when the allies surrounded dominating Monte Oreo. Cerano was left six miles within allied lines.

Move Up
The beachhead troops, paced by naval fire from a French cruiser, moved steadily across the creased gullies of the west coast below Rome toward the mouth of the Tiber. They cut the Anzio-Albano road, pressed upon the stronghold of Velletri and seemed to be outflanking the Alban hills, last natural obstacle before the eternal city.

The Germans announced abandonment of Aprilia, which has changed hands five times since the beachhead was established. Daniel De Luce of the AP said the roofless, shell-punctured town fell without a hand-to-hand struggle as the allies lunged through fields of crosses bearing American, British and German names. The stench of cordite and the dust of battle hung heavily on the approaches to Rome. Kesselring was trying desperately to scrape up some reserves in North Italy to patch up his shattered Nazi lines. Radio Algiers said the marshal's men were "groggy and reeling" and "disengaging along the whole front."

Rail Center Hit
British night bombers struck heavily at the northwest French rail center of Angers, at the German poison gas center of Ludwigshafen and military targets on the invasion coast. One plane was lost.

The greatest fleet of U. S. daylight raiders ever dispatched destroyed 93 German fighters but lost 24 heavy bombers and 13 fighters yesterday in bombing synthetic oil plants in central Germany near Leipzig, a tank ordnance depot at Conigsborn, and targets at Cologne.

In the 36 hours from dawn Saturday until the British night armadas took off Sunday night, some 12,000 allied planes dumped 14,500 tons of bombs on the foe. That was the fireworks setting for the meeting of Hitler and the Japanese ambassador on "acute problems of collaboration."

Maryland Demos
Maryland democrats in convention Friday will select 18 national convention delegates who, state leaders say, will be instructed to vote for the fourth term if there is evidence President Roosevelt will accept the nomination.

Kansas democrats are due to add their 16 votes to the fourth term column Saturday. It long ago reached a total clinching a first ballot nomination if Mr. Roosevelt runs.

Weekend Developments
Weekend developments included: North Carolina democrats nominated former Governor Clyde R. Hoey for the senate seat held by Robert R. Reynolds, retiring, and chose R. Gregg Cherry, Gastonia lawyer, as their candidate for governor. The state usually is overwhelmingly democratic.

Connecticut democrats, with loud acclaim for President Roosevelt, added their 18 convention votes to the fourth term cause.

Utah's 10 democratic delegates likewise were instructed to vote for the president and to support Senator Elbert Thomas as a favorite son candidate for vice president.

and Panther, troop 6, Klamath Falls. The big campfire program on Saturday night, Scouts were invited by Vern Owens to take a larger part in the Fifth War Loan drive beginning in June. Colonel Bernard Dubel, commandant of the Marine Barracks, spoke to the Scouts about the importance of bonds to the actual successes on the fighting field. A court of honor was conducted at the campfire by Paul Skeen, chairman of advancement for the district. Songs were led by Don D. Dod, scoutmaster of troop 33, and Robert H. Lamott, Scout executive. Lloyd C. Prock, district commander, was in charge of the campfire program.

One of the special features of the Camporee was an archery demonstration by C. E. Peterson, scoutmaster of troop 50, Klamath Falls. Peterson demonstrated archery technique and shot several rounds of arrows, following which several Scouts attempted to duplicate his score.

Vern Owens, district chairman, announced the ratings awards at the closing of the camporee. Serving with their troops or in the administration of the camp were Heber Radcliffe, scoutmaster, troop 1; Don Anderson, scoutmaster of troop 3; Rev. Eugene Haynes, scoutmaster of troop 4; and Don Rice, chairman of troop 4's committee; Fred Schreiter of troop 8; M. A. Bowman, scoutmaster of troop 7; Harold Ashley, scoutmaster of troop 8; William Lyon, chairman of troop 9's committee; C. E. Moischenbacher, committeeman of troop 17; Wesley Cross, scoutmaster and George Dow, assistant scoutmaster of troop 18; Rev. Donald D. Dod, scoutmaster of troop 23; Rev. Frank Hammond, neighborhood commissioner, assisted with the general administration of the camp. Executive board members who visited the camp included K. G. Klahn, president, Arnold Gralapp and A. B. Hood. L. Parker Martinez, assistant scout executive, was in charge of inspections and general administration of the camporee.

B-2, C-2 Gasoline Coupons Expire; Others Available

Mrs. Fern Shoop, chief clerk of the War Price and Rationing board, announced Monday that the B-2 and C-2 ration coupons expire June 1 and will be invalid after that date.

Persons having B-2 and C-2 coupons can, however, exchange them at the rationing board for B-4 and C-4 tickets which will be valid after June 1. The exchange can be made without having to make another application.

Here's One Man Not Overpaid

It just doesn't pay to work anymore.

That's what A. L. B. Wade found out the other day. One day last week Wade went to work for Kesterson's mill. He worked five hours at 90 cents an hour. A short time later he got his check. The amount was for exactly 5 cents.

A brief glance at the check stub showed that Wade had $4.53 coming. Out of that, 5 cents went for social security, 10 cents for hospital insurance, 10 cents income tax and $4.23 for group insurance, totaling $4.48, and leaving a balance of just one nickel.

The check was cashed by Andy Moore of the Baldwin hotel. Wade pocketed his earnings, determined not to spend it all in one place.

DEHYDRATION PLANT CONCLUDES WORK

Operation of the Klamath Dehydration company was concluded for the summer months Saturday morning. Except for shipping, maintenance and repair work the plant will be shut down until sometime this fall, it was announced Monday by the plant manager, R. D. Darling.

It was necessary for the company to shut down at this time, because the plant has run out of potatoes, the only product which had been put through the dehydration process this year. Soon after this fall's potato harvest, the dehydration company will reopen.

Darling said that the plant had employed an average of about 250 to 300 persons, 75% of which were women, since its opening here last year.

Harness Asks Life Raft Probe

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Complaining of "shameful disregard for human safety at sea," Representative Harness (R-Ind.) called today for a "thorough investigation" of what he said appeared to be "serious irregularities" in the program for procurement of life rafts for the navy and the merchant marine.

Despite the accumulation of what he called a large stockpile of steel rafts tested and approved by the coast guard and hailed by shipbuilders and seamen as "far superior to any other life raft in existence," Harness declared in a statement prepared for submission to the house that hundreds of merchant vessels still are equipped with wooden rafts "commonly referred to by seamen as chicken crates and death traps."

Two Eggs Thrown At Archbishop

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—A man, identified by police as Frank Hahn, 52, interrupted a solemn pentecostal mass at St. Patrick's cathedral yesterday by hurling two eggs at Archbishop Francis J. Spellman. The archbishop was not struck.

Seized by an usher, the man was booked on a disorderly conduct charge and was sent to Bellevue hospital for observation by Magistrate Raphael P. Koenig pending a hearing June 7 in Yorkville court.

Hahn, a tailor, told Koenig he had been in Pilgrim state hospital, an institution for mental cases, for three years. He explained his act by saying, "I just felt that way," adding he "didn't like something the archbishop said."

Archduke Otto of Austria and his brother, Felix, were in the congregation, seated several rows back of Hahn.

and military ambulances were called out to bring in the casualties. A number of residences near the Carabenero headquarters were damaged by fire from the tank forces.

First reports said that a group of conscripts, an infantry battalion and a cavalry unit were among the revolting forces who occupied the telegraph offices at midnight, detailed the personnel and blocked communication with the rest of the republic.

Postmaster Pay Increase Okayed

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Overriding protests of Senator Reed (R-Kan.), the senate today approved salary increases of five to 20 per cent for postmasters now receiving up to $8000 a year.

By a roll call vote of 44 to 12, the chamber adopted a conference committee report substituting the pay boosts for an earlier proposal to make postmasters eligible for overtime compensation. The conference report now goes to the house.

In arguing against the pay boost, Reed said he was opposed to "rewarding negligent public officials for rendering wasteful service."

Desperate Chinese Battle to Thwart Jap Changsha Drive

racks at Sinyang on the Hankow-Peiping section.

Fighting in Honan to the north raged on, at last report, but Chungking reports gave no new word on the Chinese counter-offensive. The Japanese crowded that in capturing Loyang, key rail city, they had dealt allied plans for a China-based air offensive a mortal blow.

Push Nips to Burma
On a third front Chinese troops slogged through rain, fog and sleet in Yunnan province, pursuing Japanese retreating toward the Burma frontier. The Chinese, aiming at a junction with allied forces in Burmese Myitkyina, assaulted prepared mountain positions eight miles west of captured Tatang-ta village.

Stillwell's Chinese and Americans stormed into Myitkyina to within half a mile of the railway station. This was the first notable advance in days.

Myitkyina Battle
The Myitkyina battle was a vital part of the China battle, for Stillwell needs it to link the Ledo and Burma roads for a supply line into China.

On Biak island in the Schoutens, American troops moved from captured Bosnek, principal port, to within two and a half miles of Makmer airfield against increasing enemy fire.

'OPEN' TRIAL SOON, ASKED BY KIMMEL

and public trial" at the "earliest practicable date."

Ferguson said he also had a communication from Short which he did not feel at liberty to disclose.

The Kimmel letter, written at Bronxville, N. Y., asserted the report of the Roberts investigating commission "does not tell the whole story of Pearl Harbor."

Waiver Unsigned

After an introductory paragraph acknowledging receipt of a request from the senator for information about the statute of limitations waiver which he signed, the admiral wrote that he did not sign the waiver in the form submitted to him by the secretary of the navy August 27, 1943, but changed it to "assure that my hearing would be in open court."

The letter continued: "I signed the waiver to make sure my court martial should be held. I did not want any action or failure to act on my part an excuse for not having the court martial."

Court Martial Wanted

"I want a trial by court martial at the earliest practicable date. I have wanted it since Pearl Harbor and I have said so in letters to the secretary. I want a free, open and public trial."

"At the hearing before the Roberts' commission I was told I was not on trial. The commission did not permit me to be present at the examination of witnesses. It denied my request for counsel. For more than two years I was kept in the dark as to what went on at those hearings."

Retirement Unwanted

"Immediately after the publication of the Roberts' report the navy department intimated in no uncertain way that my retirement from the service was wanted. Accordingly I requested it. I did not wish to retire."

"For two and a half years I have waited for the navy department to bring me to trial. The report of the Roberts' commission does not tell the whole story of Pearl Harbor."

The present July 7 deadline for court martial action was set in an earlier six-month extension.

Electric Storm Brings Shower

A short-lived electrical storm brought a shower and a brief power interruption in Klamath Falls at noon today.

Copco's line 4, between here and Copco on Klamath river, went out as a result of lightning. Several individual transformers were affected. Power service in Klamath Falls went out for a few seconds—not long enough to do anything more than stop a few clocks.

Local Fighting On Red Front

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—Bursts of fighting on the Lower Dniestr and the White Russian fronts, where localized German attacks were reported, repulsed, were announced by Moscow today, but the general situation on the long dormant eastern front remained unchanged over the weekend, a soviet communique said.

Northwest of Tiraspol on the Lower Dniestr, the bulletin declared, the Germans attempted a reconnaissance in force but were thrown back with heavy losses by withering Russian fire.

Michigan Labor Crisis Eases

DETROIT, May 29 (AP)—Michigan's labor crisis eased today with an end to the Chrysler "rebel" strike in Detroit and restoration of operations at Saginaw plants of General Motors which had been crippled by a fight over a no-smoking rule. Some 7300 workers had been affected.

As peace was established in two instances, however, a new war plant strike took place in Detroit while bakery truck drivers in Detroit and drug workers at Parke, Davis & Co. here continued their walkouts. Altogether 4400 men and women were involved.

The new strike closed the main plant of the Federal Mogul company, halting production of engine bearings. Representatives of Local 202, United Automobile Workers (CIO), said 1500 men quit in protest of the firing of two union stewards.

Reasons for the discharges were not disclosed. The company made no immediate statement.

A week-end death toll from traffic accidents, drownings and other mishaps stood at 118 today as the nation began the third day of a four-day memorial holiday.

Massachusetts, with 13 deaths, led in the number record. California had 11 dead and Illinois and New York 10 dead each.

Supreme Court To Adjourn Monday

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—The supreme court decided seven out of 14 pending cases today and then announced it would meet again next Monday before adjourning for the summer.

The tribunal earlier had made known it hoped to adjourn today, to end an eight-month term which produced decisions upholding wartime powers of the federal government and revealed increasing discord among the justices.

Today's announcement said the court would adjourn next Monday until the new term in October, unless otherwise ordered.

union, AFL, also met in Portland but adjourned until today without taking action on the ultimatum that wage scale would not be considered, the estimated 30,000 workers remained idle.

Lone bright spot in the darkening picture was a Yakima, Wash., where J. D. Brown, manager of the Cascade Lumber company, predicted that the union would reopen today. The union engaged in production of ammunition boxes and other war materials, employs 600 men, and mill Workers Union (AFL) workers had assurances sufficient to keep them on the job until the shutdown.

On Coos Bay, one of Oregon's greatest producing areas, Coos Bay Lumber company, the largest on the bay, was unable to open when 100 few of a crew of 250 reported. Likewise some smaller mills were down with several operating almost usual.

PORTLAND, May 29 (AP)—dividual ration boards have authority to call in B and C ration coupon books of idle lumber industry workers, McDermott Brown, district office of the administration (OPA) director, has indicated.

"The local boards are authorized to call in coupons issued for occupational purposes where the occupation has been terminated or the books no longer are authorized for the purpose for which they were issued," he said.

Chairmen of six ration boards in the Tacoma, Wash., area ordered in idle sawmill workers Saturday to turn in their B and C gasoline coupons, and Brown said he would "not be surprised" if boards in this district take similar action.
