

WEST COAST CARNIVAL SET FOR HOLIDAY

All the glitter and glamor of the West Coast Amusement company carnival, the largest on the west coast, will be in Klamath Falls next week as an added attraction to the Fourth of July Buckaroo Days celebration.

The carnival which has 100 pieces of rolling equipment and a personnel of over 500 persons, will arrive in Klamath Falls Tuesday, June 27, and remain here over the Fourth of July.

The show carries 10 riding devices, including the merry-go-round, tilt-a-whirl, ferris wheel, giant high sky racer and the scooter. Ten shows are also featured. Bob Mathews and his wonder lion, King Tuffy, the only living lion who holds a paid-up card in the Lions club and is well known as the lion with the human brain, will be shown. Here, too, with the carnival will be Toto, world's largest gorilla and his family.

Pink lemonade, candy cotton, peanuts and popcorn will be sold as usual.

Bill Jessup, press representative and general utilities man with the West Coast Amusement company carnival, who has played the last 15 Fourth of Julys in Klamath Falls, stated that the carnival is one of the most brilliantly lighted midways in America and that this year it is bigger and better than ever.

Because of the huge size of the show, it will be necessary for it to be located on the circus grounds on South Sixth.

TULELAKE COUNCIL MEMBER RESIGNS

TULELAKE — Councilman Jack McLain, who recently moved to a farm to make his home, disqualifying him for future service on the council, tendered his resignation to the city fathers this week. A successor will be appointed at the next regular meeting.

The council went on record as granting a two-weeks vacation with pay to the city clerk, Mrs. Victoria Thaler.

Charles Westre and H. L. Corbett appeared to seek information on remodeling homes in Tulelake in compliance with the zoning ordinance.

Mrs. Byrd Heitz was granted permission to sponsor a war bond auction during the Fifth War Loan campaign, in the near future.

Air, Water Charts Scheduled Soon

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24 (AP) — Anticipating a postwar civilian rush for aeronautical and navigation charts, the U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey soon will begin extensive field work in Oregon and Washington.

This was announced by Rear Adm. L. O. Colbert, director, who added that Capt. T. J. Maher, New York, formerly in charge of the eastern district, will head a branch office to be opened here.

Living Costs Boosted by Black Markets, Upgrading

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP) — The path of price controls is crossed by crooked dealers. Cheats dip their sticky fingers into American pocketbooks. Their tricks boost living costs. And their tricks are widespread.

In the year ahead OPA—with a staff of lawyers and investigators totaling about 4700—hopes to do a better job than it has been able to do so far. But without the help of local boards the job would be impossible.

There are 600,000 food stores, 500,000 restaurants, and a total of 1,700,000 retail outlets. In addition are all the thousands of manufacturers and wholesalers. The cheating occurs at all levels.

The following outline—given by OPA officials—shows the extent of cheating and black marketing. It by no means takes in all the crooked work.

Gasoline — Worst and most widespread. Racketeers, with counterfeit gas coupons, have moved in. They drain away millions of gallons intended for legitimate, permitted use.

In food there is chiseling in meat, butter, poultry, bananas, fish and sugar.

Meat — Starts with slaughterers. They sell to wholesalers, charge OPA prices for the record, and then the hidden cash on the side. Wholesalers work the same racket with retailers. Retailers make up for this extra cost by giving you short weight or charging for a better grade of meat than you get.

Poultry — Was widespread but centers now mainly in the southwest. So-called truckers go right to the farmer, pay him excessive prices, ignore the usual trade channels and sell direct to retailers. In this way the truckers save the profit which would normally have gone to the wholesalers who buy from farmers and sell to retailers.

Bananas — The old, prewar banana importers are observing the rules of OPA. But a lot of fly-by-night operators have sprung

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press
NAME PLEASE!
TUCSON, Ariz. — One detail was missing in an order from a soldier in England to a Tucson florist shop.

He specified the number and type of roses, the inscription for the card and the exact time and day for delivery, but—
He forgot the name of the girl.

WILLING TO HELP, BUT—
PASCO, Wash. — Al McCoy of Yakima, candidate for the democratic nomination for representative in congress, thought he saw an opportunity to talk to a group of voters.

He interviewed workers harvesting peas on the farm of State Senator Henry Copeland. Ninety per cent of them were willing to do all they could for him, he said.

Back at the house, he learned the harvest hands were convict laborers without the right to vote.

HITCH-HIKING CANDIDATE
TOPEKA, Kans. — Howard McCue, a republican candidate for a hotly contested state supreme court position, was getting along fine on a hitch-hiking campaign tour through southwestern Kansas the other day.

But when night fell, he was stranded at Belpre until 3:30 a. m.

"That cement got awfully hard," he recalls. "And you know it gets pretty chilly in western Kansas at night."

TOO LATE
BELGRADE, Neb. — Lee DuFoe, with two tires already gone, began a three-mile trip to the ration board for a "showdown" about tires. One of the remaining two blew out en route.

The ration board granted him certificates for new tires. Then DuFoe discovered the wheel rims had been so badly damaged new tires could not be installed.

ATTORNEY SPEAKS AT ROTARIAN MEET

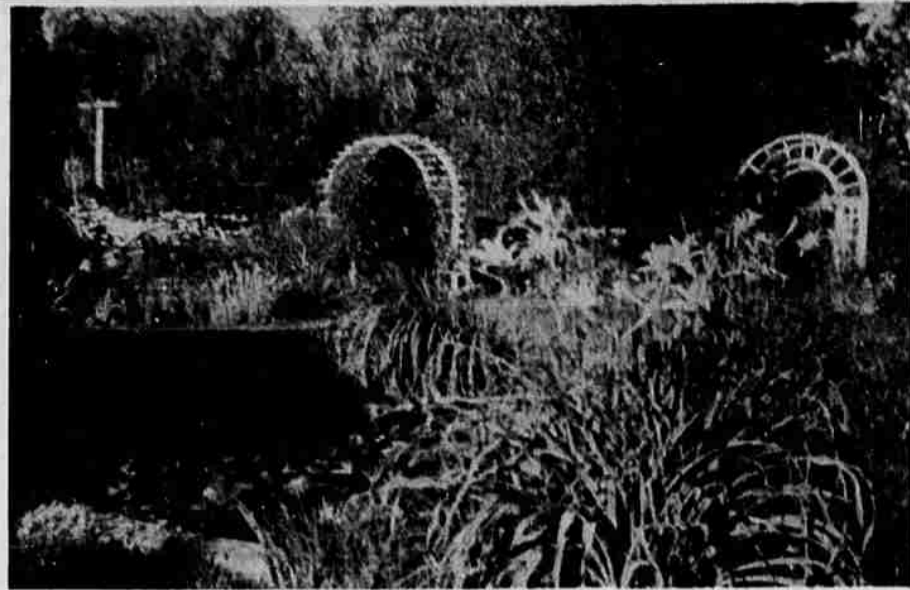

TULELAKE — Melvin M. McConnell, as program chairman for this week's Rotary luncheon meeting, introduced Attorney Richard B. Maxwell, Klamath Falls as guest speaker. His subject, dealing with relations between employer and employee and the problems that are developing for those who employ, was of special interest to both businessmen and farmers in the club.

Paul Landry, Klamath Falls was the only visiting Rotarian.

Mr. Landry will speak at the annual ladies' night scheduled for June '38 when the retiring president, Fred E. McMurphy turns over the gavel to the incoming president, R. M. Prior. Guests from Klamath Falls, Alturas and Cedarville will be present.
