opposition and light anti-aircraft fire. The communique said that an earlier report that Tabata, across the river from Yawata, had been hit was in error.

The communique did not make clear whether the two targets in China were attacked by the mission while it was outbound from its China base or whether the two cities were hit on the return flight. There also was the possibility that part of the mission was diverted to attend to the two enemy China cities.

Supply Center The selection of Laoyao and Hankow as targets apparently was related to the Japanese army's thrust southward on the Changsha-Hongyang route. Supplies for the enemy armies presumably would come to a great extent through those cities, with Hankow shipping war supplies up the navigable Yangtze to the Japanese columns.

Sasebo, a naval base comparable to Norfolk or Bremerton, is one of four Japanese naval district headquarters, and a primary repair base for the battered ships of the reluctant enemy fleet.

Yawata Damaged (After first denying that the American attack had hit any of the objectives, the Tokyo radio said in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press today that "some damage was caused to the Yawata arms works, which seems to have been the enemy's main objective.")

"Some fires broke out in the Yawata port area which were, however, soon brought under control."

(A Japanese broadcast directed to the controlled east Asia press declared it had been confirmed that four American Super-Fortresses were shot down. The federal communications commission recorded the broadcast.)

Say It With Love

Of all who ever went into the grave, Christ alone has come forth. And He came forth to quicken His people.

What is it that He now passes on to us? It is His undying love for sinful man. "While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."—BIBLE. Out of His heart of love for sinful man, Christ died for us. He now implants in the heart of His people, this same undying love for others.

Look into China and see that love at work in the heart of the Generalissimo as he prays daily that the Japanese may come to God. Yes—The Spirit of the Risen Christ quickens Chiang Kai-Shek to pray for the enemy, even while they bomb his cities.

Here it comes home to us. Do you profess Christ and yet not at all POSSESS Him? Do you love the Lord God with all your heart, soul, strength and mind and love your neighbor as yourself? This is the Spirit of Christ and if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His."—Romans 8:9.

Are you of those who merely profess Christ and yet will sleep in Christless graves? Or do you POSSESS Him? Do you take forgiveness on the ground that He died for your sins? Have you made Him the Lord of your life?

near an end for sorrowing relatives and friends. At the state armory, converted into a temporary morgue, officials announced last night that all but 11 of the 127 bodies taken there had been identified.

The mayor said that although the park department favored a mass burial of unidentified bodies, he wanted individual graves for all.

Among those identified last night was Edwin G. Woodward, dean of agriculture at the University of Connecticut.

Twenty-five of those injured still remained in a critical condition and hospitals began using penicillin in a desperate effort to stop the mounting number of deaths.

Mayor William Morgensen said it already had been established that the city marshal had not inspected the circus fire fighting equipment.

Sisters Fall Down 50-Foot Cliff

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8 (AP) Two sisters who plunged down a 50-foot cliff near the Columbia River highway last night were in an improved condition at a Portland hospital today.

Mrs. Claudia Austin, 17, Sumner Wash., lost her footing while hiking through slippery moss and crashed over the precipice.

Her sister, Mrs. Florence Williams, 20, Hood River, Ore., ran to her aid only to slip in the same spot.

Other members of the party scrambled down to where the girls were lying in shallow water pools. Hospital attendants said their condition was serious but not critical.

Donald has been stationed in England since February of this year, but has been overseas over a year. He participated in the invasion of Sicily and Italy, coming through these battles without an injury. He joined the armed forces two years ago.

Before entering the service Schultz was employed by the Black and White service station here and at various local mills. His wife is the former Juanita Spicher of this city.

night targets. Other Lancasters hammered the Vaires railway yards on Paris outskirts, and Mosquitos dumped 4000-pound blockbusters on Berlin and a synthetic oil plant in the Ruhr. Thirty-four British bombers were lost, only one falling at Vaires.

Earlier Strike

Earlier, the RAF struck hard at German troop, tank, and gun concentrations just north of Caen, preparatory for the British second army assault this morning.

German flying bombs fell over the southern half of England, including the London area, during the night but the British capital had a respite from the robot raiders during the forenoon and early afternoon perhaps as a result of the aerial blows.

Altogether the allied expeditionary air force made 27 separate attacks on tactical targets yesterday including 14 rail yards and bridges.

WALLACE STOPS IN EDMONTON ON TRIP

EDMONTON, Alta., July 8 (Canadian Press)—Vice President Henry A. Wallace, presumably en route to Seattle where he is scheduled to make a nationwide broadcast tomorrow stopped off in this Alberta capital two and a half hours last night.

He is returning from a nearly six-week fact-finding mission to Siberia and China.

He arrived here after a day's stopover at Grand Prairie, 310 miles northwest of Edmonton, where he visited the dominion experimental farm and "chatted mainly of agricultural problems in China and Russia" according to Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University of Alberta and former president of the research council of Canada.

Wallace spent all day with W. D. Albright, superintendent of the experimental farm at Beaverlodge station eight miles west of Grande Prairie, Dr. Newton said.

During the day's talks, Newton said, Wallace "suggested, with particular reference to Alaska, we should have an inter-Arctic conference as soon as possible between Russia, Canada and the United States to focus attention to these regions and to realize that steps should be taken in development of these territories."
