GRANGE CHIEF FLAYS OPA AT STATE MEETING

GRANTS PASS, June 12 (AP) Addressing the 71st session of the Oregon state grange here today, Morton Tompkins, state master, condemned "high handed tactics of the office of price administration" and questioned the wisdom of attempting to settle large numbers of returning veterans on farms.

Nearly 300 delegates were welcomed at the opening session this morning by Mayor Joe Wharton. Glen Adams, Polk county, grange treasurer, responded.

Tompkins declared that the whole economic structure of the farmer may be broken down through the loyal production of mountains of food now in storage on farms.

He denounced "the high-handed" tactics of the OPA in setting price ceilings at levels that in many instances are below cost of production and the failure of the war food administration to fulfill its promises of support prices on certain essential food crops has been and is scandalous.

There are innumerable instances where the OPA has delayed announcing ceiling prices on crops uhtil such crops were ready to harvest, after the farmer has invested all of his time and money necessary to produce the crop. And far too often such ceilings have been established with only one thought in mind. . . A bull-headed resolve to "hold the line" without regard for actual out of pocket production costs, Tompkins charged.

"The war food administration has also been guilty of bringing financial injury upon producers by tongue in cheek promises to maintain support prices at certain levels. The promises were accepted in good faith by the farmers, only to find to their sorrow that this agency of the federal government does not live up to its solemn obligations in many instances, he added.

Italians Get Duty At Seattle Port

SEATTLE, June 12 (AP)—A company of Italian co-belligerents—former prisoners of war who have taken the oath of allegiance to the United States—have been assigned to non-combatant duty at the Seattle port of embarkation, the army announced.

An American captain is liaison officer between the commanding general of the port and the Italian company, commanded by its own officers. When Italians have learned the routine they will handle the entire assignment.

Major Boyington Thought Still Alive

TACOMA, June 12 (AP)—Maj. Gregory Boyington, in the opinion of the "grapevine," still is alive and being cared for on a Southwest Pacific island by natives.

Mrs. E. J. Hallenback, the major's mother, here to christen an aircraft escort carrier Saturday, said she was told a week ago by a friend of the marine air hero that "all the boys are convinced he is alive."

Boyington failed to return from the Rabaul raid on which he downed his 26th Japanese plane to tie Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's first World war record.

Bay Meadows Will Close This Week

SAN MATEO, Calif., June 12 (AP)—Bay Meadows will close its 65-day spring racing meet this week, completing a 10-day charity purse extension granted by the state horse racing board.

Jade Boy streaked down stretch to beat Valdina Andire by a half-length in Saturday's feature. Gold Call ran third. The winner paid $5.40, $4.60 and $3.00. Valdina Andire, $9.10 and $5.60, and Gold Call $4.60.

Windup week stakes include the $5000 Lassie handicap Wednesday, $5000 juvenile handicap Thursday, $10,000 George Marshall and $5000 Harry Morissey handicaps Saturday.

Market Quotations

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Selected stocks climbed into new high ground today in the busiest market of the year following the leadership of motor and other manufacturing issues expected to enjoy heavy demand when civilian production is resumed.

Buying was touched off by the new allied advances in France, lifting hopes for peace earlier than had been anticipated.

Fast from the start with automotives appearing in large blocks, the pace of trading kept in high gear throughout and transfers amounted to around 2,000,000.

Mostly at their best levels of 1944 or longer, the low-priced manufacturing issues accounted for the heavy turnover and moved ahead fractions to around a point.

Buoyant and setting new tops were General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Du Pont, Willys Overland, Continental Motors, Studebaker, Hupp Motor, Nash-Kelvinator, Graham-Paige, Bud manufacturing, Hayes Manufacturing, Philco, Crane Co., American Radiator and Gimbel.

Rails rallied in the bond market.

Improving in the curb were Carrier Corp., Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Republic Aviation, Electric Bond and Share and Niagara Hudson Power.

WHEAT

CHICAGO, June 12 (AP)—Weakness at other markets, lack of demand and scattered hedging sales gave wheat futures a weak undertone today and prices were down sharply. Principal factor in the decline was the lag in buying interest.

The trade in rye turned bearish after a rally at the opening and at times prices were off as much as a cent. Oats were weak.

Wheat closed ⅜c to ⅛c lower than Saturday, July $1.56¾-⅞. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower, July 74⅛c. Rye was unchanged to ⅛c higher, July $1.05⅝-⅞. Barley was off ⅛c to ⅜c, July $1.17⅛.
