

DEWEY'S VOTE HARVEST GOES WAY OVER TOP

nominating Dewey, an easterner, for president—with Warren, far westerner, as the possible vice presidential choice.

The forces of Gov. John W. Bricker continued their fight nonetheless.

Meddling Charged

Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois had the job of officially welcoming delegates to the windy city in a speech that accused the Roosevelt administration of "political meddling" with the armed forces in running the war.

Green declared that republicans would give the professional fighting men a free hand.

Governor Green denounced "New Dealers" as seeking to remain in power on a "win the war" slogan and asserted: "The winning of the war is uppermost in the mind of every American. . . There is no 'win the war' party in America and public opinion has so properly rebuked the attempts of the new dealers to grab that slogan that they have almost completely abandoned it."

He said a republican triumph this year would "strike dread into the hearts of the enemy."

Military Freedom

"They will know," Green said, "that the government of this nation has passed into the hands of men determined to cut all the red tape and bureaucratic interference with the trained leaders of the United States army and navy. Those officers will have in the conduct of the war the unstinted support of the republican administration, free from the political meddling of second-string bureaucrats."

He praised the delegates as "unsung by the weird pretense that an 'indispensable man' exists" and said they were dedicated to work not only for "the heralded objectives of the 'four freedoms' but resolved to reestablish here in America the 33 freedoms guaranteed to all citizens under the constitution."

The delegates were undemonstrative as they hunted out their seats. They blinked under burning beams of electric light—275,000 watts altogether, the management said—that streamed down on the platform from the bunting-hung balconies.

Chicago was hot today, and the Stadium was steaming like a big coffee cup before the formal proceedings started.

Spectators and delegates joined in singing "Home on the Range." About that time, a story came in over the Associated Press teletype in the AP's platform working section reporting that Dewey reached his office later than usual today but otherwise made no change in his schedule.

Dewey is known to have made train reservations that will place him in Chicago in time for an acceptance speech Thursday.

Among notables on the platform was Will Hays, of the motion picture industry, who was national party chairman in the Harding campaign of 1920.

High overhead hung a huge picture of Abraham Lincoln, the party's first winner, barely visible through a haze of tobacco smoke.

PFC. Harry Reasoner of Minneapolis, a stalwart-looking soldier, likewise was applauded when introduced as the winner of the young republican essay award.

Surprising no one, Gov. Earl Warren of California was elected temporary chairman by acclamation.

Used Cars Not to Be Rationed Yet

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Used passenger cars will not be rationed when they go under price ceilings, July 10, but the office of price administration has not closed the door against possible rationing later.

The OPA in a statement which it said was in reply to "erroneous and widespread reports," reported that the war production board and the office of defense transportation had not reached a decision on the rationing question. OPA commented that used car rationing could not be put into effect until two months after it received a directive from WPB.

Premier-Marshals Joseph Stalin: Orsha—Russian troops of Col. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's third White Russian army broke through German positions northeast of Orsha. They captured 150 villages, including the rail station of Khlustino, 10 miles from Orsha, which is 48 miles south of Vitebsk.

Force River

Mogilev—Col. Gen. Matvei Zakharov's second White Russian army forced the Pronya river, one of the main defenses of Mogilev, and seized Chausi, a district center. Khaikhovich, only 16 miles from Mogilev, also was among more than 200 liberated villages. Mogilev is 90 miles south of Vitebsk.

Bobruisk—Gen. K. K. Rokossovsky's first White Russian army again was on the move in this sector, just above the Pripyat marshes. The troops under this Stalingrad hero hammered out a 50-mile breach in German defenses on both sides of Bobruisk, 70 miles southwest of Mogilev. The German stronghold of Bobruisk appeared to be on the verge of encirclement.

Toward Helsinki

Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army, which had hurled the Germans back from Russia's second city to the Estonian border, now is battering its way toward Helsinki into Finland via captured Viipuri, while Gen. K. A. Meretskov's Karelian front forces are making headway further north in a companion drive between Lakes Ladoga and Oneshkoe (Onega).

Petrozavodsk, capital of the soviet Karelian republic, appeared to be on the verge of falling to Meretskov's troops, who had crossed the Svir river on a broad front. Farther to the north, across Lake Oneshkoe, the Russians had freed another section of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway.

JONES SENTENCED TO TEN YEARS

Allen Elite Jones was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary Monday morning in circuit court after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon.

Jones admitted in court that on the evening of June 2, at Gilchrist, he held up and robbed the owner of Gilchrist the site of two money bags containing approximately $800. The defendant was arrested several days later in Oregon City and brought back to Klamath county.

The 35-year-old man is a two-time loser. He admitted having been convicted of a felony of somewhat the same nature previously.

Americans Reach Mountain, Take Peninsula on Island

tanks have been overwhelmed. Nimitz said, United States troops have destroyed 36 Japanese tanks and captured 44 since the initial landing assaults June 14.

Two Guam air strips were in the main targets in carrier plane attacks Saturday on that former U. S. naval outpost 116 miles south of Saipan. Runways and revetment on the Oropo peninsula airfield were destroyed. Six Japanese planes were destroyed and two more probably destroyed.

Vessel Hit

A large cargo vessel in Apra harbor, damaged in previous attacks, again was hit.

Several tons of bombs were dropped on the airstrip near Apra town, on the western side of the island.

One enemy plane was destroyed in this attack and eight to 10 others damaged.

Planes Destroyed

To enemy planes were destroyed on the ground in the slash at Rota island. Revetments and buildings were bombed and fires started.

In the North Pacific army and navy bombers raided Paramushiro and Shumushu in the Kuriles. Fires were started at both objectives. All planes returned.

Isolated Japanese Marshall island bases were bombed and strafed in neutralization raids.

The Japanese navy has now expended 756 planes and many warships in its fruitless defense of the Marianas.

As a result of a series of great air victories, American soldiers and marines fought into northern Saipan island today, bolstered by unprecedented security against effective enemy attack by air or by sea. Already the Americans who waded ashore at Saipan's southwestern end June 14 hold half the island and have backed the 20,000 or more defenders into the mountains of the north.

Revised List

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, compiling a revised list of enemy and American losses thus far in the Marianas campaign—from June 10 to 23—disclosed for the first time damage to an enemy carrier and two cruisers, and conceded that a tanker previously reported sunk had been only severely damaged.

This brought the total of Japanese aircraft sunk or damaged west of the Marianas during the past week to six.

402 Destroyed

The Nimitz list also disclosed that 402 enemy airplanes were destroyed when Japanese carrier planes attacked American fleet units west of Guam June 18. This was an all-time record for any war theater for numbers of planes downed in one action.

Nimitz announced that carrier-borne fighter planes swept two island in the Kazan group, 727 miles north of Saipan, June 23, sinking five enemy ships, shooting down 116 planes and probably destroying 11 more. Five allied fighters were lost.

Field dispatches today said Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's command had sent a second ultimatum to Nazi garrison troops in Cherbourg demanding "immediate unconditional surrender."

(The German communique said the ultimatum had been ignored.)

The cleanup of the port came as the British on the eastern Normandy front smashed into Nazi defenses between Caen and Tilly-sur-Seulles.

Support Assault

Artillery, one unit to every eight yards, supported this sweeping assault by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's tanks and troops.

Supreme headquarters in this morning's communique said "fighting everywhere" in the port of Cherbourg was "extremely severe," but that the full liberation "cannot be long delayed." The doughboys were rooting out suicide squads of Germans as they neared the end of a fierce, five-day battle to free the supply port.

The Americans had been fighting in the smoking city since yesterday afternoon, when they entered it with a crushing, three way assault.
