

PUC SCHEDULES 'BLACK SNOW' HEARINGS HERE

Tuesday, June 20, has been designated as the date when Public Utilities Commissioner George H. Flagg, accompanied by his chief engineer, David Don, will visit Klamath Falls to conduct a public hearing on sundry complaints from institutions and persons of this city against the Klamath Heating company.

Mayor J. H. Houston and City Attorney J. H. Carnahan have been notified of the event, and the mayor has been requested to provide a suitable room where witnesses and interested citizens may be accommodated.

The issue in the Klamath Falls hearing was raised by several complaints and requests that the commissioner require the local heating utility to supply its customers with adequate heat at all times. Control of soot, or so-called "black snow" is also involved.

In previous hearings it was agreed that separate studies of the problems should be made by the engineers of the public utilities commissioner, by the city government and by Dr. George W. Gleason of Oregon State college. It is presumed that the results of those studies will be available at the hearing here on June 20.

Notices have been sent to the city, the First National bank, the school district directors, to theatre owners and numerous business houses. The hearing is open to all interested parties.

Tree Fallers Face Manslaughter Charge

ALBANY, June 10 (AP)—Manslaughter charges today faced three men whom a coroner's jury held responsible for the death of three persons and the injury of seven others when a tree fell on a Valley Lines stage.

Justice of the Peace Victor Olliver bound them over to the circuit court yesterday. They are: Glenn Ohling, owner of the farm on which the tree stood, and Charles Brown and William Lytle both of Cascadia, who cut down the 200-foot fir tree 100 feet from the highway. Ohling furnished $500 bond.

Lumbermen Finish Safety Conference

EUGENE, June 10 (AP)—Lumbermen from 10 western states and British Columbia concluded a western safety conference on employment of disabled soldiers and logging safety problems Friday.

Importance to veterans of physical and mental rehabilitation was stressed by Ted Kepner, Cathlamet, Wash. M. T. Ovre, West Coast Lumber commission, and W. G. Collins, lumber company official of Samoa, Calif., spoke on the place of organized labor and management in safety programs.

Adams Tunnel Nears Finish

DENVER, June 10 (AP)—After nearly four years of drilling and blasting through 13 miles of mountain rock a pilot bore one and three-fourths inches in diameter was completed Friday in the Alva B. Adams tunnel of the Colorado-Big Thompson water diversion project.

Today during boring completion ceremonies the remaining 30 feet of rock will be cut through. The tunnel is near Estes park in northern Colorado and is part of a project which ultimately will bring supplemental irrigation water from west of the Rocky mountain continental divide to rich farm lands east of the mountains.

Secret Devices Aid Paratroops

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 10 (AP)—American parachute troops dropping into the Ste. Mere Eglise sector of France below Cherbourg carried out the most successful airborne operation in war history, it was disclosed today, and only about 2 per cent of more than 1000 RAF and U. S. planes operating on D-Day were lost.

New secret devices enabled parachute troops to land on designated places even through layers of clouds, a high command report of the entire American-British airborne invasion operation said.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Ensign Dean French, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. French, residents of Klamath Falls until their deaths several years ago, enlisted in the navy eight years ago, and this winter received his commission as ensign. He has been assigned to a new ship which recently left Seattle for the Pacific zone.

ARRIVES SAFELY—Word has been received from PFC Melvin J. Robinson, telling of his safe arrival somewhere in Italy. Melvin joined the armed forces in September, 1943. He was graduated from Klamath Union high school that spring and is a former Herald and News carrier. Prior to his enlistment he was employed by the Standard Oil company in a local station. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Robinson of 1433 Derby.

The Robinson's son, Jack, of Robinson's Delivery, is stationed at Camp Barkley, Tex., and another son, Willis, owner of the delivery business, reported for duty in the navy, May 29.

BOND SELLERS SET FOR START OF LOAN DRIVE

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Millions of volunteer bond-sellers here lined up today for the $18,000,000,000 Fifth War Loan drive which starts Monday.

Some 5,000,000 employees of retail stores tackled a bond sale quota of $1,500,000,000 which they hope to raise by selling $300 worth each of the popular-type "E" bonds.

Already there were indications that the invasion of western Europe had stepped up bond purchases. The total paid into the treasury this month, through June 7, for war bonds was $278,216,000, nearly three times the amount turned in during the same period last year.

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, issued a statement declaring that the support of every American—as expressed through continuous war bond purchases—is essential to the success of the war.

"We have a right to be confident," he said, "but we must be realistic; the war is not yet won."

WRITER CAPTURED—LONDON, June 10 (AP)—The German radio said today that James W. Lee of Oklahoma, whom it identified as a war correspondent for the Jewish telegraph agency of New York, had been taken prisoner—presumably in France.

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press

EXPENSIVE GROCERIES—ELKHART, Ind.—"Forget about it," War Worker Warren H. Kidder telephoned police after telling them in an earlier call that his $94 pay check had been lost or stolen. "I just found out my daughter—she's two—chewed it up to make spitballs."

BEHIND THE TIMES—BEDFORD, Ind.—The morning of the invasion nobody could get the Catholic church bells to ring out the news. The electric ringing device had stuck.

Thursday night the bells abruptly started ringing and rang for half an hour.

Everybody thought another invasion had come.

MEANY—ROCHESTER—Henry Northrup, leaving his rod and line unattended for a moment while fishing from the shore of Lake Ontario, turned to see it being towed into the lake.

He asked another angler, who was fishing from a boat, to retrieve the rod. The latter complied. Returning to shore, he tossed Northrup the rod after removing the fish.

"I'll keep this," he said to Northrup. "I caught it, didn't I?"

SHEEP POWER—CLEVELAND, Ohio—Six sheep went to work for the city today—as lawn mowers at the sewage treatment plant. They were produced by the utilities department as grass got taller and help got shorter.

NUTS—SEATTLE—Four-year-old Louise Bearwood, whose father, Capt. Jack Bearwood, is one of Lt. Gen. Mark Clark's aides, has a letter and an autograph photograph from the general.

Linda won the general over by sending him peanuts, then unobtainable in Italy. They were such a delicacy he passed them out at a staff dinner.

The 5th War Loan drive starts Monday. Stay-at-homes can back the invasion to insure victory. Hans Norland, Insurance.
