August Andrieu Gets Lake Land

MERRILL—Nine hundred and twenty acres of farm land of the Molschenbacher estate located on Lower Klamath lake were transferred early this month to August Andrieu, Merrill, which brings Andrieu's holdings on the lake to 100 acres. 180 acres of land adjacent to the newly acquired property was bought by Andrieu last January. He also owns extensive farm land holdings in the Merrill community.

A pioneer of the Lower Klamath lake district, he arrived here in 1907, engaging in livestock raising and general farming. No consideration on the transaction was made public.

3 STEERS, HORSE LOST IN FLAMES

LAKEVIEW, Sept. 21 (Special)—Three prized steers and a saddle horse perished Tuesday evening in a fire of unknown origin that totally destroyed the big barn owned by C. A. Thomas, across the tracks west of Lakeview. Among the animals was "Bond Boy," the war bond bull to be auctioned off in October. The purebred Hereford sire was donated by Jim Clark to the Lake county war bond sales committee last April and was to be used this month in connection with the Third War Loan drive. The animal was being cared for and fattened by C. A. Thomas for the coming auction. "Bond Boy" was insured for $400, and will be replaced by another bull so that the planned auction will not be disrupted.

Squelching of Reckless Minority Among Hunters Urged By Wiesendanger

By WALTER WIESENDANGER, too, that fire destroys game. Most deer hunters are good sportsmen, and good woodsmen. They know that a mark of the woodsman is the care with which he uses fire in the forests. They know that every match and cigarette should be put out, and that every campfire should be drowned dead. The real sportsman knows,

Resignation Leaves Lake County Without Public Health Nurse

LAKEVIEW—Due to the resignation of Alice Stout, health nurse on the Klamath county health department staff, who has been giving part-time service to Lake county since January of this year, Lake county is now without public health nursing service.

Because of the war there is such a shortage of public health nurses that at present there is no one in view to take Miss Stout's position.

Malin Grade School Enrollment Totaled

MALIN—Enrollment in the Malin grade school has reached 170, and all are children from permanent families, according to school officials. Present registration is the largest in the history of the building.

Mrs. Otto Schultz has been added to the faculty to teach the second grade. Mrs. Irene Jelinek is in charge of the third. Mrs. Mildred Lahoda the fourth. May Taylor the fifth, Mrs. Fred Gordon the first, and Joe La-Clair the sixth.

Merrill

The Lost River Garden club will meet Tuesday afternoon, September 28, at the home of Mrs. M. A. Bowman with Mrs. Scott McKendree as program chairman. Members during the afternoon will be asked to identify bark, leaves and flowers of various plants, shrubs and trees. Recent guests at the E. H. Clemens' home were Corporal and Mrs. Beauford Clemens, Camp Hann, Calif., and Corporal Clemens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clemens, Klamath Falls.

Yes, the majority of deer hunters know these things, and follow the rules of the game. But it seems that every year there is a careless, reckless or ignorant minority, who don't know, or who don't care. For every year, the deer hunting season brings its quota of forest fires, especially if it happens to be dry. Every year fires are started by neglected hunters' fires, or from hunters' cigarettes. And what this minority does, gives a black eye to sportsmen in general, in the opinion of the public.

Let's make it a special project this year to watch for these birds, and see that they are properly squelched. We can make a game of it. We can see that the man who is responsible for starting a forest fire is an outcast among real sportsmen. We can help train the tenderfoot who is out for the first time, and who doesn't yet know how to play fair with the forest.

It is especially important that we do these things in this war-time year of 1943. We ought to do them every year. So, to each deer hunter: May you get a nice, fat buck, and may you help and do your part to keep our forests free from fire.

NURSES LEARN SISTER KENNY POLIO METHOD

Five Klamath nurses returned this weekend from Portland where they received instruction in the famous Sister Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis. Three of the nurses, Mrs. Lydia Fricke Howard of the Klamath county health unit, Mrs. Ethel Millard, superintendent of the county isolation hospital, and Mrs. Naomi Miller, former county health nurse, were sent to Portland by the infantile paralysis fund committee. Two others went independently. They were Mrs. Helen Held and Mrs. Edna Carnahan, registered nurses.

The institute was held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the University of Oregon Medical school, lectures conducted in the school library and demonstrations and practical work at Doernbecher hospital for crippled children and the Multnomah county isolation hospital.

Klamath's women were instructed in the revolutionary method which was evolved by the Australian nurse who many years ago found herself faced with treatment of polio patients and no help. She developed the treatment which stressed the use of hot packs and muscle re-education. In turn, the nurses will demonstrate to local medical personnel the Kenny treatment. Dr. Peter H. Rozendal, Klamath county health officer, said Tuesday that only two positive cases and one suspected case have occurred thus far in Klamath county, each of the cases reported from widely separated sections. One child is in Doernbecher hospital.
