Agata to Acireale through San Fratello, Cesaro, Bronie, Adriano and San Maria Di Licodia were cut to a length of little more than 60 miles. It is about 22 miles from San Agata to the northwest slope of Mount Etna, where allied troops are closing upon Randazzo.

Americans outsmarted the fierce German defenders of San Agata and San Fratello by the seaborne flank attack. The amphibious maneuver via the Tyrrhenian sea completely surprised the strongly fortified garrisons.

The Americans landed unopposed in the enemy rear, captured 300 Germans and drove off others who were moving west as reinforcements.

Family Life

By EARL WHITLOCK
There's an old saying that as the family goes, so goes the nation. It's a fine sentiment, but not quite true, I think, because, for the last generation family life has sort of been on the toboggan and the nation has been doing pretty well, thank you. But it is true, that a sound family life does benefit a nation immeasurably. And it wouldn't do any harm to try to bring back the family spirit which used to be so strong and which has weakened of later years.

Most of us can remember when life began at home. And it stayed there until the natural mating instincts of the young folks scattered their interests. But home was the firm thing that endured. I don't know what caused that. Maybe it was those old sea shells on the wharves in the parlor. Maybe it was that crayon portrait of great grandpa that glared down from the walls. Criticize those homes, if you want to, from modern interior decorating standards. But from the standard of human living they were pretty splendid.

Nobody wants to turn back the clock and take on the many inconveniences of those earlier days. But it would be good if, somehow, we could have again that strong home influence that used to dominate American life.

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral home will comment on Wanted—SEEPS.

NEW DELHI, Aug. 9 (AP)—A party of 19 survivors of the crash of a transport plane, a parachute-jumping doctor and two American soldiers were reported awaiting today in the wild head-hunting territory of northern Burma the arrival of a rescue expedition, hacking its tortuous way through the jungle to them.

The survivors of the plane crash, which included William L. Stanton, a member of the U. S. board of economic warfare; John Davies Jr., second secretary of the American embassy in Chungking, and Eric Seavard, news commentator of the Columbia broadcasting system, were en route to China from India when the four-engine transport developed engine trouble August 2. There were 21 persons aboard the plane, it was announced.

TWO DEATHS CAUSED BY FOOD POISONING

EUGENE, Aug. 9 (AP)—William Kiest, 75-year-old Springfield resident, died in the Sacred Heart hospital here last night two hours after being admitted. Kiest's death was the second fatality in the Lane county food-poisoning case which is still baffling local medics. Dale Mitchell, 2, of Lorane, died last week.

Approximately 40 persons remained hospitalized here. Five were released from the Eugene hospital over the week-end but two returned today for further treatment. Three were released from Sacred Heart, but five new cases were admitted over the weekend.

At least a half dozen of the cases remained in a serious condition. Bacteria tests are being made by state department of agriculture, Salem, the crime detection laboratories at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland, and by the Lane county health department.

AFL Constitution Bars Mine Workers

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's constitution appeared today to be a bar to the immediate readmission of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of America.

The federation's executive council, beginning its summer meeting today, must consider Lewis' application for reinstatement in the light of this condition in its own basic law. "No charter shall be granted by the American Federation of Labor to any national, international, trade, or federal labor union without a positive and clear definition of the trade jurisdiction claimed by the applicant, and the charter shall not be granted if the jurisdiction claimed is a trespass on the jurisdiction of existing affiliated unions, without the written consent of such unions."

gains in preparation for renewed advances. The capture of Bogodukhov, a railway town, and Bolshaya Pisarevka and Tarasovka, all northwest of Kharkov on the upper reaches of the Vorskla river, was considered to have reduced German chances of rushing further reinforcements into that area.

Cut Rail Lines
In capturing Krasnopole, another column of the Russian forces driving in from the north had driven to within 21 miles of Sumy, rich Ukrainian agriculture center which lies about 80 miles northwest of Kharkov. Bogodukhov's fall also severed the second of two rail lines linking Kharkov with Bryansk, rail junction 250 miles northwest of Kharkov also threatened by soviet columns crashing westward from fallen Orel.

rails would be replaced some time tonight.

Big Damage
Railmen at the scene said damage might run as high as $200,000. Engineer of the freight was Otto Kelly of Salt Lake City. He said the train crew was unaware of the bomber crash until after the freight left the track. Pieces of the bomber were strewn over the rails but the main portion cleared the rails.

The fliers crawled from the battered bomber and were aided by the trainmen.

Blue Dies
Blue died in the air base hospital several hours after the accident. Scene of the accident was on the edge of Utah's famed Bonneville salt flats near the Nevada border, where John Cobb of London set a world land speed record of 369 miles per hour in 1939.

17,000 Loyal Japs On Leave from WRA Relocation Centers

SEATTLE, Aug. 9 (AP)—Approximately 17,000 loyal Japanese are on leave from relocation centers and the rate of release will be increased during the next few months. National Director Dillon S. Myer of the war relocation authority said today.

"We feel that the manpower is more valuable outside the centers than in," Myer explained in a Times interview. "The centers, also, are not a good place in which to carry on an Americanization program. I believe, however, that a good many social problems will be solved if the coastal concentrations, the 'little Tokyos' can be broken up."

GREAT POWERS GIVEN GOERING BY CONFERENCE

curte, the army's power now extends to press, production, rationing, foreign affairs and transport. It was said that the army has long been convinced that it would have to take full control of Germany if the nation were forced to fight a defensive war.

Since Hitler was reported left as the nominal head of state under the new setup, the transition apparently has not proved difficult and was not likely to cause repercussions like those which followed the resignation of Benito Mussolini in Italy.

Try to "Win Peace"
(The reported developments in Germany were characterized in London as a "desperate" German attempt to "win the peace even though the war is lost.")

(The London Sunday Dispatch warned that a military dictatorship would have the full consent of nazi party chiefs. "The nazis would just go underground and re-emerge later," the paper said. "The paper also expressed belief that Hitler's removal was, in fact, accomplished several months ago. (Other London comment expressed the view that the shift was nothing more than an attempt to shove the nazi party and Hitler into the background in an effort to gain better terms after the inevitable defeat.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull renewed today his warnings against over-optimism based on recent military and political developments in the European area.

Asked at his press conference whether he shared the optimism of many Americans over the developments in Europe (some have been predicting an end to the war by Christmas), Hull replied that it was always more dangerous to underestimate the duration of the fighting than to overestimate it.

BERN, Switzerland, Aug. 9 (AP)—Berlin dispatches said today that German fears of a multiple allied invasion and recognition of the allied determination to carry the war to a decisive end had prompted the recent urgent meetings between nazi party and army leaders.

The Berlin correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten wrote that propaganda Minister Goebbels told the conferees that the allies planned "to force Germany to her knees by a massive general thrust from all sides."

MAC ARTHUR SPEAKS TODAY from the South Pacific.

"Japan," he says, "has used her FULLEST RESOURCE of concentrated attack on the Pacific fronts, has FAILED, and is now on a DEFENSIVE which will YIELD just in proportion as we GATHER FORCE and definition. When that will be, I don't know, but it is CERTAIN." He adds less formally: "We are doing what we can with what we have. Our resources are still limited, but the results of our modest but continuous successes have been cumulative to the point of being vital."

TO get the full picture, he suggests, imagine the situation turned around the other way, with the Japs accomplishing what we've accomplished. That would have meant our defeat in the Pacific.

WHAT MacArthur really means and has to say cautiously is that with comparatively small military resources (due to the fact that we're using the bulk of our strength in Europe) our heroic fighting men in the Pacific have done a big job, defeating and TURNING BACK the victorious Japs in their drive for Australia.

What he is forecasting is that when we begin to divert some of our strength from Europe we'll give the fanatical Jap plenty of new opportunities to die for his country.
