RUBBERS, FEW SPECIALTIES BUOYANT AREA

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Rubbers, merchandising shares and a few industrial specialties today provided a buoyant area in an otherwise colorless and inactive stock market. Bonds were irregular.

The not uncommon speculative apathy of August continued to reflect itself in the total volume of approximately 500,000 shares in contrast with the more robust daily figures of earlier months.

Peace ideas appeared to influence the buying currents.

Gains in the favored stocks established at the opening were well maintained and near the close the list held a substantial number of plus marks running from fractions to around a point.

In the advanced division were Chrysler, Goodyear, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak and Paramount. DuPont rose more than 3 on a few transactions. Rails were mixed.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—After advancing for gains extending to about 3 cents, rye ran into selling today and lost about half of the previous upturn. Trade was fairly active with fluctuations quite wide as commission houses operated on both sides of the market.

The improved action of rye, which was selling around 15 cents under seasonal peaks, encouraged buyers in the wheat and oats pits. Gains in both grains extended to about a cent at times.

At the close rye was 1¼-2¼c higher, September 99¼-¾c, wheat was up 1-1⅛c, September $1.44⅜ to $1.44⅝, and oats were ahead 1-1⅛c, September 70¼-⅜ cents.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP-WFA) Salable hogs 13,000; total 17,500; weights under 250 lbs. steady; heavier weights 10 cents higher; sows strong to 10 cents higher; good and choice 180-270 lbs. $14.60-80; top $14.85; 270-330 lbs. $14.30-60; 140-170 lbs. $13.75 to $14.65; good and choice 350-550 lb. sows $13.25-75; choice lighter weights to $13.90.

Salable cattle 11,000; calves 800; good and choice fed steers more active; strong with Tuesday's decline; eastern order and shipper demand broader, bulk $14.25-16.25; sizeable supply $15.75-16.50; top $16.75 on weighty steers with best steer yearlings $16.25 and heifer yearling $16.10; heifers steady, bulk $13.50-15.75; cows steady to strong; bulls fully steady weight sausage offerings to $14.35; vealers steady at $15.00-16.00; stock cattle in broader demand at $11.50-13.50, with choice asked and above $14.00.

Four-H News

FORT KLAMATH

Since I haven't reported on the last three meetings of our Victory Food Bombers Garden club, I will now do so.

We met at Joyce Copeland's home July 8. Joyce presided, due to the absence of our president. We had our routine business then our leader passed out some pamphlets that Clifford Jenkins had sent her. She discussed these with us, after which we had the club pledge and some yells. Then we went out and inspected Joyce's garden. We decided that she had a very nice garden.

The next meeting was at Jimmy Dyche's home on July 22. We again went through our routine business after which we discussed the causes of accidents and how to prevent them. After the meeting we went out and inspected Jimmy's garden. We thought his garden very good except it needed some more work done on it.

Our last meeting was held at the home of Billie, Bobbie and Kathryn Wampler on August 12.

Norma Kendall, our secretary, said she was dropping out of the club because their cow had eaten up her garden. Joyce Copeland, our vice president, appointed Kathryn Wampler to take her place.

Following the routine business we discussed home accidents and how to prevent them. Then we went out to inspect their garden. It was very good except the little pigs had gotten in and eaten up the carrots.

Just before we left Mrs. Wampler and Kathryn served us some delicious refreshments.

JOAN LOOSLEY.

WAR KITCHEN

Try "SWEET AND SHARP" RECIPE FOR HOME BAKING

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Because beans have such a high protein content, they are important in our wartime menus. "With a good standard recipe, you can vary the dish according to your taste, sweeter or less sweet, spicy or not, as you will. The one below steers a sort of middle course. It has plenty of the rich brown sweetness of molasses along with the peppy spiciness of mustard and chili sauce, a combination that baked-bean lovers consider extra special.

Home Baked Beans

Two cups dried beans, ½ teaspoon soda, ¼-pound piece salt pork or bacon, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ⅓ cup chili sauce, ⅓ cup molasses, boiling water.

Wash beans and soak in water overnight. In the morning, drain them, cover with fresh water, add soda and simmer until tender. Parboil salt pork or bacon for five minutes in water to cover, drain and score the rind with deep cuts. Drain beans and rinse with cold water. Put in a 2-quart bean pot, and bury the pork with scored top showing. Mix together salt, mustard, chili sauce, molasses with 1 pint of boiling water and add, then add more water until beans are covered. Cover and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) 6 to 8 hours, uncovering them during the last hour. Add water as needed during baking.

Michigan Baked Beans (Serves 6)

One quart beans (already cooked tender in water), 4-ounce piece salt pork, 4 tablespoons molasses or brown sugar, salt.

To the beans that have already been cooked with the salt pork, add the molasses or brown sugar and salt to season. Place in a shallow pan with enough of the bean liquid to moisten well. Slice the salt pork over the top. Brown in the oven.

MENU

(Eat the Basic 7 Every Day)

BREAKFAST: Canned grapefruit juice and apple juice, oatmeal, enriched toast, plum butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Cream of dried lima bean soup, whole wheat toast, cabbage and green pepper salad, stale cake with crushed fruit sauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Baked beans, sausages, stuffed tomato, brown bread, butter or fortified margarine, escarole and raw apple salad, fruit bowl, tea, milk.
