

CONGRESSMAN DEFENDS WRA JAP HANDLING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — "Crying 'prejudice,'" Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa.) came to the defense of the war relocation authority (WRA) today with a declaration that most of the statements in a house subcommittee report on the handling of Japanese-Americans "are not proven."

The Pennsylvania, dissenting member of a three-man Dies subcommittee on un-American activities, issued a minority report describing the recommendations of his two colleagues as "feeble" and "meaningless."

Moreover, Eberharter said the evidence "completely rebutted" charges that the Japanese were getting more and better food than the average American.

Asserting food costs in the relocation centers averaged only about 40 cents a day per person, Eberharter expressed the opinion that the WRA, considering the difficulties involved, had acted "efficiently and capably."

"I think it is better to let the war relocation authority carry on unhampered by unfair criticism," he added.

The majority report, approved by Chairman Costello (D-Calif.) and Mundt (R-S. D.), said the WRA had released 23 members of the Butoku-Kai, an organization which it described as a subversive youth branch of the Black Dragon society.

This, the majority said, "is evidence of the incompetence of the WRA to exercise proper safeguards both for the national security and for the thousands of loyal Japanese as well."

BOXES OBTAINABLE FOR GIFTS TO MEN

Another supply of wooden boxes in three sizes designed for sending Christmas presents or other gifts to men in the armed forces is now available at the chamber of commerce.

There is no actual charge for the boxes, but contributions, the proceeds of which all goes to the Commandos, are appreciated. The boxes are made by the Pelican Bay Lumber company and given to the chamber of commerce free through the courtesy of H. D. Mortenson.

Klamath citizens are reminded that all prisoners of war boxes must be mailed by August 27.

TEHERAN, Iran, Aug. 25 (AP) — Ivan Maitsky, Russian vice commissioner for foreign affairs, arrived here today from Moscow en route to London, where he formerly was soviet ambassador.

No official explanation for the trip was immediately given, but it was possible that Maitsky was returning to make his formal farewell at the British capital.

BARBER EXAMINERS SET HAIRCUT PRICE

State board of barber examiners issued a minimum price schedule for Klamath and 23 other counties Wednesday, but it will not affect Klamath prices, already well over the minimum.

Under the order, no barber in the affected counties can charge less than 65 cents for a haircut and 35 cents for a shave.

Throughout Klamath county, the price already in effect is 75 cents for a haircut and 50 cents for a shave. Barbers said there is no probability that the prices here will be brought to the minimum level set by the state board.

And the fighting weather in the Balkans will last much longer than the fighting weather in western Europe.

OF one thing we may be sure. We're sure we're following a general plan, not just barging ahead blindly from day to day. This plan is better understood by the German high command than by us guessers here at home.

There are no discernible signs of cocksureness on the part of the nazis high command. On the contrary, the job that has just been given to gestapo Himmler is a distinct sign of uneasiness.

New Portland City Commissioner Out

PORTLAND, Aug. 25 (AP) — Clark C. Van Fleet, who succeeded the late Ralph C. Clyde as city commissioner three days ago, was disqualified today because he lived 150 feet outside the city limits.

Van Fleet was ruled out by the city charter which requires residence within the city for three years immediately prior to service as mayor or commissioner. He moved outside the city in 1941 but returned in a short time.

HAIL AND FAREWELL

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., (AP) — The employment problem is something of a headache these days.

A pretty, blonde girl walked into a Cambridge restaurant and asked for a job during the rush hour.

The proprietor decided to test her out as cashier. Things went smoothly until he had to go to the kitchen for a minute.

When he returned the girl was missing — so was $21 in cash.

ment, heard his words. So did other millions around the world to whom the address was broadcast.

Canadians and Americans have fought side by side, Mr. Roosevelt said, in a war violently forced upon them "by criminal aggressors who measure their standards of morality by the extent of the death and the destruction that they can inflict upon their neighbors."

Victory Gives Opportunity

Today, in devout gratitude, he added, the two peoples celebrate a brilliant victory won in Sicily and rejoice in the headlong retreat of the Japanese from Kiska island, their last foothold in the new world.

Absolute victory in the war

Post-war Talk

It is no secret, Mr. Roosevelt said, that there was much talk of the post-war world at Quebec, but he failed to go into any details. Dramatically, for the hundreds of thousands of Canadians of French descent, the chief executive had a closing paragraph in their own language.

"My visit to the old city of Quebec," he said, "has recalled vividly to my mind that Canada is a nation founded on the union of two great races. The harmony of their equal partnership is an example to all mankind—an example everywhere in the world."

From a platform carpeted with red plush, Mr. Roosevelt surveyed an audience assembled on the green lawns in a square enclosed on three sides by majestic parliamentary buildings. He was introduced by Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada.
