Klamath Society at Premiere "This Is the Army"

KLAMATH FALLS turned out full force Wednesday night for the premiere of "This Is the Army," the Irving Berlin stage show which has been made into a movie.

The crowds came away feeling as if they had gotten their money's worth because they witnessed not only the motion picture but a full hour of entertainment by an army band and entertainers from Camp White.

Everyone came out in their best bib and tucker for the occasion and The Herald and News photographer was on hand to snap some of them for the benefit of this page.

Since it was a soldier show, the soldiers from Camp White came in for their share of the picture-taking when they posed with Vivian Gillette, pretty usherette on duty in the lobby.

To the committee in charge of the show, should go a large share of the credit for making the premiere the success it was. Members of the committee were Marshall Cornett, chairman, Mayor John Houston, Mrs. Franklin Weaver, Malcolm Epley and Glen Hout. Working with them were Major Paul Walters, Lieutenant Kenneth Luckey and Lieutenant Leon Verlinger.
