

SERIES OPENS WITH TALK BY SECRETARY

"Do You Know What Most You Want in Life?" was the topic of a lecture given Monday evening by Mrs. George Moorhead to Junior Hostesses, Comrades, and other interested persons.

Mrs. Moorhead, field secretary of the E. C. Brown Trust division of Social Hygiene at the University of Oregon Medical School, said that these courses were being given all over the United States in communities such as Klamath Falls where there is an influx of service men.

In her lecture she pointed out that in wartime, living is on an emotional plane and there is an added tension to living. Because of this, behavior is liable to be emotional rather than intellectual.

She also gave the four fundamental needs of human beings. These are recognition, response, adventure, and security. These fundamental needs apply to the servicemen in our community as well as to anyone else, but since the men may be regimented by uniform, some of these needs might be overlooked.

There will not be a lecture next Monday because of the holidays, but the series will continue on July 10 with Dr. Adolph Weinstock, director of the E. C. Brown Trust division of Social Hygiene, speaking on "Do You Know That the Key to Happiness Lies Within Yourself?"

They have begun to FIGHT

Let's call him John Jones. Our John Jones has a fighting heart to match another of that name—John Paul Jones. But John hasn't a chance at a uniform. The doctors would laugh. The draft board would tell him to run along home. For John is 67.

Yet John Jones is fighting in this war. At 67, willing and skillful, he is doing a bang-up job in one of our company's war plants. He is one of many senior Standard Oilers who have earned retirement but are back on duty—because there's a war on.

Since they were young, these oldsters have worked to ward independence. What's more, they already had achieved it. They had an assured income. Each was his own boss. Yet, voluntarily, they've gone back into harness—to help along the war.

Now, youth gives the most to war. But youth gives from morning of life. These others are giving the precious sunset hours. Such was the very spirit of the John Jones who signaled the enemy, "I have not yet begun to fight!" He didn't mean he hadn't started. He meant that, under fire, he would never quit!

To our own John Joneses special mention is due for their sacrifices to help on our vast war job.

Years ago, when this Company set up its retirement system, it was natural to think of it as something special for its people—which, of course, was true.

But so many of our retired employees have elected to serve instead of enjoying the relaxation and pleasures they had earned that we thought you would like to hear about it. This is the real American spirit that will win the war.

Dominoes Gallop En Route to France

Characteristic of the way Yanks took the invasion of France in their stride is this scene aboard a D-Day ship headed for the Normandy beachheads, with Yank soldiers and Coast Guardsmen giving all their attention, and a wad of French invasion money, to the mathematical combinations provided by the dancing dominoes.

War Casualty Figures Released by Churchill

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons today that total British casualties from the time of the landings in Italy until the fall of Rome amounted to 73,122 killed, wounded and missing.

(In Ottawa, the Canadian defense department said that total Canadian army casualties in Italy to the fall of Rome were 11,340, made up of 2268 killed and died of wounds; 8572 wounded and 500 missing and prisoners of war.)

The period covered represents a total of about 10 months of fighting ending June 4, during which time the British participated in many major engagements, including the battles of Cassino and the Anzio beachhead.

Churchill said his figures included 14,331 killed, 47,966 wounded and 10,825 missing. Figures on air force and naval losses during this period were not available.

Churchill said the overall casualties for the British forces for the first four years of the war totalled 867,159—with 158,741 killed, 78,204 missing, 159,219 wounded and 270,995 prisoners.

Civilian casualties for the same period were 109,101 and merchant marine casualties 30,314, he said.

Latest reports on United States casualties on all fronts were 178,877 for the army through June 16, and 46,705 for the navy up to June 22. The total of 225,582 for both services included casualties suffered on the first day of the European invasion.

Of the army casualties, 31,289 are dead, 71,432 wounded, 39,976 missing and 35,980 prisoners. The campaign in Italy from September 9 to June 15 brought 64,992 army casualties, of whom 11,610 were killed, 44,426 wounded and 8956 missing.

DECORATIONS TO BE GIVEN AT BARRACKS

A public ceremony at which decorations will be presented to two of the men at the Klamath Marine Barracks will be held at the Barracks area Sunday at 11 a. m.

The Bronze Star will be presented to Sergeant George L. Lewis for heroic achievement at Bougainville, and Ensign A. L. Day will receive the Presidential Unit Citation in connection with his services with the first wave of marines to hit Guadalcanal.

These ceremonies will be held in the open area near the Barracks gate, which will be open to the public for this occasion. All interested persons are invited, according to Major Clyde Roberts, executive officer of the Marine Barracks.

A review will be a feature of the occasion.

NEWSPRINT CHANGE RECOMMENDED SOON

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Abandonment of the new, lightweight 30-pound newsprint is recommended by a committee of United States newspaper executives after conferences with Canadian newspaper manufacturers.

The executives advised Arthur R. Treanor, director of the war production board's printing and publishing division, to ask the Canadian government to go back to an earlier arrangement. This provided that the dominion guarantee shipment of 200,000 tons of regular 32-pound newsprint monthly.

The committee, appointed by Treanor, said if this step is not taken the total Canadian production will suffer and new cuts will have to be made in American quotas. The lightweight paper is now used by about one-fifth of United States publishers, who use half of all Canadian newsprint.

The newspaper executives urged that their recommendations be put in effect July 1. WPB officials indicated this would be done.

Disguised Airports Discovered In Mexico, Report

MEXICO CITY, June 27 (AP)—A military writer for the newspaper Excelsior, Leopoldo Toquero Dimarias, reports that six camouflaged airfields built by Japanese farmers had been discovered by Mexican military authorities in Lower California.

Not revealing the source of his information, the writer said two of the landing fields were near El Carrizal, a few miles from the Mexican naval station on Magdalena bay. One of these, he said, had a landing strip nearly four miles long. He added the others were in the Liral valley.

Toquero did not say when the airfields were discovered but there were rumors shortly after Mexico entered the war that they existed. Toquero recently returned from an army-sponsored tour of Lower California.

MARTIN SCORES NEW DEAL AT CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 27 (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts took up the gavel as permanent chairman of the republican national convention today with a declaration that his party would "save constitution government at home" and "build an enduring peace."

Martin, minority leader in the house, told the delegates the "day of reckoning" was at hand for the new deal because people are "tired of bungling and fumbling, waste and extravagance, arrogance and bureaucratic dictatorship." Even some democrats have rebelled, he said.

"We have seen the head of the communist political party in this country, Earl Browder, merge his party with Sidney Hillman's CIO political action committee in a drive for a fourth term for President Roosevelt, and the election of a congress that will be subservient to the will of those organizations," he went on.

"It presents a vital issue of this campaign. Do the people want these radical organizations, with their avowed purpose to remake America, to control the presidency, to secure a 'rubber stamp' congress, and to dominate our government? Of course they don't."

LISTEN TO THE GENERAL

 "The American people today own the mightiest military machine in all history. It stands built and ready and trained for its job. It is striking now and will strike again and again at the enemy wherever he exists.

Gasoline makes this machine go. It carries the bombs and propels the tanks and does a hundred other jobs that help us kill the enemy with minimum risk and loss to our own men.

You can be sure that we're using the gasoline you're doing without... where it does the most good!"

IN A TWO-HOUR ATTACK ON THE FRENCH COAST 11,000 PLANES USED 2,200,000 GALLONS OF 100 OCTANE GASOLINE*

RED Lion users who are used to getting extra mileage from each gallon of gasoline will appreciate this fact: An armored division burns up 250 gallons of gasoline every mile it travels. It takes 3 tons of gasoline to deliver a 1-ton bomb.

So if you can't always get all the Red Lion you want... please be tolerant, cheerful and willing to make the sacrifice. It's tough to be without gasoline... but it would be tougher to be without victory.

YOUR PART IS THIS:

- 1 - Don't apply for more gas than you really need.
- 2 - Get into a ride-sharing club and stick to it.
- 3 - Don't patronize the black market.
- 4 - Don't take extra gas or coupons from anyone.

*Minimum figures. Bombers use 200 to 400 gallons of 100 octane per hour.
