Program Planned By Library Club

Klamath Falls Woman's Club Enjoys Luncheon and Fall Flower Show on Monday

"Victory Gardens" was the theme of the 1943 fall flower show and luncheon arranged by the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club at the Willard hotel last Monday afternoon at one o'clock, and despite the fact that many of our lady folks are working these days there was a turnout of one hundred and twenty-five.

The luncheon and show officially opened the year for the club. Mrs. Roland E. Oakes, president, presided and introduced her officers and the standing committee heads for the year. These were seated at the long table at the head of the room with smaller tables arranged for twenty.

Music was provided by Mrs. D. E. Zumwalt who introduced Mr. Dean Stephens who sang three delightful numbers, "The White Road Westward", "The Big Bass Viol" and "Without a Song". Mrs. Zumwalt accompanied.

Diminutive Diane Micka, pupil of Isadora Muldovan, was an instant favorite with the guests when she danced a tap and hula number. Miss Wilson accompanied.

Mrs. Ernest D. Lamb read a history of Library club which was most interesting, especially to the older members of the organization. Introduced during the luncheon hour also were Mrs. Walter West, sixth district president of the federation, and Mrs. Rollo C. Groesbeck, state chairman of Doernbecher hospital for children in Portland.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Beauford E. Hayden and Mrs. E. M. Raymond.

Luncheon chairman was Mrs. Frank Hamblet. The next meeting of Library club is slated for Monday afternoon, October the eleventh, at two o'clock in the library auditorium at which time a talk by Helen of Tacoma, Washington, whose topic will be, "Attics," will be the guest speaker. All women of the city are invited to affiliate with Library club and dues may be paid at the next meeting. The club is open to any interested woman.

School Party Opens Season

Club Members Enjoy Back-to-School Costume Affair

Wednesday club of St. Paul's Episcopal church entertained guests on Wednesday evening in the parish house with a "School Days" party at which members of the executive committee, Mrs. W. R. Hibbs, Mrs. James Patterson, Mrs. Harold Shaffer and Mrs. John Schubert were hostesses. Guests arrived in school costumes. The old fashioned school mar'm was personified by Mrs. Patterson, with the school master in true Ichabod Crane attire being Mrs. Richard Hibbs. Honors for the cleverest costume went to Mrs. William Hearing.

Twelve tables of bridge were in play during the evening with high score held by Mrs. Percy Webb, low by Mrs. Wyatt Padgett. The Reverend Frederick C. Wissenbach entertained the guests by character drawings during the party hours.

The next meeting of the Wednesday club will be a "Dues Paying" party at the parish house on October the sixth.

Klamath Women Find Plenty To Do

Surgical Dressings and Canning Make Up the Busy Schedule Now Under Way

Once upon a time all the people we knew were simply busy doing practically nothing and up to their ears in what might be termed personal enterprises. Right now no one is interested in what new pattern you're crocheting for a tidy, but how much time you're giving to surgical dressings and how the grape jelly turned out. Or, my dear, DID you find any wild plums?

There is a great need for workers at the surgical dressings project center at the Red Cross rooms on Main street. You can go during the day or in the evening. The various Parent-Teacher organizations in the city are becoming quite interested and already Fair-haven PTA has set a day for their workers. On Tuesday a project worker will speak on the subject before the Riverside PTA at the first meeting of that group. At the Library club luncheon and fall flower show this past Monday, Mrs. Rose Poole and Mrs. Lafayette Stephens appeared, right fetching in their Red Cross blues, too, and Mrs. Poole asked for support of the surgical dressings project. Mrs. Poole represented administration, Mrs. Stephens the production department.

A number of bridge clubs, so we understand, are going to the Red Cross rooms at night and then after completing their stint, retire to the home of a hostess and have their snack. Running neck and neck and to a photo finish with working down town, have been the canners on the home front. Everything from peaches and pears to corn and beans. A lot of this year's pressure cooking was done by girls who had never seen a pressure cooker before. They all swear a good time was had by all—but the sight of a jar right now is a bit wearisome.

There isn't much travel to report these times. A few people have returned to our midst including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mack and young Becky who will soon be domiciled in the O. J. Horne residence at 1940 Lowell street which they purchased shortly after coming back from Portland. Mrs. Mack and daughter are in Ashland at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Horne and family will leave next week for Marshfield where Mr. Horne goes into business. They will be greatly missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Constans have returned to these parts after an absence of seven years which they have spent in Denver, Colorado. With their two children, Robert, 12, and Virginia, 10, they are at home in Dorris where Mr. Constans is in the lumber business. They have made frequent visits here since coming back and people are very happy to see them.

Mrs. Frank Pierce Drew and young David are back for a time from Portland. They have visited at the N. B. Drew home and until Sunday will be with Mr. and Mrs. John Coppage and Johnny and Ben. Mrs. Drew will return to Portland the first of October. L. J. (J.G.) Drew writes from England that all is well.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Drew with Cecil Drew of Mesa, Arizona, are on a deer hunting trip in the Lakeview country. Newest addition to the Drew family is little Diane Faye who arrived at the Greer Drew home just about two weeks ago. Mother and daughter are now home from Hillside hospital.

Here for a brief visit a short time ago was Mrs. Peter Cartwright and very small Danny and they have now gone back to Portland. Mrs. A. L. Crawford is in Portland with her daughter for a time. Staff Sergeant Cartwright now writes from the South Pacific.

Leaving our town for King City, California, were Mrs. Burge Mason Jr. and Gloriana and John. They have taken a house on Reich street and the children are back in school. Burge is instructing at the King City air base. Our son has received one letter from John liberally sprinkled with kisses for the family.

Mrs. J. Fred Flock leaves October the first for Eugene to join Mr. Flock and Margaret. They have taken a house on East Nineteenth street and Margaret will enter her second year of high school in Eugene. A number of informal affairs are being planned for Mrs. Flock before she leaves. That was quite a reunion between Lieut.-Comm. Walter B. Martin and his three year old son, Steve, after papa's absence of more than a year and a half in the South Pacific. The Martins accompanied Mrs. Leslie W. Peate to the Peate's summer place at Lake O' the Woods on Friday afternoon. They will be joined for the weekend on Saturday by Dr. Peate. The Martins leave here next week for his new post on shore.

Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke left on a moment's notice for San Francisco where she had two days with Lt. (s.g.) Roenicke who has now left for duty in the South Pacific with the United States navy. His return to San Francisco was quite a surprise as the farewells were said two weeks ago. Dr. Roenicke has been at Farragut, Idaho. The three little Roenicks were guests of Dr. and Mrs. James Hilton during mama's absence. Expected here the latter part of the month, probably around September twenty-seventh, are Mr. and Mrs. George Clark and children, Nancy and Dick. They will be at the N. H. Bogue ranch home near Merrill while here and George will probably get in a little hunting. The Clarks moved to Portland more than a year ago from Klamath Falls.
