Beauty IS YOUR DUTY
By RITA WHISENANT
Licensed Cosmetologist

TODAY I want to talk about a beauty problem that goes a lot deeper than that which make-up or regular skin preparation can cover. For if you are the mother of a teenage daughter with an Acne condition or a difficult skin... then you know what I mean when I say that a problem skin can be a despair to both mother and daughter.

MANY times have mothers stopped in here at Everybody's pleading for help because their daughters have become so self-conscious about their complexions they won't go out or share in the activities of their groups.

MANY years ago, this difficult skin condition was passed off with the remark that "they would grow out of it" which very frequently happened... but only after two or three miserable years had passed for these teen-age girls, and boys, too.

TODAY, science and medicine have made tremendous strides in their battle against Acne. And if the condition is Acne, then your doctor should be the one to consult. But without having an actual Acne condition, many suffer from excessively oily skins. It's the over secretion of the oil glands that cause blackheads, whiteheads and enlarged pores. A simple home treatment will work wonders.

IN the laboratories of Richard Hudnut (where DuBarry products find their beginning) chemists and dermatologists have perfected a group of preparations for excessively oily skins and superficial blackheads. They are all available here at Everybody's, and if you will bring your daughter or stop by yourself, I will be delighted to show you how they are to be used and help plan a daily routine.

VFW Auxiliary

Twenty-four members attended the meeting of the auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars held in the library clubroom Thursday evening, June 1, with Mrs. H. J. McGilvray presiding. A letter was read from Commander Walter Thompson of the post congratulating the members on the poppy sales; Mrs. Jerome Runnels sold the highest number. A letter from Commander W. E. McGiffin was also read, thanking the auxiliary for the $100 sent to the war welfare fund. Jean Rasmussen, holder of first place in the local contest for the national essay award, has gone to Alabama to join her husband, stationed there, and her award will be sent to her. It was decided to send individual letters of thanks to the judges who served in this contest.

Mrs. A. Myers handed in a letter of resignation as patriotic instructor, and this position as well as the one of junior vice president, will be filled at the next meeting. Owing to the state convention, this meeting will be held June 29 and the auxiliary will serve supper to members of the post. All members are asked to bring sandwiches at this time.

In memory of the departed president, Mrs. Herman Lofdahl, the impressive ceremony of draping the altar was held. Mrs. Orville Lohrey received the special award given at each meeting.

Troop Meets

The White Pelican Girl Scout troops held its last meeting of the year on Wednesday, May 24, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Lowell Kaup. Proficiency badges were awarded as follows: child care, Mary Stone; reader and clothing, Joyce Werner; folk dancing, Beverly Dalmer; Second class rating was attained by Christine Nelson, Irene Bullard and Shirley Gienger, and Mary Stone became a first class scout. Her major field is home making, and her minor field, sports and games.

Donna Hansen, who is now living on a farm in the Henley district and is carrying on her work as a lone Scout, was a visitor at the meeting.

On Thursday, May 25, the troop took a bicycle hike to Moore park as the final requirement for the bicycle badge. They were accompanied by David Bridge and Benny Shepherd. Those who took the hike were Ida Tennetoss, Mary Ann Arnold, Nola Jean Arnett, Frankie Owens, Mary Beth Rice, Phyllis Kaup, Beverly Dalmer, Mary Stone, Christine Nelson, Irene Bullard and Lois Conner. Other members of the troop are Joyce Werner, Jean Burpee, Barbara Arnold and Shirley Gienger.

Six Years Old

A birthday party honoring Averil Garriott was held at the William L. Garriott home, 138 Laguna, on May 30. This was Averil's sixth anniversary.

Guests included Heather and Harlan Hamaker, Rebecca Ball, Michael Ashby, Mary Beth, Charles and Don Rice, Mary Demetras, Jimmy Barnes, Billy Garriott and the little hostess. Grown-ups who called during the afternoon included Mrs. Roy Taylor, Mrs. T. E. Ball, Mrs. Chester Hamaker, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Zed Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Barnes.

The afternoon was spent in games with birthday cake served at 4 o'clock.

Mildred Robinson, 433 North Tenth, entertained the Merry Mixers Thursday evening, at her home. Fantan was played during the evening, and Eleanor Curtis held high score, Maxine Rose second. Those who attended were Billee Snider, Jo Paup, Maxine Rose, Eleanor Curtis, Ruth Anderson and Lizzie Little. The next meeting will be with Ruth Anderson, Route 2, off the Merrill highway.

George Clark left this weekend for Portland to accompany Mrs. Clark and Dick and Nancy back to Klamath Falls. They will again occupy their home on La-vey street after having lived in Portland the past two years.

EIGHT YEARS

John Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ely, observed his eighth birthday anniversary on May 18.

LEAVING KLAMATH FALLS

Regrets were said when it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ramsey were leaving Klamath Falls. He reports for active duty with the United States marines, and Mrs. Ramsey and two children, Joele and Reagan, will leave here about July 1 for Grants Pass to make their home for the duration.

Garden Clubs To Meet in Portland

Mr. A. G. Proctor, secretary and treasurer of the Oregon Federation of Garden clubs, will leave Sunday morning for Portland to attend the 17th annual meeting of the federation. Mrs. Margaret Powell Lamb, formerly of this city, as president of the federation, will preside at the meeting to be held in the central library auditorium on June 6.

Among interesting features of the convention will be the presentation of awards for notable work in horticulture, both in the past and present. The presentation will be made by Edith Schryver, well known to garden clubbers throughout the state, and with her committee she has been doing much work in discovering what has been done along these lines.

The Klamath Falls Garden club has embarked on an interesting venture, that of making miniature gardens for day rooms at the Marine Barracks. Mrs. Proctor will make a report of the convention, the election of officers and plans for aid in the war effort, on her return to Klamath Falls.

Hostess

Mrs. H. E. West was hostess May 26, to a group of young people in honor of the seventh birthday anniversary of her son Howard. The party hours were from six to eight o'clock.

Refreshments were served to Fred, Joe, Bernard, Bernadette and Della LaCass, Elizabeth, Kathryn, Scott and Tony McLean, Jimmy, Jonny and Donald Stuckey, Mark Stillwell, Peter, Eugene and Lois Larson, Lee and Donald Stillwell, Marcelle Garret, Sally Able, Francis McMillan, Nellie Knable, Johnny Westling, Donna McRoberts, Howard and Theada West.

Birthday

John Ely, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ely, was eight years old on May 18, and eight children came to his parents' home on Nevada street to help him celebrate the occasion. Games were played on the lawn, and then the children were invited into the house where they played bingo, and were served with refreshments, including a birthday cake with eight candles. The dining table was centered with a bouquet of lilacs and spring flowers were placed around the rooms.

The guests were Shirley and Billy Snyder, Jay Korsen, Roger Long, Cecile Vandenberg, Theresa Brunner, La Rayne Weed and David Mathis. Mrs. A. Korsen assisted Mrs. Ely with the games and serving of refreshments.

Melva Danielson was hostess to Ye Olde Pinochle club at her home Thursday, June 1. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock to the following, Grace Bock, Kathryn Billings, Fannie Goddard, Nona Hall, Agnace Lowe, Estelle Smith. There was one guest, Hazel Norwood. High score went to Estelle Smith, second to Agnace Lowe, low to Grace Bock and the pinochle award to Melva Danielson. Fannie Goddard, 2441 Garden, will entertain at the next meeting of the club.

Hathaway Kellogg-Smith has spent the past week in Klamath Falls as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey C. Blohm of Pacific Terrace. She is en route from Portland, where she has completed her work at Reed college, to her home in Chestertown, Maryland. Hathaway will stop off in San Antonio, Texas, to visit Richard Blohm who is stationed there. She leaves Sunday morning.
