

TWO HOTELS AT TULELAKE CHANGE HANDS

TULELAKE — Two pioneer hotels within the past few days and a third is under new management. Completion of the transfers was announced Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barks, owners of Clyde's hotel, who sold Mrs. Elva Cummings, manager of the Golden hotel, owned by Dubon, Weed.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stanton, owners of the Tulelake hotel, announced sale of their building to Roy Hodges, Medford, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Card, Grants.

The new co-owners are former long-time residents of Tulelake where Mr. and Mrs. Card operated the Palm cafe and owned a tourist park and other business property.

Sale of the property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Barks marks one of the largest real estate transfers here in recent months, the two-story stucco building on Main street, including the 18-room hotel, managers apartment, two lobbies and other rooms on the second floor, offices of the California Oregon Power company, Tulelake agriculture office, the Oregon Telephone company and two apartments occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Weschler and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haas on the ground floor.

The building was built in 1935, Mr. and Mrs. Barks leaving their homestead, one of the original land blocks settled by veterans of World War I in 1931, to go into business in Tulelake. In 1936, a large addition was completed. In the same year that Clyde's hotel was built, Tony Lanero, also a homesteader, built the Tulelake hotel. This business, which includes nine hotel rooms, a club, manager's apartment and dining room has since changed hands a number of times. Mr. and Mrs. Stanton owned it for about a year and half.

The Golden hotel, a newer structure, located on Modoc street, is now under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Goodbody, formerly of Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Card, who within the past few months have purchased an acreage at Grants has, following sale of the Victory cafe in Medford, which they operated for two years after leaving Merrill, were here last week to complete arrangements for assuming active management of the Tulelake hotel. Plans of Mr. and Mrs. Card are indefinite, but not being known here whether they plan to return to this community. Hodges sold his pool and card room that he bought in Medford some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Barks plan to move within the next few days to an indefinite stay somewhere on the coast, in the hopes of benefiting Mr. Barks' health. Mr. Stanton also are leaving to seek a lower climate for Mr. Stanton. Mrs. Cummings plans to take a short vacation before assuming active management of Clyde's hotel, but plans to return here before June 15.

No consideration on either transaction was made public.

Seven Battleships Help Rip First Holes in Wall

By ROBERT C. WILSON
LONDON, June 8 (AP)—Seven allied battleships—three of them American—and scores of flanking cruisers and destroyers, including revenge-thirsty French, Norwegian, Polish and Dutch ships, comprised the task forces which ripped the first breaches in Hitler's Atlantic wall.

The battleship Texas led the western task force under Rear Admiral Alan Goodrich Kirk. The squadron also included the battleships Arkansas and Nevada.

The eastern force was led by the British battleship Warspite, and included the battlewagons Rodney, Ramillies and Nelson.

75 Per Cent British
No official breakdown was given on the warships involved, but a compilation from field dispatches showed 31, including the American cruisers Tuscaloosa, Quincy and Augusta. The British furnished 75 per cent of the larger warships from destroyers upward.

The ships' task was to silence Nazi coastal batteries, and clear the coast so foot soldiers could go ashore.

That was accomplished with great effectiveness.

Their eagerness was typified by the difficulty the British Scorpion had in getting in its licks because of the zeal of the Norwegian destroyer Stord, which had a hand in the sinking of the Germans' Scharnhorst. During the coastal shelling.

More Meat and Plenty of Vegetables Promised U. S.

CHICAGO, June 8 (AP)—There will be more meat and a "plentiful supply" of fresh fruits and vegetables for civilians this year, the nation's retail grocers were told today by two food industry leaders.

George M. Lewis of the American Meat Institute advised the annual convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers that there'll be 145 pounds of meat for every civilian, as compared to 137 pounds last year.

The increase in fresh fruits and vegetables for civilians in 1944 over last year was predicted by William Garfitt of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable association in a prepared speech.

Lewis in his prepared address said that the biggest increase in meat will be in beef and pork, although there also will be more veal and lamb this year than in 1943. He asserted that about one-quarter of the country's record meat production is for our armed forces and lend-lease but added that the supply still will provide more for civilians than they had, per capita, since 1935.

Garfitt predicted a 150 per cent increase in the peach crop over last year, an estimated 17 per cent in the orange yield, and a five per cent hike in the grapefruit crop. He also said indications were that last year's potato production will be exceeded this year by five per cent and that the banana supply will "in all probability be increased to 50 per cent of normal before the end of 1944."

Weather Prophets Declared "Flop"

LONDON, June 8 (AP)—John A. Moroso, Associated Press war correspondent, reported from an invasion port today that although "the assault was widely hailed as the largest in history, it actually was no larger in its initial phases than the allied attack on Sicily."

Moroso witnessed both the landings in Sicily and in North Africa.

"Weather prophets were the worst flops," he said. "Wind and a choppy channel almost caused disaster."

Three Allied Leaders Met For Pre-"D"-Day Confab

By E. V. ROBERTS
Representing the Combined American Press
Distributed by The Associated Press

ALLIED ADVANCE COMMAND POST, June 8 — This quiet, tree-shaded spot was the scene of an historic pre-"D"-Day conference last Sunday, it may now be disclosed.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower met here then with Prime Minister Churchill and the French leader, Gen. Charles De Gaulle. Also present were Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, South African premier, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and other important allied public officials and military figures.

The group spent nearly two hours here, largely in the ward room tent where the walls were hung with detailed maps of the planned liberation of France. Apparently the conversations between the supreme commander and De Gaulle were entirely satisfactory, because 24 hours later Eisenhower told us there was complete agreement with the French on military levels. Apparently the tricky question

Attempted Raid On Sorong Told

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP)—The Tokyo radio said today six B-24 heavy bombers had "attempted to raid" Sorong at the western tip of Dutch New Guinea, some 340 airline miles west of the recent allied landings in the Schouten islands, Tuesday afternoon.

The broadcast, heard by U. S. government monitors, said a Japanese air unit had intercepted the raiders, damaging one plane and repulsing the remainder.
