Now, it's Star-Spangled, too!

Last week a new star rose over busy Richmond Refinery, a star just added by the Army and Navy to the "E" pennant awarded the Refinery men and women earlier this year.*

And it's a star that men in the fighting fronts can steer by, a promise that—to the very limit of our capacity—their submarines and planes and tanks will get the fuels and lubricants they need.

The men and women at Standard of California's Richmond Refinery know that their star-spangled "E" flag is not only a reward; it's a responsibility, too. And this they pledge—that until our fighting men have won victory, our men and women on the home front will be backing them up with all their might.
