Vacationers in Business

Local Klamath misses are helping the war effort by relieving the manpower shortage this summer. Most of the girls are giving up their well-earned vacations to spend a few months working in local stores and offices.

Rugh as receptionist; Barbara King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marks, helping out at the Klamath Furniture store; Barbara Roskamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ambitious Workers

By JUNE BOSWORTH
Ambitious—and patriotic—high school girls are giving up parts of their summer vacations to help out in local stores and offices.

Among the working girls are Edna Renner, Marjorie Wiggin, Sue Gobbels, Janice Billings and Vera Badorek who are employed at Newberry's. Behind the counters at Woolworth's are Karen Hardin and Barbara Kvern.

At Montgomery Ward's, Don Brotherton, Genevieve Lund and Beverly Almes are helping out for the summer.

Employed at the Klamath Furniture company is Barbara King and Joan O'Neill is a helper at the Firestone store. Clerking at the Southern Pacific railroad office is Sharon Mills, and Billie Lee McAdams is employed by Kennell-Ellis, is Nanette Schubert.

Brita Lion is helping out at Pointe's, and Charlotte Carter is receptionist for Dr. J. H. Carter and Dr. C. V. Rugh in the Medical-Dental building. Behind the fountain at the Lost River Dairy are Barbara Roskamp and Ruth Merrill. These girls are all Juniors and seniors at Klamath Union high school.

Soroptimists

Soroptimists listened to a very educational and inspiring talk on bond selling by Joe Hicks, Klamath county chairman of the Fifth War Loan Bond Drive. Mr. Hicks was introduced by his wife, Eileen Hicks, a Soroptimist member and program chairman for the day.

The government, Mr. Hicks said, has set June 12th for this bond sale opening, because that date it will be necessary to borrow money from its citizens to carry on the war and bring it to a successful conclusion. The invasion of Europe will require vast additional expenditures for equipment, food and munitions—in fact the estimated funds required for 1944 amount to 99 billions, 41 billions are to be raised in taxes, which leaves 58 billions to be raised through bond sales. Mr. Hicks further stated that he believed the general public realized how much the government needed their money that would not be necessary to have a bond drive, and that it is imperative that the information be broadcast to every individual. He also stressed the danger of inflation if the people do not put their surplus earnings into war bonds.

An interesting letter was read from a member of a sister club in Great Britain. Committee appointments for the coming year were read by resident-elect Catherine Brumby who presided in the absence of President Rose Poole.

Two guests besides the speaker are greeted—Miss Gerda Persson of Washington, D. C., formerly of Klamath Falls, and Mrs. M. C. Steinhilber of New York City. Miss Persson is in government work and has been transferred recently to San Francisco.

Bridge Club

Mrs. O. K. Puckett entertained a group of women at bridge at her home on Earle street Tuesday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with tulips and other spring flowers. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Lloyd Porter, Mrs. William Buskirk, Mrs. Lloyd Prock, Mrs. Don Harlan, Mrs. John Harlan, Mrs. Leroy Erdmann, Mrs. May Conradi and Miss Mildred Crawford.

Happenings Around Town

Regretful farewells have been said this past week to several Klamath residents who have made their homes here for some time. Frank Ramsey, KUHS football and basketball coach, bade his family goodbye Friday morning when he left for duty with the marine corps. Mrs. Ramsey and two children will leave later to make their home in Grants Pass.

Other well-known residents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poppy have left to make their home in Portland.

June wrote the story on the number of high school girls working this summer.

Sojourners

Outgoing officers will be hostesses for tea when Sojourners meet at the Willard hotel on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Conradi discovered the "perfect wedding" in a town where he knew no one. She came to the rescue and donated the house, bridesmaid, and all the fixings. The appreciation of the young couple was almost heartbreaking and something she'll not soon forget.

First word of the wedding of Barbara Johnson and Stuart Nelson was heard by Klamathites over the 9 o'clock news the other night. Details and pictures should arrive this next week. The ceremony was read at Annapolis after Ensign Nelson, a Salem boy, graduated.

Quite a few Klamath girls are arriving home from schools and colleges around the country lately, although because of the late date that a lot of schools let out for the summer, many are still to come.

Guest writer this week is June Bosworth, daughter of Major and Mrs. Harlan Bosworth, who has also worked on the Krater, high school paper.

From Oakland

Visiting in Klamath Falls this week were Mrs. J. O. Packard and daughter, Mary Anne, former residents of this city and now of Oakland, Calif.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. L. J. Brink entertained for them at her home at 2241 Orchard avenue. Friends and former neighbors of Mrs. Packard's who attended were Mrs. S. Mohr, Mrs. Glenn Stivers, Mrs. E. L. Mitchell, Mrs. George Randall, Mrs. W. C. Little, Mrs. M. Dexter, Mrs. J. E. Henders and Mrs. S. R. Berry.

Eight Years Old

Robert Rozendal, son of Dr. and Mrs. Peter Rozendal of 1444 Crescent, celebrated his eighth birthday on Tuesday, June 6, and several friends were present to enjoy the games and the birthday cake with its eight candles. The invited guests were Donnie Hall, David Deller, Kenneth McKim, Douglas and Roderick Van Buskirk, Clifford Rowe, David Maxwell, Richard Gustafson, Donald Williams, and small Paul Rozendal, two and a half.

Home from Stevens college at Columbia, Missouri, is Jean Underwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Underwood. Wanda Shaw and Dorothea Ellingson, also students at Stevens, will return home later this month.

Clarine Rowe, formerly of this city, is visiting this week with Mrs. Emmaline Turner of 3504 Cannon drive and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Henry of 616 Lincoln. She is now making her home in Portland, where she moved two years ago. She will return to Portland in time for the opening of the Fifth War Loan drive Monday, as she operates the only labor unions' bond booth in the city.

Nile Club

The Klamath Falls Nile club met on Tuesday, June 6, for a one o'clock luncheon in the Pelican party room. The room and tables were beautifully decorated with roses and each member was presented with a lovely corsage.

Mrs. Robert Thompson presided over the meeting in the absence of Mrs. George Hillis, president, who was out of the city.

There were 36 members present with guests from the valley including Lena Price, Katherine Seekatz, Phena Nordwick, Mrs. Obermeyer and Mrs. Rynning, all officers in the Zuleima Temple.

The birthday prize was awarded to Mrs. Walter Beane and special awards went to Mrs. Louis Serruys, Mrs. Leo Huls, and Mrs. Walter Brown. A beautiful memorial was given for the late Mrs. Millard Cooper, who has been a member of the club, by Mrs. Wilbur A. Arnold.

The group then presented farewell gifts to Mrs. J. H. Poppy and Mrs. Wilbur Arnold and expressed their regret at losing these two members who are past presidents and have given much of their time. Mrs. Poppy goes to Portland and Mrs. Arnold will make her home in Medford.

This was the final meeting of the summer months and the club will resume its activities in September.

Sharon Danelle is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. John R. Waymire (Sybil Bowne) for their young daughter born here on May 13. Mr. Waymire is stationed at Fort Worden, Wash., and Mrs. Waymire and the babe are staying with her mother, Mrs. Stella Bowne, of High street. Sharon has the same birthday as her six-year-old cousin, Arden Roger Bowne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowne.

Marine Weds at Conradi Home

Gene Pepple of Elkhart, Indiana, and Michael E. Rybarczyk, stationed at the Marine Barracks, were married this past Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Henri Conradi. This is one of the first marine corps weddings to take place in Klamath Falls. Mr. Rybarczyk formerly lived in Chicago, Illinois, and has been stationed for the past 22 months in the South Pacific.

Reverend Victor Phillips of the First Methodist church read the ceremony before an altar banked with pink hawthorne and bridal wreath and tall white tapers. The table was covered with a beautiful lace cloth and was centered by a wedding cake.

The bride's only attendant was Mary Ann Grafton of Klamath Falls and the best man was Sergeant Harry Champlin, also stationed at the Marine Barracks.

The bride wore a steel gray suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Grafton wore an aqua wool crepe with brown velvet trim.

The young couple left after the ceremony for Chicago, Illinois, where they will spend their honeymoon. And for a reception to be held in Chicago at the home of parents when they arrive, a piece of the wedding cake was taken along.

Reames

Rainy weather interrupted the scheduled tournament for the Lamm trophy at the Reames Golf and Country club Friday. However, it will be played next week if weather conditions permit.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. H. M. Moe and Mrs. Oscar Shive. A prize of the day was won by Mrs. Matt Finnegan. During the afternoon there were four tables of bridge in play.

Capitol News

Klamath people making the news in Washington, D. C., include Mrs. Robert Thayer, who is the former Henrietta Wright. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Wright and attended grade school and high school in Klamath Falls.

The following is taken from an article appearing with a picture in the Washington Times-Herald:

"Youthful, and quietly efficient, she goes about her war jobs with so little fanfare it's no wonder her co-workers are surprised by her accomplishments... but there's a reason. Before coming to Washington she headed a department called 'merchandise literature' for a large mail order house in Chicago.

"That experience, preceded by a degree from Northwestern, made it easy for her to accept, without batting a pretty eyelash, the volunteer chairmanship of the important opportunities department at the Volunteer Office of the District of Columbia. There, it is her job to contact the 150 agencies the volunteer office supplies with volunteer workers.

"In her streamlined department each member has a well-defined job; her own division happens to be the hospitals, to which she sends a constant stream of willing workers to lighten the loads of the regular staffs.

"Her newest project in this connection is the recruiting of businessmen to serve as volunteer orderlies and hospital aides. Her enthusiasm for this project is intense because it is new in Washington and so badly needed.

"Besides the three and four days devoted to the volunteer office each week she gives another day as receptionist at the United Nations Service center. She covered her area for the Red Cross membership drive and is a victory gardener."

Dance

Members of the Elks were sponsors of a dance given Friday evening at the Elks Temple for men from Tullake, the Marine Barracks, and men and WAVES from the naval air station. Hostesses were members of the Junior Hostess club. The dance was invitational.

Patrons and patronesses were members of the committees which are responsible for these dances were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. John Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whytal, Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. Estlin Kiger and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Limman.

Music was furnished by Baldy Evans and his orchestra.

Guests at the Leslie Rogers home this weekend are Mrs. Lloyd Schmidt and daughter Sandra Jean of Sheridan, Oregon. Mrs. Schmidt may be remembered as the former Harriet Hunter of this city. She is stopping over here for about ten days en route to her home from Lemon Grove, California, where she has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hill Hunter, also former residents of Klamath Falls, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter. Mr. Schmidt will join his family here later. Mrs. Schmidt and daughter are also visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ravizza of Chiloquin.

Virginia Howard and Doris Weinberg returned home this past week from the University of Oregon at Eugene. Both are affiliated with Delta Gamma.
