night. Mediterranean forces attacked Hungarian yards 30 miles east of Budapest and Szolnok. Mosquitos bombed a target in Denmark and the Germans reported an air attack which damaged a convoy off the west Norwegian coast. Middle East bombers attacked ports on the big Greek island of Crete. Enemy waters were mined.

The silvery daylight bombers left converging trails of vapor over the 20-mile channel and shortly afterwards a number of explosions echoed back to England. More formations went out around noon, including a big force of fighters which circled around Boulogne.

A Cairo communique said an important German convoy was attacked in the central Aegean Sea north of Crete yesterday and that four ships were left burning and others were damaged. Two destroyers among the eight escort vessels were declared damaged. Ten aircraft were lost in the attacks yesterday and during the past two weeks.

The attack on the Saumur rail yards was made by RAF heavy bombers. The air ministry said that night raiders also struck a military objective near the French coast but did not indicate its nature. Mosquitos simultaneously bombed an unspecified objective in Denmark and mines were laid in enemy waters. All the planes returned safely from these operations.

In offensive sweeps into France and Germany yesterday evening RAF and RCAF fighters shot down three German planes while three planes in the attacking force were lost.

Leaders Call Workers Back

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2 (AP)—CIO and AFL leaders have called absent workers to return to war-vital jobs in the northwest lumber industry, but there were hints of future strike moves if the national war labor board does not grant wage requests.

The International Woodworkers of America (CIO) last night called on 17,000-18,000 workers to end their 10-day work stoppage, and indications are that they will practically all be back at work Monday with the 28,000 AFL workers who were called back to work earlier this week.

Harvey Nelson, president of the Columbia River district council No. 5, IWA (CIO), said he felt sure the 15,000 district workers will answer the call back to work. Other CIO locals of the northwest indicated a general willingness to return when promised prompt consideration of their wage plea.

Four Youths Sentenced in Renton Delinquency Case

SEATTLE, June 2 (AP)—Justice J. William Hoar today sentenced four Renton youths to three months in jail for contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old girl. He dismissed charges against a fifth youth for insufficient evidence. Five others await sentencing.

Fifteen youths were charged as the result of disclosures by two 16-year-old girls.

Addressing the youths he sentenced today, Hoar commenting on the story of one of the girls, said "this girl was well on her way to becoming a prostitute. You are one of those who helped her along the route."

"This trend toward loose conduct, and breaking down of moral fibers is due to the war, I presume. Too many young people are losing sight of their decency and respect for young girls and for marriage."

Police last night arrested two 17-year-old boys and two girls, 16 and 17, in an untenanted Madison Park district residence on reports of a series of nightly wild parties. Officers reported the four admitted partying but denied immoral conduct.

NEW CONTROLS OF MANPOWER SLATED JULY 1

the industrial firing line," adding: "This is just as important as it is for us to get our soldiers onto the firing line when and where they are needed."

He said one of the principal difficulties of recruiting men for war jobs and retaining them is "over-optimism with respect to an early ending of the war"—thus causing workers to look for peacetime employment.

"I have been most disturbed by this attitude," he said. "The war is not nearly over and such sentiment is positively dangerous to the war effort."

Production needs and manpower demands may be easing up in specific plants or areas due to cutbacks but "workers who may be released in such situations are sorely needed in other plants or other areas where war production schedules are being increased. Experience in the past has shown that this easing of manpower does not result in the filling of all labor demands in critical war industries."

Gralapp Goes to Portland Session

Arnold L. Gralapp, superintendent of schools, left for Portland Friday to attend a trustees' meeting of the Oregon State Teachers association. Gralapp represents the southern counties of the state.

On his return here Sunday he will stop at Crescent Lake and meet with the Boy Scout council inspecting the camp site and equipment.

up to the Via Cassilina from just southwest of Ferentino, a ring appeared to be closing tightly around retreating German remnants making rearguard stands.

Velletri and Valmontone were seized in the face of flaming resistance, and late today, headquarters said, "fierce fighting continues in this area, where limited progress has been made during the day."

Occupation of Veroli cut yet another potential back door for the Nazi retreat. It is on a junction of roads from the south and east.

Special Session Call Proposed

PORTLAND, June 2 (AP)—Walter J. Pearson, Portland and democratic nominee for the state senate, has asked Governor Snell to call a special session of the legislature to amend the absent voters' law.

Pearson asserted that from 10,000 to 15,000 applications for absentee ballots were made by members of the armed forces prior to the state primaries, but only about 5000 received ballots.

WLB Orders Not Subject to Court Review, Ruling

informatory and 'at most, advisory.'

"Appellants' demand that we order the board to review its demand that we prevent the board from giving the president advice which appellants contend would be erroneous. To prevent the secretary of state giving alleged erroneous advice, the correctness of a board order that it give no employment advice cannot be viewed by the courts. They have neither the necessary authority nor the necessary qualifications for such work."

The truckers group protested a board order that it give no employment advice for a week and that time and a half be paid for work in excess of eight hours in any regular working day.

The truckers contended the board's findings were unlawful and violated executive orders of the president. They asserted that it was impossible for them to fulfill the order and asserted "the industry is confronted with outright failure and dissolution."

WLB officials said that while the decision strengthens the board's position it does not necessarily dispose of a group of other suits for review. One was filed by Montgomery Ward and company and is now before the same circuit.
