About fifty, including twenty WAVES from the naval air station, attended the picnic supper given by the Business and Professional Women's club at Moore park on Monday evening, June 21, under the direction of the club's recreation committee.

In spite of cool weather the evening proved enjoyable. Tennis, horseshoe, and other games were played, and an identification contest of flowers, shrubs and trees, with Isabelle Brixner acting as leader, was won by Twyla Ferguson, Willie Uhlig and Coral Sabo.

A farewell gift was presented to Alice Stout of the Klamath county health department, who has served as membership chairman for the past year. Miss Stout has accepted a position as public health nurse in the Territory of Hawaii and is leaving within a short time for the islands.

Garden Group

The regular meeting of the Klamath Falls Garden group will be held in the small club room at the city library on June 26 when the members will make the first of the miniature gardens for the Marine Barracks Day rooms.

Since the club year starts at this time there will be a member of the Library club membership committee present to take the dues for the club. Garden group dues are also payable to the secretary. An invitation is issued to all ladies interested in this work program.

The board of directors of the Garden group met Monday, June 19. That the garden group is to take in the program of beautification of the Marine Barracks was discussed and a report was made of plant materials solicited and of those promised for fall transplanting. It was decided to solicit bulbs — such as tulips, daffodils, hyacinths — and it is felt that many interested in the project would be willing to contribute either the bulbs or to a fund for the purchase of planting bulbs this fall.

Anyone that has any extra plant materials should let some member of the Garden group board know and arrangements will be made for its collection and care. The group also wants quantities of perennials, biennials, shrubs, and any plants for rock planting.
