

HALF OF WORK AT NAVAL AIR STATION DONE

Work on Morrison-Knudsen-Twalt's expansion program at the Klamath naval air station is about 50 per cent complete, it was estimated today by Lt. John M. Babcock, naval officer in charge of construction.

The job includes nine additional barracks buildings, a new sewage treatment plant, three bachelor officers' quarters, expansion of the boiler house and mess hall, enlargement of the dispensary and laundry, and extension of landing facilities and plane parking facilities, along with certain other work.

The new barracks have stucco exteriors, a measure taken to conserve 1-inch lumber. Otherwise, they are similar to the barracks buildings erected in the original contract.

New sewage treatment system construction was ordered when it was found the original system would not be adequate for the expanded station.

Not included in the re-negotiated M-K-T contract is another hangar which it is expected, will be built at the local field. A separate contract on that job appears likely.

Architects Whitehouse, Price and Ferrin are completing plans for expansion at the Lakeview airport, which is a facility used in connection with the Klamath naval air station. Lakeview is to have more barracks, a hangar, expanded parking facilities, and other improvements in connection with the expanded activity at the Klamath station.

COMMANDOS GET 76 HOMEMADE PIES

Seventy-six pies in 21 varieties were brought to the Commando center this past weekend in answer to an appeal for homemade pies to vary the coffee bar menu, and the Commandos today expressed their sincere appreciation for the surprisingly large donation which allowed for ample servings to their uniformed guests.

There were all kinds of fresh berry pies, sour cream, cherry, apple, banana cream, whipped cream and chocolate cream, lemon pies and butterscotch, mince, peach and apricot, and each pie looked as though it had been especially made by a mother for her son, the Commandos said.

An outstanding contribution was ten homemade pies from the Horseshoe cafe which were carried over to the center, two at a time.

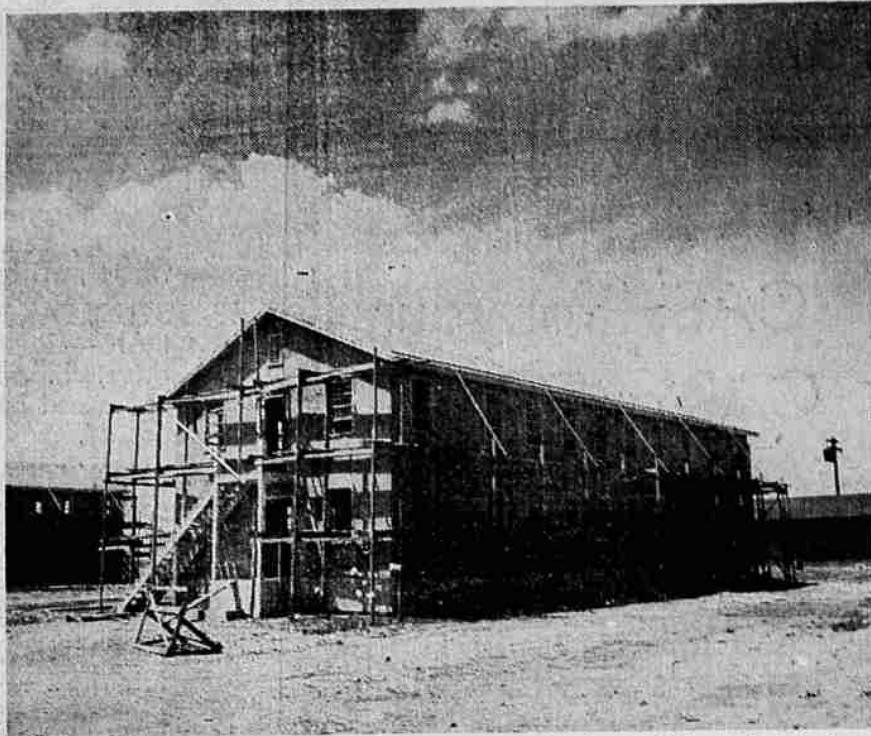

Many calls were received at the center on Sunday, asking if more pies were needed, and other women, unable to bring in a pie at this time, called to say they would supply one at a later date. The Commandos also wish to thank these people and stated that they would appreciate receiving pies or homemade cakes at any time.

Relatives of Man Killed In Accident Sought by Coroner

SWEET HOME, July 25 (AP)—County Coroner E. C. Fisher sought today to contact relatives of Delbert Aaron Anderson, 50, killed in a logging accident in the upper Calapooia valley Sunday night.

The only known relative was a daughter, Claudina Anderson, believed to be in Portland. The Sweet Home man, an employee of the Cascade Plywood company, was struck by a flying shackle.

New Barracks At Air Station

Type of barracks under construction at the naval air station here is being revised in the expansion program now under way. The new barracks, shown above, are of a stucco finish over insulated frame structure. Erection of the barracks also marks the end of the drab green coloring, formerly used for camouflage purposes, as the new barracks will be of a light blue or slate-colored finish. Each of the buildings is built to accommodate 67 men on two floors.

High School Gets Face Lifted During Summer

Klamath Union high school is having its face lifted during the summer vacation, and when the students return in the fall to start school again they should be very pleasantly surprised by the sight that greets them.

The individual rooms have different tints now instead of the solid colors that formerly adorned the walls. All the rooms facing the front lawn are colored "April green," and all the rooms on the wings facing the sides are shaded to a "peach glow."

The ceilings are kalsomined "gardenia white" and the linoleum floors and stairways have been painted "walnut brown." The superintendent's office has been tinted a "cameo blue."

The outside windows have been painted, too (just the wooden borders, not the panes.) All the lavatories, the cafeteria, and the girls' locker room have been repainted.

One of the science rooms has been moved so that the science department is located as one unit in the north part of the west wing, instead of being spread out as it was formerly.

It was discovered that termites had eaten up the floor of the mechanical drawing room so the floor and foundation had to be torn up completely. A new floor is being put in.

The high school board is considering a plan to put black top in the area between the school building and the gymnasium, where the school buses are usually parked.

Before the summer is finished, the field house will be fixed up as well as the grandstand. The floors in the girls' gym have been varnished, and work will start on Pelican Court or the boys' gym in the next few weeks.

The small rooms off the main band room have been plastered and kalsomined and will be used for storage rooms during the coming year.

The office of Joseph Peak, supervisor of physical education, has been renovated with the walls being plastered and kalsomined.
