

AIRPORT GETS OFFICIAL OKAY BY CAA

The Klamath civil air patrol airport on Lower Klamath lake Thursday was given an official designation by the civil aeronautics authority.

Inspectors Requa and Skidmore of the CAA flew here Thursday, looked over the field, and gave it their official approval. They gave a temporary designation until the final papers come through from Washington.

Flying from the field is now permitted and it is listed among the designated airports of the area.

It is located near Warden. One runway has been completed, another is nearing completion, and lumber is being moved in for construction of an office.

About 10 planes will be moved to the field in the near future.

BACKWARD BILLY

CHICAGO — With only three legs to stand on, Chico, a small white goat owned by James Mariano is getting along okay, almost as well as most goats who have the regular number appendages.

Chicago, born two weeks ago with a right foreleg and two hind legs, has learned to move around with considerable ease. However, Chico's mode of travel differs from that of other goats in one way—he moves backward.

SP ASKS CHILDREN TO BE CAREFUL

An appeal to children to safeguard themselves by avoiding acts of carelessness around war-busy railroad cars and tracks has been issued through the public schools by the Southern Pacific company, L. B. McDonald, vice president in charge of operations for the railroad, revealed today.

Boys and girls who are old enough to drive automobiles, and those who ride bicycles, are urged to approach all crossings prepared to stop, and are warned against trying to "beat the train."

Youngsters are further warned not to play around railroad cars, climb on them or crawl under them on side tracks or in trains. When crossing tracks, children should never run across when trains are in sight. Before crossing a track, they should look both ways, listen and make sure no train or engine is coming.

Planes Take Over Battle Against Mormon Crickets

BOISE, Idaho, May 10 (AP)—It's "bombs away" next week in modern aerial warfare against crop-destroying mormon crickets in eastern Idaho.

Low-flying planes will spread poison bait over approximately 100,000 acres in four counties described by the U. S. department of agriculture as the most intensely infested cricket area in the nation this year.

The bait, sifted out at the rate of 20 pounds per acre and so evenly livestock and birds cannot pick it up, is spread over rangeland across which the wingless grasshopper, must migrate to reach croplands.

Airplanes were used for the first time last year and with outstanding success, according to Dr. Claude Wakeland, chief of the grasshopper control division, department of agriculture.

In 1938 there were 18,000,000 infested acres in 10 western states. This year only an estimated 1,000,000 acres are infested, primarily in eastern Idaho, Wyoming, Nevada and Oregon.

Poison distributing planes last year registered a 90 per cent kill in tests in two eastern Idaho counties, Keith E. Evans of Ida-
