

TROOPS FEAR OPTIMISM ON HOME FRONT

By DON WHITEHEAD
 WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE, June 15 (AP)—The ghastly days of the beachhead landing are past, but everywhere I find the troops afraid that the people at home are too optimistic.

We hear that the reaction to the beachhead fighting in both England and the United States that the war is all over except for a few messy details and that the public's feelings are bounced like a rubber ball. They should be feeling good at the allies grabbed a hold of the continent without the blood bath that many predicted. Actually there was only one sector of the American front where there was any bit of fighting getting across the beaches—and that was where the fighting first division and elements of the 29th smashed head on into a reinforced German division waiting on the beach.

The assault troops who battled their way from the beach at first day should have a ribbon to wear as a special mark of distinction. It was a battle in which the doughboys overcame every obstacle the enemy could put in their way.

But this is only the initial phase of a giant operation. The greatest battles lie ahead with the enemy slowly being hemmed in on all sides. The real tests will come when divisions are hurled against divisions in tank struggles.

While a most critical period behind us, the situation cannot be regarded as past the dangerous stage until the allies are able to build up huge reserves and burst out from their ridgehead.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

AIR SERVICE COMMAND HEADQUARTERS SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND—T/4 Benjamin G. Collins of Klamath Falls was one of the air service command drivers recently commended for his efforts in keeping supplies moving up to the airfields from which our bombers and fighters are smashing the axis.

MAXWELL FIELD, ALABAMA—Two youths from Klamath Falls have reported to the pre-flight school at Maxwell field, Alabama, to begin another phase of their training in the U. S. army air forces.

Here the aviation cadets are receiving nine weeks of intensive physical, military, and academic instruction.

These men are Aviation Cadets Robert J. Hrvorsen, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Hrvorsen, 2530 Gottle, and Frank D. Huss, 730 Main, Klamath Falls.

TRANSFERRED—Pvt. Jess R. Bemis, formerly of Bly, has been transferred from Camp Abbot to Fort Lewis, Wash., where he will be given advanced training. Before his induction in January, Jess was employed by the Beauty Logging company.

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND, Somewhere in England—M/Sgt. Harry F. Galarneau, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Galarneau, of Rt. 3, Box 415, Grants Pass, Ore., is now overseas, helping to "keep 'em flying" with the aircraft section of a large air service command depot "somewhere in England."

M/Sgt. Galarneau and the men of this section, help to keep our combat planes the best in the aerial battle being fought in the skies over Germany by adding the most up-to-date improvements to ships after the new inventions are perfected.

M/Sgt. Galarneau is one of the men recently commended by Lieutenant General Carl Spaatz, commanding general of the United States strategic air forces in Europe, when production at the depot was increased by over 100 per cent.

Before entering the army, he was employed by the California Shipbuilding corporation in Richmond, Calif., as a shipfitter.

CO-PILOT—Second Lt. Clyde M. Horsley is now stationed at March field and is a co-pilot on a B-24. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horsley of Bonanza and is a graduate of the Bonanza high school.

Lt. Horsley took his cadet training at King City and Chico, Calif., and received his wings at Douglas, Ariz., on March 12, 1944.

SAN MARCOS ARMY AIR FIELD, TEXAS—Qualified for one of wars most delicate assignments—the navigation of mighty air force bombers blasting the way for the armies of liberation—young men from all parts of the nation were graduated Saturday, June 10, from the army air forces navigation school at San Marcos, Tex.

The graduates, all lieutenants or flight officers, completed 18 weeks of training in aerial navigation.

Included in this group was Second Lieutenant Benjamin Jacob Goddard, 27, son of Mrs. Dora J. Goddard, 424 Mt. Whitney, Klamath Falls.

AN EIGHTH AAF LIBERATOR STATION, ENGLAND—A B-24 Liberator heavy bomber group of which Staff Sergeant Walter M. McKeen of Keno is a member, recently was officially praised by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, command general of the eighth air force, for achievement on its first mission which was against Berlin. The action was the German capital's worst daylight attack of the war and left huge fires raging in the city.

FREIGHTER CHRISTENED PORTLAND, June 15 (AP)—The 30th Victory freighter built by Oregon Shipbuilding corporation here, the Joliet Victory, was christened yesterday by Mrs. Arthur O. Janke, wife of the mayor of Joliet, Ill. Mayor Janke spoke at the launching.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH

More Firmly In Place
 Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEREEN on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, sticky pasty "glue" or "filling" does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREEN today at any drug store.

OHIOAN GROWS STRONGER IN BALLOT RACE

By JACK BELL
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 A prediction came today from the forces of Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio that he "will receive between 250 and 300 votes on the first ballot" at the republican presidential nominating convention.

This report, supplied by directors of the field staff of the Bricker-for-president committee, accorded their man a total of 174 votes now—50 pledged and 124 definitely claimed—and figured the total for Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York at 285—72 pledged and 213 "probable." Dewey supporters, on the other hand, say he has a total of 391.

Five hundred and twenty-nine votes are needed to nominate and the Bricker people viewed the field of uncommitted delegates as fruitful and said the Ohioan is "growing stronger each day."

The "first ballot analysis" from the Bricker camp came as the election of a republican to congress from the 19th Illinois district shuffled house standings to the point that for the first time in 13 years the democrats lack an actual ma-majority of the house membership. This election yesterday, of Rolla C. McMillen, unopposed, gives the republicans 212 members. The democrats still have 216 but there are four minor party members and thus the democrats have exactly half the total. There are three vacancies.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) yesterday put the party on record—as far as one individual can—for a foreign policy plank declaring for effective cooperation of the nations of the world toward postwar peace and the termination of military aggression.

Vandenberg, who heads the GOP postwar advisory committee on foreign policy, will lay that group's formal recommendations before the platform builders in hearings next week in Chicago.

He told the senate yesterday that the republicans would "stand for a just peace which will implement major promises of the Atlantic charter."

In Idaho the democratic senatorial primary developed into a nip-and-tuck race among three contenders, each of whom held the lead at one stage. Returns from 641 of the state's 845 precincts placed Senator D. Worth Clark in the van, with Glen H. Taylor, Pocatello's "singing cowboy," a close second; James H. Hawley, Boise attorney, third, and John Cornell far behind.

Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen piled up a commanding lead for the republican senatorial nomination over Ben Johnson, 37-year-old Preston attorney.

vice camp at LaPine. The court deliberated only eight minutes and found him guilty.
