Faithful Few Gather Mondays

Monday night is reserved for the gentlemen of the town at surgical dressings headquarters at Red Cross rooms and the women in charge want to give the faithful few a hand. A service stripe, of 150 consecutive hours during 1943, goes to Fred E. Fleet, veteran of many a bandage fold.

Along with Mr. Fleet have been the following who turn out regularly every Monday night and were especially in evidence in the month of April, J. C. Clezhorn, Harold G. Bunch, Charles F. Scharfenstein, L. Orth Sisemore, G. W. Sample and Malcolm Epley.

Greeted back Monday were a few old-time members of the class, L. F. Kirkpatrick, J. J. Steiger Sr. and L. R. Brown. Newcomers are Bill and G. W. Martin.

Hours are from 7 to 10 o'clock and all men in the city are welcome to attend. Night instructors are Nellie LaMothe, Olive C. Riach, Effie Redkey, Nell Hancock, Ethelyn Hunt, Mrs. J. C. Clezhorn, Maude Goeller and Jessie Lyle. These same women also give many hours during the day.

Past Matrons

Aloha Past Matrons club members met for a delightful luncheon followed by cards at 1 o'clock Friday in the Masonic temple with Mrs. Walter West, Mrs. L. F. Willits, Mrs. George Chastain and Mrs. Bernice Mend as hostesses.

Mrs. George Casper received the guest award of the day and honors in bridge went to Mrs. O. R. Holloway.

Members voted to continue summer meetings during June, July and August and these social gatherings will have Mrs. H. G. Wortley as the June hostess, Mrs. J. F. Penrod in July and Mrs. Oscar Peyton in August. Mrs. Wortley will visit the sick during June.

A guest of the afternoon was Mrs. Cora Sanderson of Union, Oregon, past matron of Aloha, who told of the Past Matrons club meetings in La Grande.

Mrs. H. F. Murdoch has visited in Eugene as the guest of Mrs. J. Fred Flock, Mrs. Oscar Peyton has just returned from a visit in Portland with her family, and Mrs. J. H. Poppy was a recent visitor in southern California. All gave interesting highlights of their visits. Mrs. Elizabeth Norris, president of the club, presented a farewell gift to Mrs. Poppy who leaves soon with her husband to make their home in Portland on Foster road. The Poppy's came to Klamath Falls in 1931 from Minneapolis and their many friends made during the intervening years regret their departure from the city.

St. Paul's Picnic

Members of the vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal church are making plans for the summer picnic to be held at Moore park Sunday, June 4, at 2 p. m. It was announced by Rev. Frederick C. Wissenbach.

Ice cream will be provided and those attending will bring picnic baskets. There will be an old fashioned games program with races of all kinds. Members of the church and their friends are invited to attend.

The small fry in our family are slightly embarrassed because, a few seeing "Buffalo Bill" mamma went into great detail about the time she thrilled through Buffalo Bill in the flesh during his wild west show days. It seems that the days of Buffalo Bill and biting dust Indians go beyond the year of 1812 in their minds. Well!

From Buckley Field, Colorado, comes a little story we think you'll be interested in reading, Pvt. Robert A. Kent, the Glenn Kent boy, turned tables on his mother on Mother's Day. All through the year Bob has been haunting his mail orderly for packages from mom's kitchen. This year, Mrs. Kent received a cake from her son who is a patient in the Buckley Field hospital recovering from an attack of rheumatic fever. Individual layer cakes decorated with the words "To Mother," were baked by the mess personnel of the station hospital for soldier-patients at the field who were confined to their beds and unable to shop for a remembrance for mother this year. Mrs. Kent received flowers, too, she reports.

Then the staff photographer walked through the hospital and took pictures of the only two boys who had as their pin-up girls, their mothers. One of the two was Bob, who had Mrs. Kent's picture on his bedside table.

When the Commandos sent out an SOS for dish towels and silverware they received a very gratifying response and most generous was the contribution from Al Fidler, a veteran of World war I who loaded up with four dozen pieces of silverware and presented them to the kitchen help! Commandos expressed appreciation to everybody for their help.

Klamath folks do not stray far from home before they find somebody from these parts. Captain J. Truman Runyan and his wife, the former Alexis Lyle, are now living in Fresno and Alexis and Delhia Hawkins Bakman have gotten together. Tru is working out of Pine-dale now occupied by the United States army.

Taking part in commencement at St. Helens hall, Portland, where she was a graduate student last year was Mrs. Lawrence Ray, (Mary Alice Serruys). She assisted in ushering at the exercises and attended

TWO MONTHS OLD is William Lawrence, son of Corporal and Mrs. Lawrence Ray. The little fellow had a brief visit with his father before he went overseas with the United States marine air corps. Recent word advises the family that Corp. Ray has arrived at his destination in the South Pacific. Mrs. Ray is the former Mary Alice Serruys. —Kennell-Elis.

Active Unit

An active unit of the Red Cross surgical dressings project is the Mills unit where women of that community gather on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at the community hall, Garden and Martin, to fold dressings to be sent into the combat areas of the Pacific theater of war.

All women of that district are urged to go to the Mills unit and contribute their hours this summer. The assigned quota was exceeded by the Mills unit in April, but more workers will be needed if that quota is reached in May. Those who received service stripes for having given 150 consecutive hours in 1943, at the Mills unit, are Mrs. Horton Cadwell, Mrs. William Larson, Mrs. G. E. Matthews, Mrs. A. Shafer, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. James Young, and Mrs. Oscar Young.

Those who put in time and attended the Mills unit during the month of April, are: Rose Barrett, Ruth Berry, Mrs. L. Benson, Mrs. W. A. Carlton, Mrs. L. J. Cooley, Mrs. W. J. Conley, Mrs. M. Dexter, Mrs. H. E. Eberlein, Mary Eckstein, Mrs. A. C. Flora, Mrs. Ora Glen, Mrs. Rex Gregory, Mrs. A. G. Hewitt, Ruby Hanson, Ruby Harvey, Gladys Hunt, Dorothy Jones, Pauline Kaup, G. E. Matthews, Loretta Pex, Mrs. Frank Shepherd, Mrs. H. D. Schroeder, Gertrude Stivers, Mrs. J. H. Tindall, Mrs. James Young, Mrs. Oscar Young.

Families of the students and their friends are looking forward to the event.

Reames Golf Club Plans Spring Dance

The summer social season will be inaugurated by Reames Golf and Country club when members and guests will gather at the clubhouse on Saturday evening, June third, for an informal sports dance.

The Tulelake Guardsmen will play for the affair and dancing will start at 10 o'clock sharp.

Frank F. Tarr, general chairman, announced that in charge of arrangements would be Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Miller, Mr. and Mrs. F. John West and Dr. and Mrs. Greer Glasco. George P. Davis is publicity chairman.

Hosts for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. John Merryman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Rakestraw, Mr. and Mrs. John Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Moore.

Members are advised that they may bring guests to this affair and that tickets will not be sold prior to the party but that they may be obtained at the door.

As this is the spring sports dance, the ladies will be asked to wear short dresses, the committee decided.

JEAN WIESENDANGER announced her engagement to Arthur Triebwasser, United States Army, at a dinner party given Friday evening, May 19, at the Sigma Kappa sorority, Oregon State college. No date has been set for the wedding.

Jean Wiesendanger Betrothal Told

Jean Wiesendanger, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Wiesendanger, joined the ranks of brides-elect when she announced her betrothal to Arthur Triebwasser this past week.

Word of the engagement came to guests and members at the Sigma Kappa sorority at Oregon State college Friday evening, May 19. Two of Jean's sorority sisters served as mail carriers and as guests entered the dining room they were presented with a small card from the bags which had been covered with spring flowers. "Jean and Art" were written on the cards.

Jean is majoring in secretarial science and is a junior at Oregon State this year. She was editor of the Lamp, monthly college magazine, and a member of the cheer staff, college year book. This year Jean also served as editor of the Barometer and is on the publicity committee.

Mr. Triebwasser is in the United States Army and is registered at Oregon State college in the army specialized training program as a student in language and area. Before entering the service he attended St. John's university in New York and the University of California. At the present time he is stationed at Camp Adair, Corvallis. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Triebwasser of Oakland, California.

Mrs. Wiesendanger returned Monday morning from Corvallis where she visited her daughter. No date has been set for the wedding, friends were told.

Miniature Gardens

At the regular meeting of the Klamath Falls Garden club it was decided to undertake the making of dish or miniature gardens for day rooms. To do this, it will be necessary to get dishes, moss, small ferns, succulents and other small plants suitable for such planting. Also rocks, shells, small figurines, small animals, gravel or sand for top finish, charcoal and moss.

At the next meeting, June 28, the club will hold an all-day work meet to make some of these gardens which are small rooted plants placed in shallow bowls, shells, etc., and permitted to grow over a period of time. Some made by the San Francisco Garden club, of which Mrs. Paul Page Austin is president, have lasted over three months. They will take the place of cut flowers which are perishable and will add a cheery touch to Marine Barracks day rooms.

The Garden club extends an invitation to anyone interested in working on this project to join them in their work.

Plants for outdoor planting at the Marine Barracks are still needed and as many of the spring blooming perennials will soon be past their blooming period and may be moved, just remember when you wish to divide or discard them that they may make the barracks more cheerful next spring for the men stationed there. Phone Mrs. H. E. Getz, Garden club president, 5269, and arrangements will be made for their care.

Mrs. Wayne Esperson has taken a house on Lakeshore drive for the duration. Lt. Col. Esperson, former Klamath Falls doctor, was here with Mrs. Esperson this week. He left Friday for Camp Cook, Louisiana, and will receive overseas orders from there. Lt. Col. and Mrs. Esperson have been at Fort Lewis since the outbreak of the war.
