Goering Points Accusing Finger at Seven Generals Dismissed From Commands

By The Associated Press Reich Marshal Hermann Goering's flat statement that the attempted assassination of Hitler stemmed from "orders of a miserable clique of former generals who had to be chased from their posts" suggested today that Goering was pointing the finger of accusation at seven high ranking German military leaders...

Goering, in a speech to the German people broadcast by the Berlin radio, asserted the dismissed generals were guilty of a leadership "that was as cowardly as it was incompetent."

Most recent to get the axe was Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Runstedt, whose displacement as commander of German forces in the west by Field Marshal Guenther von Kluge was announced two weeks ago.

Runstedt was a general staff officer who was cited for bravery in the first World war, and who became a lieutenant general in 1929. He led the Germans in southern Poland at the outset of this war with smashing success, and later his exploits in France won him the rank of field marshal.

Other generals and field marshals who have been dismissed include: Field Marshal Gen. Walter von Brauchitech—former commander in chief of the German army; frequently said to be at odds with Hitler; was reported in 1941 to have been fired from supreme German command but later said to have been restored.

'Me and My Shadow,' Theme Song of Arkansas Pilot

SEATTLE, July 21 (AP)—Lt. E. O. Ogren brought from the Aleutians today the strange story of how he tried to escape an aerial phantom over Paramushiro and found it was only his own plane's eerie shadow.

The 29-year-old Arkansas City, Kans. pilot is a member of the self-styled "Empire Express" raiders, a section of which has returned to the states.

"I was right over the target," he explained in an interview, "when I happened to glance over my shoulder and saw another plane flying formation with me. None of us had encountered any night fliers over Paramushiro before, but I thought the Jap had pulled a surprise on us."

"I certainly looked as if this plane was in a dy to make a run on me. I tried all sorts of evasive action until I noticed that it was following my every move. Then I realized I was running away from my own shadow."

The shadow was cast against a cloud by the beam of a Japanese searchlight.

Gen. Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen — dismissed as military commander in Belgium in 1943 after reports that he was too "soft" in treatment of saboteurs.

Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Ritter von Lees—replaced on the Leningrad front after failing to stem a series of red army counterattacks in the fall of 1942.

Field Marshal Gen. Ewald von Kleist—replaced on the Russian front, according to a report of a Berlin correspondent, in April of this year; his troops captured Dnepropetrovsk and Rostov at the start of the nazl offensive against Russia in 1941.

Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock — reported dismissed as commander of nazl armies at Stalingrad at the same time Von Kleist was recalled.

Field Marshal Fritz Erich von Mannstein — replaced as commander of German forces on eastern front in Carpathian sector after his troops were mauled severely by Russians, according to report to Swedish newspaper from its Berlin correspondent, in April of this year.

PROCK SHOWS WAR MOVIES TO ROTARIANS

Rotarians, at the weekly club luncheon at the Willard hotel Friday noon, were shown a war movie made by the Caterpillar Tractor company of recent battle operations.

The picture, presented by Lloyd Prock of the Reed Tractor and Equipment company, was on landing and construction operations carried on by the army engineers and Seabees in Africa, Italy, Attu and the South Pacific.

John Boyle of Medford and Harry Utley of Lakeview attending as visitors from neighboring Rotary clubs.

It was announced that next week Marshall Cornett would speak on the republican national convention, which he attended in Chicago.

Gen. Nelson Walker Dies in France

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 21 (AP)—A letter from their soldier son to his mother last night disclosed the death of Brig. Gen. Nelson M. Walker in Normandy.

In the first word Mrs. Doris Wyke Walker had received of the general's death, First Lt. Perrin Walker wrote that his father, attached to the army's general staff corps, was killed in action.

Last February General Walker was awarded the Legion of Merit for his development of soldier training.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I don't blame the fellows overseas for gettin' all het up over it, Judge. For the likes of me I can't see what's all the hurry about holdin' these local prohibition elections while they're away."

"I agree with you, Steve. Time after time...in their letters, in articles, in poll taken to get the views of our fighting men... they have indicated in unmistakable terms that they don't want any action taken on prohibition, either local or national, until they get back."

FDR Accepts Fourth Term Listing From Pacific Coast

By HOWARD FLIEGER A PACIFIC COAST NAVAL BASE, July 20 (Thursday)—(P) President Roosevelt tonight accepted nomination for a fourth term from a special train deep inside this mighty naval base.

Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by his top military aides, reached this base Wednesday night after a six-day transcontinental trip which was locked in the secrecy of military security.

Only a few hundred people saw the presidential train as it moved through 10 states—a sharp contrast to the multitudes which jammed the route of presidents in peace time.

The party left Washington the night of July 13, accompanied by reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service. It spent the next day at the Roosevelt home in Hyde Park, N. Y., where Mrs. Roosevelt joined the group, then made an overnight journey to Chicago.

With the president were Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to Mr. Roosevelt; Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, his military aide; Rear Adm. Wilson Brown, his naval aide; Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntyre, the president's physician, and Samuel I. Rosenman, special counsel to the president and one of Mr. Roosevelt's close advisors.

Also on the train was Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, who explained to reporters he was not a member of the presidential party. He said he plans to leave the group to make a personal inspection of OWI operations.

The president's fondness for his Scotty, Fala, tipped the trip to some spectators who happened to see the black pup being exercised along railroad sidings and identified him almost instantly.
