been made by Mrs. Schminck, her mother, and mother-in-law. Many of the patterns were taken from old quilt patterns and were much larger than our present day quilts. The most outstanding quilt of this assemblage was one of an original pansy design created by Mrs. Schminck.

One of the oldest pieces in the museum is a pewter tea pot which belonged to a New England family by the name of Chase in the year 1791.

The museum also contains the original by-laws of the Mt. Pleasant church of Oregon City, the first Baptist church established in Oregon.

The Schminck museum was started in 1936 by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Schminck. The museum originated from the fact that many people would stop at the Schminck home to see their many curios and old pieces, many of which had belonged to their parents and ancestors and which the Schminck's had carefully preserved. The showing of these articles often times necessitated much packing and unpacking to put them on display, so the idea was formulated to have them on display in their large basement.

The museum soon won wide-spread interest and friends and visitors began contributing articles to the collection, so that today the museum would be a definite credit to a community much larger than Lake county. Everything in the museum is cataloged.

Aside from the many articles and pieces on display there are several books full of data and clippings which the Schminck's have gathered. They are working towards the end of gathering as much authentic information as possible covering the articles in the museum, Lake county, and the settling of the Oregon country.

Sometime in the future the museum will go to the Daughters of the American Revolution and will stay in Lakeview in the Schminck home.

PREPARED PECTIN AIDS NOVICE JELLY MAKER

By GAYNOR MADDOX
If you are not an experienced jelly and jam expert, you can still get fine results with prepared pectin recipes. Try these "can't fail" recipes for your fruits now. But follow the directions carefully.

Apricot and Sour Cherry Jam
(10 glasses—8 fluid ounces each)
Three and one-half cups prepared fruit, 7 cups sugar, 1 cup lemon juice, 1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, pit about 1 1/2 pounds fully ripe apricots, cut into small pieces; do not peel. Pit about 1 pound fully ripe cherries; add to apricots. Crush thoroughly or grind. Squeeze juice of 2 medium lemons. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes. Pour quickly. Paraffin at once.

Thriftly Marmalade
(Using orange skins and 2 lemons)
(8 glasses—8 fluid ounces each)
Three and one-half cups prepared fruit, 5 cups sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, use skins from 6 medium oranges and 2 medium lemons and cut in quarters. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about 1/4 or white part. Put yellow rinds through food chopper twice. Add 2 1/2 cups water, juice of 2 lemons, 1 teaspoon soda, and 1 cup sugar. (This 1 cup sugar is in addition to the 5 cups specified above.) Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin at once.

Fort Klamath

Malcolm Stine, who has been employed as driver for the Southern Pacific's PMT freight truck operating between Klamath Falls and Fort Klamath, left August 5 for induction into the U. S. army. His successor, Bert Looman, formerly of Medford, took over his new duties Thursday morning.

Tom Dyche has been working this week at the Algoma mill, having taken the Algoma bulldozer there to remove the steam boilers from the mill, which is being dismantled and the equipment sold. Joe White of Fort Klamath is also employed at the mill. Dyche is employed locally as fire warden on the Yawkey timber tracts which were logged by the Algoma Lumber company during their six-year operations there. When the work of removing the boilers from the mill is completed, Dyche will bring the bulldozer back to Fort Klamath, where it will be kept on the Yawkey tract for fire protection.

Word has just been received here by relatives from Mr. and Mrs. William A. Page, telling of a serious automobile accident in which they were involved while en route home last month from Fort Klamath to Stockton, Calif. When three miles from their destination, they met another car in a head-on collision, Page being thrown through the windshield of his car, and Mrs. Page receiving two broken ribs and severe bruises. Page's injuries were not serious, his face being cut and scratched, and he was able to return to work in a few days. Both cars involved in the collision were demolished, one man, a passenger in the second car, being killed in the accident. Earl Shepherd of Klamath Falls is spending the week at Seven Lakes, camping and fishing. He was taken in to the lakes last week by George Denton, food and supplies being taken in by means of Denton's pack horses, and the trip was also made on Denton's saddle horses. Denton returned the latter part of the week to Seven Lakes to bring Shepherd back. The latter is recuperating from an illness, and the camping trip has been very beneficial.

Mr. and Mrs. Page spent a week's vacation here last month at their Fort Klamath residence, visiting friends and looking after their property while here. They left July 17 to return to Stockton, where they make their home with Mrs. Page's mother. Page is employed in Stockton as foreman in charge of a crew of mechanics in the ordnance depot of the U. S. army, and Mrs. Page is a stenographer in the offices of the Southern Pacific railway there. She has not yet been able to resume her position, according to word received here by relatives.

Page is a partner of his brother, Gus Page, and they have for many years operated the Rainbow garage in Fort Klamath. He and his wife plan to return
