

DEWEY TALKS WITH C OF C PRESIDENT

PAWLING, N. Y., July 22 (AP)—The restful atmosphere of his Quakerhill farm claimed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey again today after a busy week climaxed by a lengthy discussion of conditions in Russia with Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Johnston, Dewey's dinner guest at the executive mansion in Albany last night, returned July 13 from Russia where he talked with Premier Joseph Stalin, visited factories, and was a front-line observer of the Russian army in action.

He said he told the republican presidential nominee that the United States had "great trade opportunities with the soviet union" but that the granting of long-term credit to Russia "will be essential."

By "long" credit terms, Johnston explained, he meant 15 to 30 years.

Asserting the United States "can do any amount of business with Russia, depending entirely upon the length of credit terms," he said there is a "tremendous market" in the soviet for durable goods.

Johnston said that "both as a republican and as a business man" he would support Dewey and added that he conferred with the governor because "I think he should have a report on things I found in the soviet union." Johnston said he already had talked with Secretary of State Cordell Hull on his observations in Russia.

Hitler's Quarrel With High Officers Known by Soldiers

By ROGER D. GREENE
CAEN, France, July 22 (AP)—Newly captured German prisoners, commenting on the attempted assassination of Hitler, said today they long had known of a bitter quarrel between the Fuehrer and the German high command.

"The generals want to get Hitler out and make a quick end of the war," said Corp. Werner, 19, of Munster, a member of an elite Nazi division. He was captured at 7 p. m. yesterday near Cagny.

"Of course the whole thing may be a fake to whip up sympathy of the German people for Hitler. Many of our people are sick to death of the war, but when they hear the leader narrowly escaped death they say, 'What a terrible thing to attack our poor dear Fuehrer!'"

Asked how he felt personally about Hitler, Werner stiffened his shoulders and a fanatical gleam entered his eyes.

"I put everything on him," he said. "I know things look bad for us, but I still think the Fuehrer has some secret great weapon that will win the war for Germany."

He added that the German people were too afraid of the Gestapo to voice their feelings.

Commenting on the announcement that Heinrich Himmler had taken control of the home armies of Germany, the prisoner said, "I've got to admit I don't think much of Himmler. He is a butcher. If anybody steps out of line it's on the wall—they'll be shot."

"If Hitler were assassinated it would be a bad blow for Germany, but Goering would immediately take over," said Karl Elghsen, a lanky youth who once served as Hitler's bodyguard and fought on the Russian front.

"I know in my division there is a strong undercurrent of feeling against continuing the war. In the old days when we were winning everything Hitler said went, but now the invasion of France has started we have been left in a terrible pickle. We feel the one big thing now is to get the war over, whether we win or not."
