News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—I have not written lately about progressive education and its share in the responsibility for juvenile delinquency because everyone else seems to be doing and saying the right things about it.

Every man in the street today knows what is wrong with education. That question was asked of 10 persons along the street in Toledo by the Blade's inquiring reporter. The answers were practically all the same.

"I don't believe the young people are getting a good start in arithmetic and spelling; too much stress on extracurricular activities."

"I believe my son is getting a better general education than I, but more emphasis should be placed on the three R's and on discipline."

"Graduates do not seem to know about simple necessary things like mathematics and spelling."

These words from a railroad man, barber and housewife are practically the same as have been arising from my typewriter since last January.

Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY

REPORTS from Portland, where "little business men" were recently slated to make representations before a congressional committee, indicate that most of the time was taken up by government officials like Dr. Paul Raver of Bonneville. When it was all over it was hard to remember if any little business men had been heard from.

That reminds us of a service club luncheon we attended recently in a small town where there were a few harassed-looking home town business men scattered among the numerous officials of government agencies that have swarmed into that area.

Discipline Needed

WHAT we need for a well educated, intelligent, democratic nation (and a cure for juvenile delinquency) is discipline in home, school and church, discipline by all methods, particularly the development of mental discipline and reasoning powers by education which stimulates the thought processes.

Our leading philosophers gradually pushed down the theory of common sense reasoning as a way of living and promoted the theory of living by intuition—"living has value only as it satisfies men's appetites" and such stuff.

Thus have developed such monstrous ogres of unreasoning civilization as fascism and communism.

Instead of each man reasoning things out for himself, weighing the factors as he sees them on both sides, and imposing this mass will on our customs and government, we have come into what Hitler in his extremities, calls guidance by emotional fanaticism. Everywhere we worship instinct instead of thought.

Easily Sold

THIS has been an easy-selling doctrine to the average man. Human nature has made him a creature desiring comfort, ease, luxury. Reasoning things out is hard work. Study requires mental discipline. The average man will not do it, unless education requires it, and unless the whole way of life of the country demands it.

Where you get by intuition is well shown by where Hitler has taken himself and his entire nation.

Our people still have the right to reason for themselves. But in our country, we have been leading up to the intuitive way of life by allowing some fools among our modern philosophers to tell us that we should individually live by the method—following instinct on sex, for instance, instead of reason.

In politics also, we have encouraged emotional leadership, the incitement of hatreds, but, most dangerous of all, we have promoted the herding instinct in government by worshiping totalitarian ways with government control of every phase of life of the individual.

Intuition? That is what guides a dog or a horse. Man was made with a brain, capable of reasoning, capable of developing intelligence. He does not have it when he is born. He will never develop it except by disciplined training which will force him to use his mind.

Education by the method of movie shows and sightseeing will not add to an individual's ability to think a fraction as much as working out one single difficult problem in arithmetic.

"Learn by doing" was what the philosopher James taught. It should be "learn by thinking and doing."

Basis of Wrong

THIS is the real bottom basis of what has been wrong, I believe, not only with education but all our moves, our common popular viewpoint.

By following intuitional methods and habits, we could become a nation of morons at the mercy of leaders who alone are allowed to think or who are morons themselves, guided as Hitler by his instincts.

I think that trend has been broken. In the past few months, nearly every newspaper has carried daily accounts of juvenile delinquency meetings guided away from the intuitional theories and toward common sense.

School boards, Parent Teachers associations, commentators (though not yet the politicians, for some reason I have not yet discerned) are talking and working toward the same goal. Even the recent primaries suggested people are thinking in politics.

If this new trend persists, the questions of our war debts, international cooperation and internal troubles will lose their horror. There is no problem a reasoning, intelligent nation cannot solve. Intuition can solve nothing.

SIDE GLANCES

"Look at me, ready to start third year high, and my parents still harping about too many dates! Must I spend my old age sitting with a cat and a spinning wheel?"

Telling The Editor

Letters printed here must not be more than 300 words in length, must be written legibly on ONE SIDE of the paper only, and must be signed. Contributions following these rules, are warmly welcomed.

I feel Jean Bingay Young must be a writer of short experience, that remark about the Bible not being fashionable, doesn't fit well into the prayers and hopes of us mothers with our own sons and all our friends fighting and dying for that very thing, religion and a better tomorrow. Where are the nations today that have walked over the Bible and all decent rights.

So, please Jean, open your Bible long enough to get the correct wording for your receipt of the Golden Rule.

This letter may never be printed, but it at least needs credit one that reads your paper very thoroughly.

PASTOR AT MALIN TO RESIGN POST

MALIN—Rev. Donald D. Dod, pastor for the past four years of the Malin Presbyterian church, has announced his resignation to become effective August 15, when he will leave with Mrs. Dod and their children for a new pastorate near the campus of the University of Oregon at Eugene.

In addition to his ministerial duties, Rev. Dod will serve as a teacher of chemistry at the university and will assist at Westminster house, a center for young people which is operated under the guidance of Presbyterian churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Dod came to the Malin pastorate four years ago in October and since that time have been active in affairs of this community. Rev. Dod reorganized the local Boy Scout troop and has served as Scoutmaster while Mrs. Dod has been leader of the Malin Girl Scouts.

Rev. Dod, since the shortage of available pastors, left the pulpit of the Merrill Presbyterian church vacant, has filled that post as well as the one here, preaching at both churches each Sunday morning for more than a year.

They are being entertained in a number of homes both here and at Merrill prior to their departure and were guests of honor Thursday night at a largely attended potluck dinner in the annex of the church at Merrill.

They leave a host of friends here.

Manager of Merrill Bank Breaks Leg

MERRILL—Riley DeLap, manager of the Merrill branch, First National Bank of Portland, is confined to his home with a broken leg. DeLap fell early this week from a stepladder at the family home. He expects to return to his office at the bank in ten days or two weeks.

During his absence R. D. Rakestraw of the Klamath Falls branch is substituting.

REV. JARVIS TO SPEAK AT CE MEETING

Rev. Holly Jarvis, pastor of the Christian church at Lebanon, Ore., will be the featured evening speaker at the Christian Endeavor summer conference to be held at Turner, Ore., on August 21-27, sponsored by the Oregon Christian Endeavor union. He will also teach a class in "Avenues of Christian Service in the Church."

Delegates from all portions of the state will comprise the conference body, which will devote its mornings to classes, beginning with Bible study.

The executive committee of the Oregon Christian Endeavor union will meet on the conference grounds the closing week-end of conference, August 26 and 27. Dorothy Howes of Forest Grove, state CE president, will preside. Any further information regarding the conference can be secured from Vernon L. Fishback, executive secretary of the Oregon CE Union, 303 Davis Bldg., Portland, 4, Oregon.

Bronsons to Attend Christian Endeavor Summer Conference

TULELAKE—Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Bronson of the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church will leave August 20 for Turner, Oregon, near Salem where they will attend the Christian Endeavor summer conference. Rev. Bronson will serve as dean of the conference and with Mrs. Bronson will serve as an instructor. They will return to Tulelake August 28 in time for the annual church board meeting.

Dr. David J. Ferguson will fill the pulpit during their absence. Mildred Reid, Tulelake and Geraldine Manning, Conley, plan to accompany the Bronsons.

Merrill

Mrs. Melvin Hart has accepted a position with the Merrill Branch, First National bank of Portland, succeeding Mrs. John Krizo who has resigned.

Mrs. John Taylor has as her house guests her daughter, Mrs. William Hanscom, and two grandsons, James and Robert, Pinole, Calif.

SKIN-RASH TORTURE NOW RELIEVED FOR MILLIONS

To ease the nagging itch of minor skin rashes—heat rash, baby's diaper rash—countless families sprinkle on Mezzana's soothing, medicated powder. Like millions of tiny sponges it helps take up moisture on skin, a frequent cause of heat rash. Mezzana's contains ingredients often recommended by many specialists for the relief of these miseries. Yet this comforting absorbent powder costs little, and there's even greater savings in the larger sizes. Sold everywhere. Buy a big economy package today and keep it handy. Be ready to get quick relief from these discomforts by using Mezzana's.

SPECIAL MISSION SERVICES SLATED

Special mission services will be conducted Sunday by Zion Lutheran church in the Mills and Orchard streets, according to the local pastor, Victor A. Schuler. The morning service will begin at 11 o'clock with the Rev. Wm. Hillmer, executive-secretary of the Oregon-Washington district of the Lutheran church delivering the sermon on the theme: "Now Let Me Burn Out For God." Special music will be furnished by the choir.

Luncheon will be served by the ladies of the congregation in the school lunch room.

Another divine service will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. Hillmer presenting the "highlights" of mission work as it is carried on in the Lutheran church. The choir will sing also at this service.

The public and service people are cordially invited to attend both services.

Bill to Tax Lax Voters Considered

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—Rep. Barry (D-N.Y.) is drawing up a bill to tax every eligible—and able-bodied—citizen who fails to vote in a primary election $5.

Asserting that organized minorities frequently "take advantage of the indifference of the majority" in primary lists, Barry said today that persons failing to vote would have the $5 penalty added to their income tax bill under the legislation he plans to introduce.

Speaks Sunday

Mrs. Beatrice Van Meter, former missionary to China, will speak this Sunday at morning and evening services at the Immanuel Baptist church.

Should the predatory nations feel that we have not only the equipment required for our defense, but the trained and willing manpower to put it into action, then our days of war will be over. National military training is a part of the picture.—Warren K. Atherton, national commander American Legion.

Interned Jews Commit Mass Suicide on Hearing Rumors

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 11 (AP)—Jews interned at the Grand hotel of Vittel, France, were reported by British civilian repatriates today to have committed mass suicide upon hearing a rumor that the Germans were singling them out for further persecutions.

The British civilians arrived here from Lisbon aboard the exchange ship Drottningholm.

Mrs. Annie Harding said panic broke out among the Jews held at Vittel, 170 miles southeast of Paris, when it was reported that they were being moved elsewhere for more severe treatment.

Many threw themselves from the windows of the Grand hotel, while some even tried to do away with their children.

Susan Lovell said she had seen many German soldiers in patched uniforms in the last few months.

"They talked to us freely about the progress of the war going favorably for the allies," she said. "The attacks on Germany have been terrific. I saw a lot of it on the way home."

Whole towns have been flattened.

Of the trip from German territory, Mrs. Harding said: "The Germans kept shunting us backward and forward and putting us into sidings to allow their own ammunition trains to be rushed up to north France. With allied bombing, the journey became a real nightmare. Once the train was hit by bombs and the engine was smashed to pieces."

The German people have demonstrated they are ready for anything. A nation becomes most dangerous when it has burnt its boats and has nothing more to lose.—Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels.
