abandoned the extreme north-eastern tip of the island and reached the Calabrian coast where previously the wounded, other axis units and a great part of the material had already been ferried," said the communique recorded by The Associated Press from a Rome broadcast.

(In an axis raid on Bizerte harbor in Tunisia, fires of "great dimensions" were set, the communique said. It asserted that a cruiser near Cape Passero was torpedoed, a merchantman north of Cap Bon damaged and a tanker set afire.

Salerno Hit
(Allied raiders dropped bombs on Castrovillari in Salerno province south of Naples and other places in the Naples district causing damage of "some importance," the war announcement said.

(It added that 183 persons were killed and 1086 injured in three recent RAF raids on Milan.)

So badly torn were the roads on the sorely pummeled toe of Italy that the Germans were trying to move troops and equipment northward by sea along the western coast, and speedy warplanes at once attempted to break up this route.

They destroyed eight vessels of various kinds and damaged 23 others.

ated he was leading up to an attempt to have the purported admission admitted into evidence.

Gurdane released the contents of what he said was Layton's detailed confession of the slaying after Layton was questioned at state police headquarters at Milwaukie July 6. Miss Hildebrand's nude body was found in the Willamette river June 20.

Layton admitted, Gurdane said, raping the girl and later knocking her into the river. Her death was attributed to drowning.

State's witnesses today testified that Miss Hildebrand was a good swimmer. Mrs. Martha Hildebrand, the girl's mother who was recalled, said her daughter learned to swim at the age of seven or eight and another daughter, Helen, 16, also said Ruth was a proficient swimmer.

State Policeman Vernon R. Boyer testified that Layton was "extremely nervous" when arrested June 26 in Newberg on another charge until he was told what the charge was and in what county it was issued.

Italian Mayors Resign in Protest Over Germans

(NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The British radio reported today that the mayors of the Italian cities of Milan, Como and Verona had resigned "in protest against German interference in Italy's internal affairs." The broadcast was recorded by CBS.

coordinated pattern of the allied air offensive which took American Flying Fortresses to other vital factories at Schweinfurt and Regensburg yesterday.

For almost a week the RAF front line bomber fleet from British bases had been concentrating on northern Italian cities. The last big attack on Germany was the raid on Nuernberg the night of August 10.

Berlin Stab
The stab at Berlin by swift Mosquito bombers was the third in four nights, however. They also struck Berlin Saturday and Sunday nights, keeping the German capital's nerves on edge.

Many squadrons of RAF fighters crossed the Straits of Dover in daylight today to continue the furious allied air assault on the continent.

An estimated 50 German raiders made widely scattered attacks on Britain during the night, causing casualties and damage in East Anglia and other parts of eastern and southeastern England.

FOR PUTS TEETH IN WLB DECISIONS

five blow in the pocketbook, at least for those having the check-off system of dues collection. They would be deprived of dues taken out of members' pay envelopes pending compliance. The money then would be turned over to them.

The broad statement of policy, effective at once, is enunciated under the recently-enacted Connally-Smith anti-strike act. The White House made public a letter to Chairman William H. Davis of the WLB and an executive order empowering Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson to proceed against recalcitrants as reported to him by the board.

Speculation
Speculation immediately arose as to whether the WLB would cite John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, or the United States Gypsum Co., regarded by the WLB as the principal union and management non-compliers to date. Board members declined to comment.

Meanwhile, it was indicated in informed quarters that the authorizations given Vinson plus an authorization to Interior Secretary Ickes to put selected coal mines on a 48-hour work week were parts of a program laying the groundwork for return of some of the government-seized mines to private control in the near future.

Property Return
The anti-strike law requires return of property taken over by the government within 60 days after it has been restored to productive efficiency, and it was indicated that Ickes, as boss of the government-operated mines, views the lengthening of the work week as one means of restoring productive efficiency by making up for the loss of miners to the draft and to high-paying war industries.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—The war labor board (WLB) took over the anthracite wage dispute today and ordered a hearing Monday in Washington.

It sent telegrams to John L. Lewis, president, and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer, of the United Mine Workers, "inviting them to appear for a 10 a. m. session.

Germans Fear Allied Invasion Of France Next

Germans know the air blows against air fields in the vicinity of Marseille yesterday and on the north coast of France the previous day "must be connected with higher military strategy dealing with the start of another European front."

American daylight bombings were reported prompting axis satellite Hungary to prepare to declare Budapest an open city. Budapest residents discovered when the Liberators went to Wiener Neustadt last week how close the allied war is coming to Hungary. Several of the bombers flew right over the capital.

CHAMBER TO SEND MAN TO PORTLAND

The chamber of commerce executive committee voted Wednesday to send a representative to Portland September 2 to appear before a house sub-committee on reclamation appropriations.

It is expected the Klamath representative, who will probably be Secretary Earl Reynolds of the chamber, will present general information on the Klamath reclamation project. Funds for construction work on the project, until recently frozen by the WPB, have been released so construction can go ahead.

The executive committee considered a recommendation of a candidate to fill the directorship vacancy caused by the resignation of Don Drury. Action on this will be taken at next Wednesday's directors meeting.

ed by the soviet summer offensive to strike Germany from the west, and repeated the call for a second front.

"Only such an operation can cut down the length of the war to any considerable extent," the newspaper said.

The Germans revised their strategic plans since their defeat in the battle for Kursk, it continued, and decided in a special assembly of military and political leaders at Hitler's headquarters to resort to a stubborn defense effort to prolong the war and "delay the imminent catastrophe."

Cost Figuring Forms Supplied to Klamath Milk Producers

Forms are being supplied to Klamath basin milk producers by the OPA on which to figure income from sales and costs of production, Clifford Jackson, OPA price specialist, said today.

Unless the forms are filled out properly and sent in to the office, the OPA field station here is powerless to make any move to relieve ceiling pressure on the producers, Jackson stressed. Forms have already been mailed in most cases, and any other producer wishing to fill in the form may request one from the OPA.

ing all winter, spring and summer getting large forces into position ALL AROUND the perimeter of the German "fortress" of Europe.

All we outsiders can do is to guess, but it LOOKS as if we might now be in a position to STRIKE in the Balkans in Italy, in Mediterranean France or in Norway.

That's a WIDE RANGE of choice, and its very wideness must worry the Germans greatly. The more places your enemy CAN hit you, the more nervous you're likely to be.

IT isn't certain (to us outsiders) that we WILL strike (on the ground) at any of these points where we COULD strike if a Sunday punch seemed advisable from the standpoint of over-all strategy.

Our high-up leaders—whose information about the enemy's strength or weakness is reasonably accurate, whereas ours is merely guesswork—may decide to spend the long winter nights battering Germany from the air instead of wading in now for the kill.

WE on the outside just simply don't know enough to make predictions that are worth the paper they are written on. We have to take ours out in guessing.

WHETHER the war in Europe ends surprisingly soon or lasts discouragingly long will depend on whether the Germans crack up or have to be killed off.

This writer has a notion that the insiders don't know a lot more about that than we do. Psychological crack-ups are hard to predict.

Congressional Talks Denounced as "Political Pow-Wow"

(MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 18 (AP)—Elmer F. Kelm, state democratic chairman, today denounced as "nothing but an ill-smelling political pow-wow," the two-day congressional conference held here with northwest trade groups.

Kelm said the conference was "deliberately designed by republicans as a succession of attacks upon President Roosevelt."

"It appears to have been rigged from start to finish to bring out all the complaints that could be mustered against the new deal and ballyhoo them from a congressional springboard," he said.

sectors to the north also met tougher going.

(German broadcasts declared the soviets were attacking all along the winding battlefield, staging new attacks in the Izyum area in the Donets basin south-east of Kharkov, and local assaults near Staraya Russa and the Neva sector near Leningrad on the northern front. Russian attacks near Izyum were broken after heavy fighting, Berlin declared.)

Battle reports from the Kharkov sector said the red army—which had forged a ring around the Ukrainian city from three sides—had repulsed the Nazi counterattacks and improved its own positions at some points.

New Tactics
The Germans were reported to have adopted new tactics, shifting the direction of the counterblows frequently, probing for soft spots in the Russian lines. This indicated they were preparing to go over from the defensive to a full-fledged counter-offensive if they could find an opening.

Pushed back within 15 miles of the central front bastion of Bryansk, the Germans likewise were using reserves of tanks and planes in stubborn defense there.

(A British radio broadcast heard by CBS said the red army was within 12 miles of Bryansk.)
