AUGUST BOND SALE MAY BE OVER QUOTA

Possibility that the August war bond quota for Klamath county has been reached was reported Monday by A. M. Collier, county war savings chairman.

A report from the state administrator's office showed that up to the third week of August Klamath's sales hit $191,979. The quota was $233,000.

Collier said the last week's sales may have put Klamath over the top again. A final report will not be available for a few days.

The war savings chairman pointed out that there was a buying surge at the end of the month, after the American Legion appeal to Klamath people when it became clear the quota was in jeopardy.

The third week report showed Klamath well ahead of many other counties. Lake county, however, was over the top for the entire month, with 103 per cent.

TEACHERS TALK PROBLEMS OF COMING YEAR

School problems for the coming year were brought before local teachers Monday morning when three state education officials addressed a joint assembly of city and county teachers at Klamath Union high school. Today's meeting was a preliminary to the official opening of school Tuesday when students are to report at 9 a. m.

Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction, was first to speak at the meeting.

Definition

"The new definition of a teacher," said Putnam, "is a person, usually a woman, who cooperates with every city, county and federal agency in training boys and girls between 6 and 17 years of age to work for the Red Cross, register every man, woman and child in United States, drive jeeps, peeps, etc. and in general teaching everything but reading, writing and arithmetic from a building originally known as a schoolhouse."
"I want to assure you that we in the state department are cooperating with every agency that helps shorten the war, but we must not forget our responsibility in giving boys and girls a sound fundamental training with the other things gradually worked in."

Hills Talks

Next to speak was Joy Hills of the state department of education.

"Teachers are even more important than farmers," Miss Hills said. "Teachers work with more than food, they work with the country's most precious resource—young people."

Miss Hills said that teachers should try to develop in children above all certain techniques in investigating and solving problems for themselves.

She explained in 1944 there are to be a number of changes in school textbooks and that this year a new third grade book called "Stories of Oregon" will be in use soon in Oregon schools.

Dr. Frank Parr in his address said that the future of education in Oregon is much brighter than in the past.

Advantage

"One advantage in the shortage of teachers now is that for the first time the public realizes that it can't buy us teachers for 10 cents a dozen. They have to pay us, and they are happy to do it."

Salaries this year start from $1200 a year instead of the $800 or lower in previous years.

The talks at the morning meeting were preceded by a business meeting, group singing and two violin solos by John O'Connor accompanied by Mrs. O'Connor.

In the afternoon session, county teachers met at Altamont Junior high school for group meetings and city teachers met in groups in various city schools.

116,170 "Ideas for Victory" FROM G. M. WAR WORKERS

... and General Motors Is Rewarding That Spirit at the Rate of a Million Dollars a Year

Floyd C. Fox, a General Motors employe for 27 years, has received two $1,000 War Bonds for suggestions to improve methods of manufacturing parts of an aviation engine.

For a suggestion resulting in simplification of machine gun manufacture, submitted after she had worked in the gun plant only six months, Miss Esther Wrona received a $1,000 War Bond.

In all of its 112 plants in 50 cities of the United States and Canada, General Motors encourages employe suggestions for aiding war production, through a carefully planned system of awards. General Motors has always welcomed suggestions from employes. In fact, there have been similar suggestion plans in various G.M. plants for years, and it was thought that an expansion of these plans in these times would increase war production efficiency.

As a result, G.M. war workers have to date contributed 116,170 written ideas. Yes, written ideas. Many of them good ideas, "Victory Ideas." Nearly 20,000 of them have been winning ideas and have been put into operation. For the open mind policy of General Motors records a fair test to every suggestion.

Eight thousand four hundred ideas were submitted the very first month. They are now coming in at a monthly rate of better than 10,000, or a yearly rate of one idea for every three workers.

Thus, the individual war workers of General Motors are being given full opportunity to add their bit to the continuing contributions of management, supervision and engineering, in those activities which deal with increasing production, saving materials, lowering costs and promoting plant safety.

Helping Those Who Help America

In the first 15 months' operation of its plan to reward workers for ideas that assist our war effort, General Motors paid out $660,895 in War Bonds and Stamps. And today the awards are being made at the rate of better than a million dollars a year.

General Motors considers that money well spent. It is a merited reward to those who help America. It is a proper incentive for individual initiative. It is one form of appreciation to those who think as they work—who are not content merely to perform the requirements of their jobs.

Something Better, Faster

Americans are always interested in finding ways to do things better and faster.

This American spirit among General Motors men and women—now also increased by the desire to help win Victory and to back the men at the war fronts—accounts for their inspiring performance.

There must be a great inward satisfaction for all who have submitted suggestions, in the realization that they have made some effort out of the ordinary to help win the war.

They can say of themselves, as General Motors says—"Victory Is Our Business!"

SOME FACTS REGARDING G.M. EMPLOYE AWARDS

Total suggestions to date	116,170
Present monthly rate of suggestions	10,021
Suggestions put into effect	19,938
Amount in awards to date (purchase price of War Bonds and Stamps)	$660,895
Present yearly rate of awards	$1,087,440
Maximum award (War Bond, face value)	$1,000

The character of the suggestions accepted is indicated by the following proportions of amounts paid in awards:
War production ideas— to increase production, save materials or reduce costs 68.9%
Ideas to increase safety 21.8%
Miscellaneous ideas 11.5%
Details of the General Motors plan to encourage employe suggestions will gladly be sent to interested individuals or companies.

We All Can Help!

In addition to their contributions of ideas to help win the war—and to the vital importance of their regular jobs in supplying war materials—General Motors men and women are participating in all forms of war activities. . . . They have set aside more than 10 per cent of their wages for War Bonds! War Bonds buy war materials. And the more we give in materials, the fewer lives we'll give for Victory.
