Doings of Klamath Horseback Enthusiasts, Recounted by "Top Wrangler"

Howdy Folks: The Saddle club is at it again. Seems wide interest is being shown in this new organization. The Western Horseman magazine has written for a picture of the club and are publishing a story Keith Moon, Jr., sent in to them 'bout the girls and their activities. That wuz quite a party thrown in celebration of the picture takin' event. Clarice Moon had the club red down to her ranch for refreshments, which disappeared faster than champagne at a wedding reception. Chatter wuz flung 'round freely, sprinkled with laughter and baked in the sun. A woodpecker with the palsy wouldn't have had a chance with them girls. All the members wuz present but Etta Paddock and Mabel Liskey. Etta had to help her man with a brandin' job and guess Mabel didn't git her shoes tacked on yet. "Windy" Bill Burcheson can fix her up now cause he found a chestnut tree and is settin' up a blacksmith shop with all the equipment fer horse, even files. I heard three of the hard ridin' cowboys are in the hospital. Babe Reeder, Ole Chase and Vic Douglas. If this keeps up they'll have enuff fer a poker game if they all get in the same room. Didn't hear all the ailments, hope it isn't Disney spells. I kinda got wind of a horse show brewin' and we would like to know if the horse set out give some ridin' time to ride in these events. It's fer the local people and hosses. Spose that will be a braggers race fer just cold bloods and a sprint fer the hot bloods. Sumpin' where the handy cow-hosses cud show off in, the three-gaited strut their stuff and of course the package race which always draws a luff from the lookers. Seems to me this would be fun fer all the hoss lovers and wud liven things up a bit in this ole cow-hoss country. Give yer friends a pep talk and see how they feel 'bout a tado of this sort. I drapped into Connolly's Saddle Shop and sit on a piece of leather so they cud make a saddle to fit me. Well, sir, when I went back that she wuz just ag-pretty and snug-like. Gosh, that man Connolly knows his business. Spec I better be gittin' as everybody is a hayin' and I want to resp my wild oats. Hold August 20th open 'till yuh hear from me 'bout this here hoss show. Bye now.

Jim Olsen Gone From Navy Lineup

Sore Arm to Keep Ex-Padre Hurler Out of Crucial Tilt With Marine 'Wingers'

The navy team, already underdogs for its game with the marine "Wingers" from Corvallis, was weakened further with the announcement by Chief Tom Fena that are Hurler Jim Olsen will be out of the lineup.

Fena, who coaches the team, said that Olsen had developed a sore arm and he would not be on hand at 3 p. m., when the game starts on Sunday at the recreation park two blocks beyond Mills school.

The former San Diego Padre pitcher tossed a four-hit game a few weeks back, but he hasn't been doing so well lately. Fred Gay, ex-Yankee player, will take over the mound duties for the navy with Franny Miller, who also plays left field and first base, being held ready to take over should Gay get in trouble.

Gay will face a team with a batting average of around .321, and on the mound in a pitching duel with him will be Hank Dlugokecki, who belongs to the Cleveland Indians.

Mike Khelovakian leads the devoting batters with an amazing average of .541 or a hit every other time he goes to bat. No averages have been released on the naval air station team but it is imagined that Gay, Harvey Storey, who is an excellent shortstop, and Second Baseman Walders lead the hitters. The sailors have specialized in extra base hits so far this season.

Ensign Rickey will be back on third base this week plugging what was one of the big holes in the navy defense in last Sunday's game against the Medford Craters. Rickey is the nephew of the famous Branch Rickey, who is currently guiding the Brooklyn Dodgers to fame if not to fortune.

Angels Climb Into Coast League Lead

The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Angels climbed into the lead in the close Pacific coast league race with a 7-3 victory over San Diego last night while the Sacramento Solons were drubbing Oakland 5-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Clem Dreisewerd.

Oakland dropped to second and San Francisco took sole possession of third with a 2-0 win over Seattle as southpaw Tom Seats took his second shutout over Seattle in three days.

In fifth place, one-half game back of Seattle, was Portland which split a pair with Hollywood. The Beavers dropped an 8-2 11-inning decision in the scheduled seven-inning opener but bounced over three runs in the eighth inning of the curfew-halted second contest for a 4-3 triumph.

Hollywood won the opener on a six-run rally in the 11th that saw the Portland defense fall completely apart after the Beavers' Don Pulford had blanked the Stars after a two-run first inning. Eddie Adams' single in the eighth drove across Portland's winning tally in the second game.

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — Fresh ammunition for shooting the breeze: . . . Report from St. Louis says visiting major league clubs are peeved at the Cards' and Browns' new plan of admitting women on ladies' day without even the tax payment. . . . The local clubs figure the gals will spend two bits each at the concessions and about ten percent will shell out for reserved seats, but the visitors don't share in these items. . . . Look for a torrid discussion at next winter's meetings. . . . Tennis pros are talking about an international "open" trophy competition after the war to rival the Davis cup show.

Look for Lou Little to name Jack Williams, former Baltimore navy basketball coach, as one of his assistants at Columbia this fall. Williams, former Sam Houston all-around star, is with the V-12 group. . . . Pete Cawthon, the Brooklyn Tigers coach who lives in Tuscaloosa, is high on a youngster Max Wards who will play for Alabama. "He's 17 years old, 6-feet-3, weighs 218 and has that nice ugly look," says Pete.

GRID STAR KILLED
PORTLAND, July 22 (AP)—Lt. Thomas Russell Inskeep, University of Oregon football player from 1936 to 1939, was killed in action in New Guinea July 6, his father said today. The former griddier was the son of Thomas Inskeep, Portland police detective.

Lipscomb Taken by P. Katonen

Lipscomb Fails to Repeat Previous Victory; Parks Batters Tony Morelli

Jack (Buck) Lipscomb learned to his chagrin Friday night that history cannot always be counted on to repeat itself without a little help from the would-be history maker himself.

For one thing Lipscomb was not able to repeat his victory of a week ago over Paavo Katonen. As a matter of fact it was Buck's attempt to use the same hold he had won a fall on early in the match that proved to be his downfall.

Lipscomb started the first fall on an airplane spin which he followed up by gently putting Paavo upright on his feet and then not-so-gently hitting him on the jaw. Using a body press Buck finished the fall.

Katonen came back to win the second fall on a type of reverse surfboard. And then it happened.

Buck put the same airplane spin on Katonen that he had won with earlier and at the proper time he set Paavo down to sock him. But the Finn turned tables on Jack and hit him with a terrific punch to the jaw which he followed with a powerful body press to take the deciding fall.

In the first round of the semifinal event Herb Parks was robbed of a fall when the bell rang just as he had Tony Morelli flat on his back and Referee Wally Moss was starting to count. Morelli took the first fall on a smother hold followed by a body press. Parks came back very quickly to take the second fall on a series of body slams followed by a leg stopper. In the fourth round Morelli tried several flying body butts but he missed and Herb quickly took advantage of Tony's predicament and won the third fall on a body press.

In the opener clever Tex Hauger won the decisive fall from Bulldog Jackson on a foul after each had taken a fall apiece. Jackson won the first on a pounding hammerlock and Hauger took the second on a head scissors.
