DELINQUENT INDIAN GIRLS POSE PROBLEM

"What are we going to do with them?"

That was the query anxiously put to County Judge U. E. Reeder in a long distance call from the Louise home for delinquent girls this week in reference to two Klamath Indian girls who went on a rampage the other day at the home, destroying a considerable amount of property before they could be stopped.

The problem was that they could not be taken to jail as they were juveniles; they could not be left at the Louise home; nor could they be committed to a house of correction by the judge here for an act committed in another county.

Judge U. E. Reeder said that he advised the supervisor of the Louise home to take the matter before a federal judge in Portland.

WAR KITCHEN OATMEAL DESSERT IS 'POOR MAN'S SWEET'

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Rolled oats and 100 per cent wholewheat flour are particularly important in wartime menus because they are rich in vegetable protein. Regular rolled oats and quick-cooking rolled oats contain 16.9 per cent whole, and 100 per cent whole-wheat flour contains 13.12 per cent protein.

"Let's make pigs of ourselves. Sounds rather unmanly, and almost impossible in the face of growing food shortages," says Charlotte Adams, popular magazine and radio authority on food. "However, in pushing the pig away from the trough, and taking over his rations such as oats, corn, etc., that's in a measure what we propose to do. But there is going to be a difference between our consumption of grains and the porker's. We're going to make a new man out of cereal. It's going to be more than breakfast food for us—it's going to be varied—good to eat—and good for us."

Mrs. Adams, author of "You'll Eat It Up," selects these two desserts to brighten up your war menus.

Oatmeal-Apple Glaze Two cups cooked oatmeal, 3 firm, tart apples, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup fortified margarine, cinnamon. Pare and core apples and cut into slices a half inch thick. Melt sugar and margarine over a low flame and glaze the apple slices well in this. In a well-greased baking dish, place a layer of cooked oatmeal. Cover with a layer of apples. Sprinkle with a layer of apples. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Continue layering until ingredients are used up. Bake in 375 degrees F. oven 25 minutes. Serve with thin cream.

Poor Man's Sweet Two cups cooked wheat cereal, 1 cup milk, 1/3 cup molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon fortified margarine. Mix ingredients well. Pour into greased, buttered baking dish and bake 40-50 minutes in 375 degrees F. oven.

MENU (Eat the Basic 7 Every Day) BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, ready-to-eat wholewheat cereal, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk. LUNCH: Tomatoes stuffed with creamed left-over vegetables, toasted oatmeal bread, butter or fortified margarine, stewed rhubarb, sliced blueberry sandwich bread, tea, milk. DINNER: Tomato juice, corn and green pepper souffle, crisp bacon, baked potatoes, creamed watercress, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, poor man's sweet, tea, milk.

Beefsteak From Wheat Protein, Wool From Eggs

PORTLAND, Aug. 14 (AP)—Beefsteak from wheat protein and wool from eggs—these things already are being produced.

So declared Dr. H. S. Olcott, research scientist from an Albany, Calif., laboratory yesterday in a meeting of the Oregon farm chemurgic council.

Olcott, exhibited the synthetic beef and wool, but added there were few prospects that either would replace the real thing.

John Boden, in charge of construction of the Grain Products company plant at Heppner, said there were many industrial uses for wheat, he said alcohol plants could easily convert to other products once wartime demand for alcohol declines.
