Hull Makes Rebuttal to "Erroneous Assertion" Of British Minister

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—America in the months preceding Pearl Harbor was following "the single policy of self-defense," Secretary of State Hull declared in a sharp rebuttal to what he termed an entirely erroneous assertion by Britain's production minister—an assertion that brought a personal apology to the house of commons today from its author.

The British minister, Capt. Oliver Lyttleton, told the house he had no intention of saying in a speech yesterday that American lend-lease aid to Britain had forced Japan into attacking the United States.

Asserting any such statement was "manifestly untrue," he added that he was not complaining of being misquoted and acknowledged that "any misunderstanding is entirely my own fault."

His appearance before commons came after Hull issued a statement last night declaring Lyttleton was "entirely in error" in the remarks attributed to him at a luncheon of the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

Lyttleton earlier released his own version of the interpolation but it contained no reference to this quotation ascribed to him by two American reporters at the luncheon: "It is a travesty of history to say that America was forced into the war."

Hull took no cognizance of the later release, and today the minister's press officer said it was not intended as a verbatim report of the remarks but was "what he said as nearly as he could remember it and certainly was what he intended to say."

It had said Lyttleton described the Japanese as considering American policy as war-provoking only because they chose to do so in their aggressor role.

Today Lyttleton asked commons "to believe that the fault was one of expression and not of intention, and I hope that this apology will undo any harm which the original words may have caused here or in the United States."

A spokesman at the British embassy, describing the minister's remarks as "highly unfortunate," said it could be assumed Lord Halifax, the British ambassador, had cabled a report of American reaction to his government but had taken no other action.

On the list are 28-year-old Richard Condie Sanders, commander of the 98th bombardment wing in the European theater, and 29-year-old Clinton Dermott Vincent, commander of the 68th composite wing of the 14th air corps in the China-Burma-India theater.

These two, together with William Milton Gross and Donald Robert Hutchinson, confirmed at the same time, hold the permanent rank of first lieutenant in the air corps. All four now hold the temporary rank of lieutenant colonel.

Chaperone Chosen For Royal Court
Mrs. N. B. Drew will be chaperone for the Klamath Buckaroo Days queen and her court at the various functions given for them throughout the holiday celebration, it was announced by the rodeo association this week.

An assistant for Mrs. Drew will be selected this week. Several affairs are being planned for the queen, after she is crowned this Saturday, and for the eight princesses.

Stay of Execution Granted to Layton
SALEM, June 21 (AP)—The state supreme court today agreed to a stay of execution to allow a United States supreme court appeal by Richard H. Layton, former Monmouth police officer, who is under death sentence for the rape-slaying of Ruth Hildebrand, 17, Dalls, whose body was found in the Willamette river a year ago.

Layton now is in the prison. The state supreme court unanimously upheld his conviction several weeks ago.

CHIANG URGES COLLECTIVE SECURITY PLAN

CHUNGKING, June 21 (AP)—A general system of collective security, backed if necessary by an adequate international force, was urged by President Chiang Kai-Shek tonight at a brilliant state banquet given by him and Mrs. Chiang in honor of Vice President Henry A. Wallace.

Assuring the visiting American that China wishes to live in good neighborliness, harmony and peace with all nations, the generalissimo said:

"We respect the integrity and independence of every nation. We dream no dreams of domination. We have no territorial ambitions."

The Chinese believe, he said, in an ever-increasing cooperation with other countries in matters economic, financial, cultural and political, "and in the development of our industry and our immense natural resources we will welcome foreign investment and foreign technicians."

Pending the inauguration of collective security, which he said could not be achieved unless the military might of the common enemies is totally annihilated, Chiang said the United States, the British commonwealth, the soviet union and China "must shoulder the responsibility of maintaining international peace."

"In war and, indeed, in war and in peace, the United States of America has always been China's staunch friend," he said.

He asked Wallace to take back the message to President Roosevelt, the American congress and the people that the people of China deeply appreciated the moral and material support America has accorded China, and that China is as determined as America in destroying the forces of aggression, in establishing an enduring world peace and in promoting the welfare of mankind.

Parking Meter Ordinance Under Legal Observance
PORTLAND, June 21 (AP)—A suit seeking to have Portland parking meter ordinance declared unconstitutional is underway in circuit court.

James Hickey, merchant, contends the ordinance is an unauthorized revenue-producing measure and installation of the meters was an unreasonable exercise of police powers.

Cooperation of Japanese Appreciated, Says King

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Admiral Ernest J. King, navy commander-in-chief, expressing appreciation for the "long expected cooperation" of the Japanese navy in apparently moving into battle position, expressed confidence today in the outcome of a prospective naval engagement in the western Pacific.

"The sooner the Japanese fleet fights, the better we'll be satisfied," King said.

He made his statement after Navy Secretary Forrestal had reported that despite strict radio silence from the Pacific there have been some indications that American forces "may have succeeded in catching up with all or a part of the Japanese fleet yesterday."

Forrestal added that there is, however, "no definite information" as to the prospective engagement.

He based his comment upon a statement yesterday by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander in chief, who reported the Japanese fleet had been located in the waters east of the Philippine islands and indicated that some engagements may already have been fought.

Forrestal reported that the Japanese fleet has been sighted at "various times during the past few days, milling around from 500 to 800 miles to the westward of Saipan island" in the Marianas east of the Philippines.

(A Japanese broadcast recorded at London said today that a "fierce naval battle" is raging off the Marianas).

Forrestal said that Japanese planes attacked American naval units near Saipan Sunday and indicated that the planes apparently came from carriers which at that time were some 500 miles to the westward.

The Japanese plan, he continued, seems to have been to launch the aircraft with the idea that after attacking they would be able to land for refueling on Guam and Rota, Japanese-held bases in the Marianas.

"We have no other details of the resulting air battle," he continued, "other than the fact that our forces were ready for the attack."

"Our carrier aircraft and ships' anti-aircraft guns wiped out most of the Japanese planes."

At Pearl Harbor Admiral Nimitz has reported that the Japanese have lost a total of 600 planes since action began in the Marianas.

King, asked about the prospective engagement there, said that the communique from Nimitz speaks for itself and, combined with Forrestal's report, covers the situation "as accurately as we know it."

"You are not worried about the outcome?" he was asked.

BONDS TO BACK FIGHTING MEN

PORTLAND, June 21 (AP)—In the next 100 days American fighting men will write history for 100 years to come and their efforts must be backed with bonds.

So declared E. C. Sammons, Oregon war bond chairman, at the launching of the Tanker S. S. Forbes Road at the Kaiser Swan Island shipyard last night.

Ted R. Gamble, wife of the national director of the treasury department's war finance division, christened the vessel. The ceremony was broadcast nationally as part of a treasury bond program.

"Ted Gamble says this war is costing us $250,000,000 a day," Sammons said. "Oregon's share is $125,000,000, or one 12-hour shift."

Sammons earlier announced Fifth War Loan bond sales had reached $15,982,520 for 12.7 percent of quota.

CURLEE CLOTHES

King, who recently returned from the conferences, said that he has been their plan to return to the United States today from the visits which took them to the beachheads of France and to points in Italy and North Africa.

Asked by Forrestal if he had any opinions as to the reasons the Germans failed to counter-attack heavily when the invasion began, King replied, "I think it's a puzzle to everyone. No one understands it. It may have been their plan to wait for another Dunkirk. But the opportunity for doing that seems to be pretty well past."
