MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

CHILOQUIN — Many Chiloquin boys received promotions in rank lately.

Joe Paulazo, stationed in North Africa has been promoted to the rank of M 1/c and is interpreter in both the Spanish and Italian language for the U. S. navy.

Bob Hosley, stationed in India, has been promoted to the rank of technical sergeant.

Bob Wirth was promoted to the rank of Staff-Sgt. He was awarded a Presidential Citation and an Oak Leaf Cluster recently. He is in England.

Charles (Ade) Stinson is with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

Paul Coleman was promoted to the rank of E. M. 2/c. He works with the mine laying unit and is stationed in Hawaii.

Billie Robertson S 2/c has arrived in Hawaii and finds it nice to be able to hire the Hawaiian girls to do his washing cheaply. He writes, "They are better at it than I am."

Bobby Burns stationed in Italy witnessed the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius. He writes it was an awe inspiring sight.

Sgt. Raymond Fuller writes from Camp McQuaide, that he will soon leave for Camp Lee, Va., to enter officers training school.

Herb Rooper, Ph. 2/c has been transferred from Seattle navy base hospital to the Portland receiving base hospital. He returned to the States from New Zealand where he was stationed for 18 months.

Truman Hall stationed in England received a new address recently. Many believe he was among the invasion troops, due to the change in his address.

Sgt. George Gregory has been in a hospital in England for two weeks due to a severe attack of the flu.

Junior Castel, stationed in England, flew his first mission June 5.

Gibson A. Lee with the Royal air force in India writes: "I've been here over a year, when we left England I didn't believe the vessel as large as it was, could possibly make it here with the weight it carried. Yet we are here. My civilized days seem to be over. Here men only wear trousers occasionally, and almost naked coolies sport umbrellas, cows wander where they like, and sleep ditto, where smells all (noxious) re i g n supreme. Our present "drome" is cut off from the outside world. Monkeys swing from the trees by their tails over my sleeping bag. Jackals and hyenas make the nights hideous with their shrieks, and snakes seem to be everywhere and into everything. The heat here is 'sticky', something you can not describe. So much for India, the land of mystery."

Chief Ranger Crouch with the engineer corps writes they are leaving Camp Abbot for Fort Lewis. He was stationed at Fort Lewis once before.

Andy Erickson, still stationed at Iran, has mailed many beautiful gifts to his relatives and friends in the States.

Bobby Simmers with the amphibious forces in the Pacific area writes that he went in with the first assault wave of marines to land on the Marshall Islands.

Lt. Col. Bradford is stationed at New Orleans at this date.

Remo Melchoire visited in Chiloquin a few hours last week. He has returned to a port of embarkation.

John Bradley of the U. S. marines has been transferred from San Diego to El Centro, Calif.

Captain Hank Evans writes he has been transferred from Tampa air base to St. Petersburg, Fla. He is flying the big Forts and says it's nothing like the old days.

Captain Nerseth is still stationed at Camp McQuaide, Calif.

Major Peter Galante is now stationed at a San Francisco army base.

Katherine O'Donoghue, cadet nurse, is stationed at the Good Samaritan hospital at Portland. She likes her work and finds it very interesting.

Ted Ritter has been chosen to attend a four weeks' course at a base in Texas. He has been at Letterman General hospital in San Francisco where he just finished a six weeks course.

Hollis H. Mathis, S 2/c is stationed at Ames, Iowa university. He writes the heat here is fierce, and there seems to be no relief in sight.

Gene Cunial, 3/c radar man has sent Jay money and many interesting letters from the South Pacific theater. He was in on the taking of Tarawa, and writes how really treacherous the Jap is.

Sgt. Ralph Taylor was wounded in Italy and has been transferred to North Africa for special care. His brother, Ray, stationed in New Guinea writes he is going to Australia to a rest camp after some hard work in that area.

Ernel Hosley has finished his boot camp training at Farragut, Idaho, and has been enjoying his leave with his family and friends.

Eddie Davis stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, was awarded a citation for the outstanding X-ray technician for the month of May. Eddie also wears the good conduct bar and clasp along with his service medals.

Bob McCorkhill stationed in North Africa wrote he is on the move again.

my fingers," Jim Griffin, the prisoner, hedged when they neared the piano. "I'll sing instead," so the judge, a good solid sender on the Ivories, played accompaniment.

But his song wasn't good enough. The judge reconvened court and assessed a $15 fine.

clothes of Douglas LeRoy Hulse, 9, causing his death, the coroner reported today. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulse, ran into the house and jumped into a bathtub. He died Friday night.

When special glass used to pass ultra-violet rays becomes too opaque, it can be treated with heat and brought back to normal again.
