WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation today declined tentatively to comment on a proposed amendment to the Espionage Act which would make it a crime for a censor to disclose the contents of correspondence.

Miss Vivien Kellems, chief of the censor's office, said she would not discuss the proposed amendment. She said she would not discuss the proposed amendment. She said she would not discuss the proposed amendment.

U. S. Airfields Established In France

nadian forces fighting for Caen, pivot city at the eastern end of the 60-mile-long beachhead front.

Springing forward from Ste. Mere Eglise, Americans drove north toward Cherbourg and sent another column ramming south upon Carentan.

Other American forces drove on Carentan from the east after seizing Isigny seven miles away, putting a pincers push on that stronghold town.

Air Bases Set
The rapid establishment of air bases on liberated French territory not only gave closer fighter cover, but permitted air evacuation of wounded men.

"Planes of the ninth air force troop carrier commands are evacuating wounded from landing grounds in the beachhead areas from strips constructed by special airfield engineers' units," headquarters announced.

Wounded Moved
"The first wounded were landed at an airfield in Britain at 1:10 p. m., (4:10 a. m., PWT) today."

Just a few hours earlier it was disclosed that the ninth air force had established an advanced headquarters in France, preliminary to putting bases in operation. Such bases give fighters a considerable advantage over their former "channel commuting."

The flooding on the beachhead varies in depth from a few inches to seven feet, but headquarters said the ground was very soggy, making the advance of the Americans difficult, particularly in the Carentan area.

Naval Withdrawn
As for the offensive against Cherbourg, Berlin radio said that "in the face of fresh paratroop landings south of Valognes (11 miles below Cherbourg) the German high command has withdrawn its spearheads to a shorted defense line south of Montebourg, 15 miles southeast of the port."

Montebourg is midway below Valognes and Ste. Mere Eglise. Vichy radio announced loss of Edmonville, between Ste. Mere Eglise and Montebourg.

The Germans also reported new allied gains below Bayeux toward the key mid-peninsular town of St. Lo.

Sea Fighting
Supreme headquarters said the Germans 12th SS armored division, 41st armored, and 716th and 352nd infantry divisions were fighting in the Caen area, and that the 709th German infantry was engaged in the Ste. Mere Eglise sector.

5 JAP WARSHIPS SENT TO BOTTOM

destroyer streaked back toward Tokyo without reaching the Schoutens and five of the 10 Japanese fighters which attempted to break up the devastating Mitchell attack were shot down. Three American planes were lost.

The mere presence of Japanese warships in the Dutch New Guinea waters during the past week signifies the importance Tokyo places on Biak, biggest of the Schoutens, where invading Yanks have captured one of the three major airbases and are driving slowly toward the other two. All are within bombing range of the Philippines.

Bases Surrounded
The Japanese were faring no better in the Burma-India theater. Their major North Burma bases of Myitkyina, Mogaung and Kamaing were vitally surrounded and their forces retreating from Kohima, India, were offering only delaying opposition.

Allied radio reports said Chinese troops have captured Lungling, objective of the current allied offensive in southwestern China, but there has been no official confirmation.

Breach Lungling
The Chinese high command announced that enemy defenses of Lungling, important Burma road base, have been breached and Chinese troops have occupied the southern part of the city.

Fall of Lungling, one of Japan's two main bases in Yunnan province, would jeopardize Japanese forces to the north, where Chinese are within 12 airline miles of Tengchung and are closing in on Japanese headquarters at Watien.

Fig for Changsha
In central China, however, Japanese forces are said to be battling in the "outer defenses" of Changsha, capital of Hunan province.

In the Central Pacific, American planes blasted targets at Truk, Ponape and Pakin in the Carolines, Nauru to the south, and isolated Japanese in the Marshalls.

FDR SIGNS DEBT BOOST, CLUB TAX
WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today legislation reducing the night club tax from 30 to 20 per cent, effective July 1, and boosting the national debt limit to $260,000,000.

The present debt limit is $210,000,000 and the increased ceiling clears the way for the $160,000,000 Fifth War Loan drive beginning Monday.

Before sending the bill to the White House, congress eliminated a senate provision exempting members of the armed services from the night club-cabaret tax. Tax experts had advised the provision would be impossible to administer.

The night club tax was raised from 5 to 30 per cent last April 1. Backers of the reduction to 20 per cent said the 30 per cent levy had thrown entertainers out of work and that the government was losing revenue because of a decline in night club business.

have happened in other fields if there had been no controls." Different Levels

The ceilings were fixed at different levels for three broad geographical regions. Highest prices prevail in the far west, lowest prices in the region east of the Mississippi river, and ceiling about halfway between for the remaining states.

Two ceiling prices were set for each model, one covering a car sold "as is," the other a "warranty" price covering cars sold by dealers with the guarantee that they are in good operating condition.

Drop Four Per Cent
The ceilings will drop four per cent of the "as is" price every six months. After every sale, the buyer and seller must fill out a transfer certificate and turn it in to the buyer's local ration board.

Typical ceilings on a 1942 model Ford V-8 deluxe four-door sedan in region C (Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada and Arizona) are $1065 "as is" and $1331 on a "warranty" basis; $940 and $1175 for the 1941 model; and $475 and $594 for the 1937 model.

Many dealers, Bowles said, have "patriotically" tried to hold their prices down, but average prices have continued to rise. Additions may be made to ceiling prices for specified extra equipment.

All persons who are not dealers are required to sell at the "as is" price or less.

Witness Sees Allies Take Back Lost Strong Points

By EVERETT VILANDER

ABOARD H. M. S. SCORPION, June 10 (AP)—Strongly-reinforced German detachments pinned down advanced allied units in this area last evening and threw them out of two localities by determined counter-attacks. The allied position appeared critical.

From the bridge of his destroyer I watched the great British battlewagon H. M. S. Rodney move majestically to the point directly opposite the threatened area. Her big 16-inch guns began to belch smoke and shook this ship like a terrier as scores of 2000-pound shells hurtled into the German strongpoints.

The British cruiser H. M. S. Mauritius and the Norwegian destroyer Stord joined the attack at the request of the armed forces. They bombarded two houses on the coast. I watched the shell bursts creep up the beach. When the ships found the range, they poured hundreds of shells into the houses until they were enveloped in smoke and dust.

Then British troops advanced through the shell holes and reaptured the localities they had lost. The seafront of the little town off which we are patrolling today resembles one of the world's thriving ports. Hundreds of craft, including more than 30 big merchant vessels and LST's are crowded along the beach.

The weather is ideal for landing reinforcements. Allied fighter planes buzz helter-skelter through the azure sky like a swarm of flies.

Taxi Strikers Back on Jobs

PORTLAND, June 10 (AP)—Portland's 480 striking taxicab drivers were back at their wheels today after nine days of idleness without having won any of the points they sought to have changed in a new city ordinance.

But they were hopeful for a revision of the measure after Municipal Judge J. L. Quillin declared there were "reasonable grounds" for their objections and that the ordinance might be unconstitutional.

Their chief protests were against filing photographs with police and a provision which they maintained gave dictatorial powers to the municipal bus inspector.

AMERICAS AT ODDS, EDUCATOR ASSERTS

By WALTER J. MASON
FREDERICK, Md., June 10 (AP)—Dr. Hernane Tavarez De Sa, Brazilian educator who is special adviser to the coordinator of international affairs in Washington, asserted Friday that relations between the United States and Latin-American countries had been deteriorating for months and had "been very carefully kept out of the press in this country."

Dr. Tavarez' statement was made as he spoke before the International Education assembly during a discussion whether representatives from Argentina would attend the next assembly meeting.

The Brazilian representative, professor on leave from the University of Sao Paulo, attributed the "deterioration of inter-American relations" to three main reasons: political, economic and personal conduct.

Politically, Dr. Tavarez said, Latin-Americans "do not know and they fear" what will be done with Brazilian bases (now being used by the United States) after the war. He said they were afraid the United States would attempt to retain them.

Making it clear that he was presenting the viewpoint of Brazilians, the educator said that other countries of South America shared similar concern.
